

WCTC Post-War Expansion Plans Are Announced

—CULLOWHEE (Special)

One of the most far reaching and important research projects in the history of the college was conducted last year by the faculty of Western Carolina Teachers College under the chairman of C. F. Dodson—important for its influence on the future of this college and its opportunities for service to Western North Carolina.

Early in the fall of 1943 President H. T. Hunter and Dean W. E. Bird facing the problem of post-war reconstruction and the demands on institutions of higher education by returning civilian armed forces, appointed Mr. Dodson as chairman of the committee and our faculty accepted as a year's project the place of this college in the peace time world.

Practically every faculty member engaged in research or one phase of the following topics and made reports to the faculty as a whole from time to time during the year. Whether the college should continue primarily as a teacher training institution or develop its liberal arts program; in solving this problem over 2,000 high school seniors in this section were interviewed, either singly or in groups, as to the type of college they planned to attend and the type of course they planned to follow:

Study was made to the student body to determine their plans after they obtained their degrees; a study was made of the majors and occupations they had been following in the department of science since 1935 to find out the type of course they planned to follow; a study was made of the plans followed by other colleges in the United States for building better and stronger faculties, and educators outside the local institutions were brought in to discuss various problems of the future college.

As a result of this cooperative study during the year the following conclusions were formulated. Most of them were incorporated by President Hunter in his regular annual report to the Board of Trustees and were accepted by that body and formed the basis for expansion program of the college:

1. That since boys and girls in this section who are interested in other fields than education are forced to go 300 to 350 miles to reach another state college for their training and many are consequently deprived of a college education, therefore Western Carolina Teachers College needs to do the following things:

- 1. Enrich and reorganize the teacher training program. 2. Expand, enrich, and promote the present requirements for a liberal arts degree.

3. Give B. S. degree which is professional in Chemistry, Business and Home Economics.

4. Set up pre-professional courses: (a) Dentistry; (b) Engineering; (c) Laboratory Technician; (d) Law; (e) Medicine; (f) Agriculture; (g) Forestry (h) Nursing.

5. Set up the following special vocational courses for returning service men and women who will not take four years of college work: (a) Maintain the college farm as laboratory for vocational agriculture; (b) Give periodical short courses in various phases of farming suitable for conditions in Western Carolina; (c) Set up courses in general shop work, metal work, electrical work, wood work, crafts, and mechanical drawing.

6. Expand the science department to include facilities for research in this section such as general information, research in the soils, minerals, opportunities for developing electrical power, conservation, botany and zoology in this region.

7. Expand the music department. Such a program obviously cannot be put into complete operation in one year, but the fact that it has been approved and accepted by those responsible for shaping the policies of the college is an indication of the tremendous influence this study stands to have on the lives of those who live in this section of the state, not only on the students who will attend college but on the population as a whole who will be influenced by the expanded program of service of the college.

Canton Bows To Mountaineers By 26 To 0 Score

Over 1,500 Fans Witness Annual Grid Tussle; Will Play Return Game Thanksgiving.

The Canton Black Bears went down in defeat at the hands of the fast Waynesville Mountaineers in the first game of two scheduled for the season Friday night by a score of 26 to 0. Between 1500 and 2000 fans braved the elements to watch the annual grid tussle.

It was thought during the afternoon, when the Heavens let down a drizzle of rain continuously, that the game would have to be called off, but when darkness began to fall the rain let up and the game started on schedule. The field, well turfed, was not as fast as some would have liked it to be, but it was remarkable how the boys held on to the slick ball with only a minimum of fumbles.

The Mountaineers put on the pressure early in the first quarter after starting a drive on their own 48 yard line down to the 8, where Evans plowed through to paydirt. Phillips drove the line for the extra point.

The Black Bears held the locals during the second period and at the half the score was 7 to 0.

Early in the third quarter the Mountaineers started from deep in their own territory, and with Evans passing most of the carrying and Robinson shooting several passes the locals managed to get to the Canton 15 yard line, where Robinson passed to Collins for the second score of the game. The Mountaineers scored again late in the same period after driving from midfield with Brackett, substitute quarterback doing the majority of ball carrying down to the one, where he plunged through center for the tally. Shook drove the line for the extra point.

Late in the closing period of the game the locals began another march to paydirt from their own 47 yard line down to the eight, where Robinson threw a flank pass to Phillips who fought his way across for the final touchdown of the game.

Mountaineers Go To Hendersonville For Game Friday

The Waynesville Mountaineers go to Hendersonville to meet the Bearcats in an afternoon engagement Friday of this week.

The Waynesville gridmen came out of the Canton game in fair condition, with only a few minor injuries that will be cured by game time Friday.

The Mountaineers and Bearcats have long been rivals on the grid field, topped only by Canton. This year is no exception. The Bearcats are reputed to have a good team and are out to lick the local boys.

Waynesville has lost one out of three games this season and continue to show improvement.

threaten to cross the goal line, and during the course of the game the locals chalked up 21 first downs to none for the visitors. The Mountaineers were penalized a total of 70 yards against 10 for the Black Bears.

At the opening of the game, both the Waynesville and Canton bands merged together to start the game with the national anthem. Again at the half the two bands performed with the visitors having first honors. When the local band had finished their maneuvers and form a large "W" a short memorial to those who have paid the supreme price from both schools and communities was observed by a moment of silence with bowed heads while three of the members of the band sounded taps. Both bands were in excellent form and have shown much improvement in the short time they have been practicing.

The Mountaineers and Black Bears will meet again on the Canton field Thanksgiving Day.
