Miss Margaret Johnston awarded reading certificates signed by the State Secretary of the Library Commission, Miss Marjorie Beal and others to 67 of the county club members, signifying that they had read three books since April and had given reports on them at the meetings of their club.

Following adjournment those attending were invited to inspect the various exhibits of home crafts and foods displayed by the Home Demonstration clubs.

AAA Phosphate And Lime Must Be Used By 1st

All limestone and phosphate that has been received through the Haywood County AAA office should be spread prior to January 1, according to R. C. Francis, chairman of the Haywood County AAA Committee.

December 31 is the end of the 1944 program year and all conservation materials that have been received through this office should be used at once so that credit may be given under the 1944 program, Mr. Francis pointed out.

"Proper use of this material will constitute full payment. If material is not used prior to January 1, 1945, it will be necessary to transfer the material to the 1945 program and the farm will not be eligible to receive as much material in 1945 as it would be if the material was used during the 1944 program year," Mr. Francis stated.

"As soon as material is spread a report should be made to the county office, and if total farm material allowance has not been taken up in these materials, the applicant may at this same time, sign application that will entitle him to receive payment that has been earned by carrying out other approved practices under the 1944 AAA program."

Junior Music Club Holds Second Meeting On Saturday Afternoon

The second meeting of the Junior Music club with Mrs. Cornelia Nixon as sponsor, was held on Saturday afternoon in the Sunday School room of the Presbyterian church. Jackie Sue Messer, president, presided.

The program consisted of several interesting papers on "The Beginnings of Music," by Lucile Brown, Bette Hannah and Jackie Sue Messer. A Bach number was played by Bette Hannah and the Mozart Sonata in C by Jane Wyche.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Cornelia Nixon in the Stringfield apartments with Mrs. Nixon and Miss Nancy Killian as associate hostesses.
