

Indian Style Fighting Duplicated In France

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS IN FRANCE—The battle for France is a twentieth century version of the winning of the American West, with roaming bands of "Indian" territory—and that's the term used by Army officers to describe it—includes great blocks of forest and farm land from the River Loire north to Mor-

Fifty-Six Men In Pre-Induction Group Left Tuesday

Fifty-six men making up the October pre-induction call left here for physical examinations at Camp Croft at 7:30 Tuesday morning. Those accepted will be subject to call under the selective service system.

Carleton E. Weatherby, high school athletic coach, was named leader of the group, with John L. Edwards, Chas. H. Barrett, and Herbert H. Brazen as assistant leaders.

ums between Le Mans and Brest are patrolling 50-mile stretches. Some of these flying spearheads have run wild since the Yank break-through of the solid German Lessay-Periers-St. Lo line late in July and plunged the war into a period of razzle-dazzle fighting.

"The break-through ended that 1918 type of fighting in the Normandy hedgerows which was cost-

AT THE RIPE AGE OF SIX WEEKS (not months), says good authority, Miss Evelyn Walls does the family wash—long enough, at least, for this picture to be made. Her father, Joseph Walls of Los Angeles, swears she's called him "Daddy", and he joins with Mrs. Walls in vowing that "pushing up" from a prone position and standing alone for a full minute are easy for extraordinary Evelyn. ly on both sides," said Capt. James Campbell, Memphis, Tenn.

"Our reconnaissance units have light tanks, halftracks, and light artillery, and if opposition isn't too strong they brush on through it. If it is more than they can handle, they withdraw or fight a delaying action until heavy armored support arrives."

Like settlers of the covered-wagon days, truck convoys moving through the "Apache country" need protection, and they are getting it now, although in the first days of spectacular advance through Normandy they had to run a gantlet of enemy ambushes.

A number of trucks were shot up by hidden German machine-guns who employed the old Indian trick of waiting until most of the convoy was past and then picking off stragglers.

In this wild west warfare in Brittany, motorcycle messengers have had a tougher time than the pony express riders.

Sgt. Scruggs Has Returned To Camp

Sgt. Joe Scruggs has returned to Bowman Field, Ky., after spending a few days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Scruggs. His wife and young son who have been residing in Mississippi, have arrived and will spend the winter here with Mr. and Mrs. Scruggs.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation for the kind and thoughtful expressions of sympathy extended us by our friends during our sorrow. We are especially grateful for the many kind remarks of praise and love that have been said about our dearly loved son and brother, who was killed in the service of his country.
