Trim Tweeds

For a teen-ager.

By VERA WINSTON

TWEEDS ARE tops this season fashioned with an urban touch for town, and made with casual charm for country wear. Nice for a teen-ager is this neat tweed coat in nubby green tweed with a dash of red at the shoulders in the form of a set-in band that extends to the curved slit pockets. It features red cuffs and is lined in quilted red cotton. The skirt is slim and gored. A matching tweed hat and bag complete the ensemble.

Lt. Sam McElroy Has Arrived In Italy

Lt. Sam McElroy, U. S. Air Force, has arrived in Italy, according to information received by his parents. Lt. McElroy volunteered in the service in February, 1943, while a student at Western Carolina Teachers College. He reported for active duty at Miami.

From the latter he was sent to Cookeville, Tenn., and then to the reclassification center at Nashville, Tenn. He has received training at the following fields prior to being sent overseas in September: Maxwell Field, Decatur, Ala., Courtland, Ala., Smyrna, Tenn., Seymour Field, Ind., Lincoln, Neb., Casper, Wyo., Topeka, Kan., and then to embarkation port and overseas.

Lt. Fain E. Fairbank Has Unique Experience

Lt. Fain E. Fairbank, husband of the former Miss Mary Nell Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Miller, formerly of Waynesville, and niece of Mrs. C. F. Kirkpatrick and Miss Robina Miller, can tell how it "feels for an infantryman to find himself sailing around in a Flying Fortress."

"It's just a Helluva situation for an infantryman to be in," he said upon his return from serving as a waist gunner on a bombing raid against the Maribor rail yards in Yugoslavia.

Ordinarily Lt. Fairbank, of Lexington, Ky., is executive officer of a frontline infantry company. He took a turn with the air forces in one of the temporary trades the air forces and ground troops have been making recently so that each can see how the other half lives.

On the trip he had the entire works. Two engines on the plane, both on the same side, conked out. It is supposed to be an impossibility for a B-17 under such circumstances. Then 100 miles from the home base the third engine began to lose power. The strain also began to tell on the fourth motor. The exhaust stack snapped and the flames of the exhaust glowed against the cowling. But finally the ship limped into its home base.

The most impressive part of the trip to the Lt., however, was that while the third engine was sputtering out, he saw one of the crew sitting at his position quietly reading. He looked to see what it was, and it was the Bible.

While Lt. Fairbank is in the service, his wife is technician at St. Joseph's Hospital in Lexington, Ky.

Miss Hilda Way, who is teaching in the public schools of Kannapolis, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Way, Jr.

Mrs. Sagi Melton left Monday for Pensacola, Fla., where she was called on account of illness of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. McElroy.

Mrs. W. L. Kirkpatrick is spending several days in Anderson, S. C., visiting relatives.

SELL AT BERNARD'S

Greeneville Headquarters For Over 40 Years

Of the 1943 Crop—The 9 markets of this territory sold 67,790,882 lbs. at an AVERAGE of $48.59 per 100 pounds.

Of the above total, N. Car. Markets sold	8,373,562 lbs.—Aver. $48.70
Virginia Markets sold	11,667,590 lbs.—Aver. 48.46
Five of the Six Tennessee Markets sold	34,429,012 lbs.—Aver. 48.14
The GREENEVILLE Market sold	13,319,718 lbs.—Aver. 49.13
Total pounds	67,790,882 lbs.—Aver. $48.59

Although a preponderance of common off types and odd lots is marketed at

GREENEVILLE

Its average is virtually one cent higher than all other Tennessee markets and one to two-thirds cents higher than that of other states.

While the GREENEVILLE average is $49.13, the N. C. crops when figured separately averaged much more, this being due to its growth being almost all of uniform average size, length, color and texture so stands out in favorable comparison with that of the average quality of other sections—This average uniformity of merits permits its classification in fewer GRADES with the result each CROP requires less basket floor space. (Frequently the commissions on a single basket exceeds by double that of whole crops grown elsewhere). These facts account for Tennessee markets eagerly soliciting the patronage of the N. C. grower.

The same ceiling price 41c as of last year has been agreed upon, but due to the quality of last year's crop being an exceptionally fine one, the average for the entire crop was over 45c, since there was a GRADE CEILING PRICE and the better GRADES predominated—But much of the present CROP took second growth and lacking in color and the average quality, therefore, will not at the same Grade Ceiling price as last year, average more than 41c—These facts do not seem to be appreciated by those in authority since they contend the price ceiling of some grades should be slightly reduced—A final agreement may not be reached until before the market opening.

That it may be easier on truckers from outlying points there may be a ruling to limit the weight of any basket to, say 500 pounds—Greeneville houses have no objection to baskets of heavier weight, but should it be enforced, such excess weight can be easily adjusted.

Regardless of the Grade Ceiling price or any basket weight restriction, medium and high quality grades will be in demand and our knowledge of Grade Classification is your protection when selling on the Bernard floors.
