TENS OF THOUSANDS EXPECTED AT DEMOCRATIC RALLY

Interest Heightens As Election Draws Near

Motorcade Of Democratic Voters Is Organized

Party Officials Look For Big Crowd To Hear Redden's Speech Here

Several thousand Haywood Democrats are expected to attend the county-wide rally here Saturday, which will begin with a band concert at 1:45, according to C. E. Brown, chairman of the Haywood Democratic Executive Committee. The Waynesville Township High School 55-piece band, under the direction of Charles Isley, will provide the music.

At 2:00 o'clock, a motorcade of fifty cars, headed by Cpl. E. W. Jones of the highway patrol, will leave here and go to the Haywood-Buncombe line to meet Monroe Redden, Democratic nominee for Congress, who will be the principal speaker of the rally.

The motorcade will pause long enough in Canton to be joined by a large number of cars there. Morris Brooks is in charge of the Canton delegation on the motorcade. Working on the motorcade from here are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Cagle, and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rogers.

The motorcade is expected back in Waynesville at 3:00 o'clock and the group will go immediately to the court room where the formal part of the rally will begin at 3:15.

Mr. Brown will preside, and W. Roy Francis will present Mr. Redden. W. G. Byers will present John M. Queen, solicitor, who will make a talk, and the concluding part of the program will be a brief talk by R. E. Sentelle. The entire program in the court room is expected to take about an hour and a quarter, Mr. Brown said.

Saturday night, the Democratic Executive Committee will be host to a free square dance at the Armory, featuring three string bands, the Soco Gap String band, The Carolina Partners band, and The Carpenter String band. Sam Queen, Jr., is in charge of the dance.

All cars entering the motorcade will be given placards and assigned places in the line.

Bethel Cannery Ready To Close Year's Work

The Bethel Community Cannery will be closed for the remainder of this year unless there is enough public demand to justify its continued operation, announces R. L. Edwards, vocational agriculture teacher.

Anyone in the community who still desires to use the cannery is asked to write Mrs. Joe Beverage or to call Canton 4713.

DAVID E. LILIENTHAL has been appointed to head the five-man Atomic Energy commission by President Truman. The former TVA chairman is known in Haywood county, where he has visited in recent years.

Lilienthal Takes Over Atom Energy Development

Former TVA Head Appointed By President To Direct Civilian Atom Control

David E. Lilienthal, T.V.A. chairman since 1941, stepped up to one of the most important assignments in the nation as head of America's Atomic Energy commission, whose five members were announced Monday by President Truman.

Mr. Lilienthal had been rumored to take charge of the Manhattan project, which developed the atom bomb under military control during the war, since Congress approved legislation to place the future development of atomic energy under a civilian group. He had headed a group of state department experts who drafted the Acheson-Lilienthal report, on which Bernard Baruch's official plan for international control was based.

The former T.V.A. chairman is known in Haywood county, having given an address at Waynesville in recent years. He vacationed this summer at Catalochee Ranch. Other members of the commission are Dr. Robert Fox Bacher, Cornell university physicist; William Wesley Waymack, Des Moines (Iowa) editor and director of the Chicago Federal Reserve bank; Sumner Tucker Pike, member of the securities commission; and Rear Admiral Lewis L. Strauss, retired, former secretary to Herbert Hoover, now a partner of a New York banking firm.

Gordon Rufus Clapp, who has been general manager of TVA since 1939, will replace Mr. Lilienthal as chairman on November 1. All six appointments are subject to Senate confirmation in January; meanwhile, the nominees will serve under interim appointments.

It may be months before the civilian commission takes over completely from the army due to their need to study the problems confronting them and making plans for an orderly transition. Mr. Lilienthal wrote President Truman in accepting the position that "The consequences of our work, for good or for evil, are awesome. With this poignantly in mind I shall enter

Armistice Day Parade Is Planned For Nov. 11

American Legion And VFW Jointly Sponsoring Main Street Parade

An Armistice Day parade and program in Waynesville is being sponsored by the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts.

All veterans, whether members of the sponsoring organizations or not, are urged to join in the parade. It is desired that the veterans wear their uniforms, although that is not required, and assemble before 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 11, around the First Baptist church, from where the parade will start.

The Waynesville Township high school band, directed by Charles Isley, will be at the head of the parade, followed by the color bearers of the American Legion, the Legionnaires, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other participants.

D. F. Whitman, post commander of the American Legion, urges the former service men to join in the parade, and says "Don't worry about keeping step. There'll be a lot of World War I men in the parade, and we're out of practice."

The parade will lead down Main street to the Court House, where a short patriotic program will be held starting at 11 a. m. All Gold Star mothers and fathers are especially invited to be present for the program, and other special features for the day—including a banquet—will be announced when arrangements have been completed.

Haywood Welfare Records Audited By S. E. Forbes

S. E. Forbes, federal auditor from the Bureau of Public Assistance, Washington, D. C., on Thursday completed an audit of the public assistance records in the Haywood county Public Welfare department.

According to Mr. Forbes, the records were found in fine shape and no exceptions were taken on any cases—which is very unusual in a county having as large a caseload as Haywood. The public assistance cases in this county number approximately 750; including such phases as old age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind.

All other records in Mrs. Sam Queen's office were found to be in order and up to date by Mr. Forbes.

Major Brown Heads Mt. Missions

Haywood County Woman Named District Officer Of Salvation Army's Mountain Missions

Major Cecil Brown, of Haywood county, has been designated by Commissioner William C. Arnold, of Atlanta, as the district officer of the Mountain Missions of the Salvation Army.

The appointment was made at a meeting of the Salvation Army in the Carolinas which was held in Charlotte last week. Major James Klaas, Carolinas' divisional secretary of the Salvation Army told the workers in the meeting of the history of the program carried forward by Major Brown in the mountains of the state.

Major Brown, who is a native of Haywood, returned to the county 12 years ago and started her mission at The Citadel at Maple Springs.

She has organized in addition to the main headquarters of the army at The Citadel nine missions in Haywood and Madison counties. They include: Shelton, Laurel, Bonnie Hill, Little Creek, Miller's Gap, Big Bend, White Oak, Spring Creek, and Cold Springs Lumber Camp. At each of these missions preaching is regularly held for the people in the area. In addition to preaching and supervising work in these missions she conducts open air meetings in larger centers of the mountains of this state, Tennessee, and Georgia.

Major Brown became interested in the work of the Salvation Army while residing in Asheville and following her conversion to the faith was sent by the army to Atlanta where she had special training for her work, after which she was assigned this section to organize.

Annual Firemen's Barbecue Enjoyed By 600 Wednesday

Nearly 600 persons attended the annual Firemen's barbecue held Wednesday night at the Armory.

A delicious meal was served, with both pork and beef (from one of the prize animals at the County Livestock show) having been barbecued by Rufus Siler and his able assistants, and accompanied by slaw and potato salad.

Music was played during the meal by Tommy (Snowball) Millard and his Blue Ridge Hillbillies, popular radio entertainers from Asheville who had volunteered their performance. After the meal the tables were moved back from the center of the floor, and square dancing was enjoyed.

One of the features during the entertainment was a buck dance in which Aunt Ida Mullis was joined by Mayor J. H. Way.

Volunteer firemen and their families assisted in all preparations, which were organized under Fire Chief Sam Fitzgerald and G. C. Ferguson, town manager.
