These are the GOP veterans who by virtue of seniority in committee are in line to take over chairmanships of headline committees in the 80th Congress—heretofore having a decisive say on what legislation will be taken up on the floor for action. Their states, number of years service in the Senate and probable committee chairmanships are shown. Should the new Congress go along with earlier streamlining plans, there would be telescoping of some committees. Several of the senators shown have seniority on more than one committee but Capitol Hill observers believe that the committee shown under each name is the one each man will prefer to direct if existing procedure continues.

QUESTION: Does it pay to cut tops from corn?

ANSWER: Well, this question goes back at least fifty years when Experiment Stations were conducting tests to find out whether it was advisable to pull fodder or not. At that time the scientists said that it didn't pay. Over in Rutherford County this year Oscar Justice said that he cut his corn tops. In the meantime he filled his barns with hoespade hay. Here's how Justice summed up the situation: "Cutting corn tops cost me $6 for hired labor, my time, and a reduction in corn yield. Force of habit is a bad thing sometimes."

QUESTION: Does freezing improve the quality of meat?

ANSWER: No, say the experts at State College. Inferior cuts of meat cannot be frozen and are expected to improve with age. Even the best products will undergo some deterioration in time but it is small. On the other hand, freezing does have a tendency to tenderize meats. The scientists say that the highest quality meat will come from animals carrying adequate age and finish. The most satisfactory age at which to slaughter beef is 1 to 2 years, veal, 4 to 8 weeks; hogs, 6 to 8 months; and lambs, 5 to 9 months. All meats will keep better if covered with fat. Meat from young animals is more tender than that from older ones.

Lake Blows Up And Kills Its Fish

BIISHANE (AP)—Lake Noosa Noosa, normally a five-mile-wide expanse in the Carnarvon Range, South-East Queensland, has disappeared. The water's edge receded rapidly following a muffled explosion from the direction of the lake heard on Christmas Eve, 1944, and today only a strip of damp mud remains. The explosion, believed to have been a subterranean disturbance, killed all the fish in the lake. One theory is that the disturbance opened a connection with an underground shale layer through which the water flowed away.

He's Always Tied But Never Beaten

DANVILLE, Ill.—(AP)—Edward J. Focher's singular ambition is to own 365 bow ties, so he can wear a different one each day of the year. So far, he has collected 125, all indexed and worn in rotation. His inquiries indicate he holds a record unbeaten and untied.

Nazis Gave Autographs For U. S. Cigarettes

CENTRALIA, Ill.—(AP)—Mrs. Robert E. Copeland has added a macabre collection to her scrapbook—autographs by most of the late Nazi war criminals which, she said, her sergeant-husband got in exchange for a cigarette apiece while on guard at the Nuernberg trials. Growing and others swapped signatures for cigarettes readily. Sgt. Copeland wrote, but Rudolph Hess scorned such barter.

Guilt-Edged Case Of Sleepiness

CUMBERLAND, Md.—(AP)—A prisoner who pleaded guilty to a charge against him when called in circuit court didn't seem worried about his fate. He retired to a chair to await sentence, and a few minutes later was found in a deep sleep, snoring and all.

And a Good Time Wasn't Had By All

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—Butler University alumni wrote their homecoming celebration off as complete frustration. The homecoming queen was accidentally locked out of the stadium coronation ceremony. A prankster set a premature match to some bonfire wood. And 4,000 persons cashed in their tickets when the orchestra failed to appear for the homecoming dance.

Peasant Revolt Brings Reign of Terror in Luzon

30,000 Guerrillas in Island Refuse to Surrender Their Weapons.

MANILA—A motley peasant army of more than 20,000 guerrillas in central Luzon—the Hukbalahap—appears to be the most troublesome war baby in the lap of the Philippines' new president, Manuel A. Roxas, says the Associated Press. These peasants are commonly known as Huks. In fact of the most populous provinces of that fertile, tropical plain, a reign of terror has reduced the already short rice crop. Some hope for a peaceful settlement of peasants' differences was seen in the president's May 20 inaugural address, in which he promised consideration of a more liberal farm tenancy law, government purchase of land and its resale to the people and teaching of modern agricultural methods. President Roxas demanded the immediate surrender of all unlicensed firearms. He said he would use all the forces at his command to regulate law and order in the region.

Frequent Clashes. No formal rebellion was made public by Hukbalahap leaders, but in recent years reported slayings and others wounded in renewed clashes. Hukbalahap clashes with their long-standing rivals, the so-called United guerrillas and the Filipino military police command (MPC) had been reported almost daily prior to Roxas' inauguration. A 12-hour battle near Loloan, Pangasinan, was reported that day. Intelligence reports indicate casualties among the Hukbalahap—an affiliate of the left-wing Democratic Alliance political party—have been heavy, possibly reaching 1,000 since last September. Casualties among the Uguilla's and the MPC run into the hundreds. Thousands of refugees have deserted remote barrios for the comparative safety of Cabanatuan, Nueva Ecija capital, and other large communities. The name Hukbalahap is a contraction of "Hukbo ng Bayan sa Laban sa Hapon," Tagalog for "people's army against Japan." It was organized shortly after the fall of Bataan, from whose bloody battlefields the peasants gathered American and Japanese weapons. Peaceable by Day. Its leader is mild-mannered, 22-year-old Luis Taruc, who at the outbreak of the Pacific war was a secretary of the P.K.M., a peasants union in central Luzon. After working his way through two years of a law course, he obtained a government job, but claims he was dismissed because of his leftist political leanings. During the Japanese occupation, as in the current fighting, the Hukbalahap remained in their villages, their arms well hidden. By day they were peaceable, harmless-seeming farmers, by night they staged swift raids and ambushed unwary Japanese patrols. Although unsuccessful in opposing Roxas, the organization elected Taruc and seven others from the central Luzon provinces. When congress convened late in May, Taruc and his colleagues were prevented from taking their seats by charges of election fraud filed by defeated candidates. Taruc repeatedly has denied opposition charges that he and his followers are Communists seeking to overthrow the government.

Southern Democrats To Take Over Control Of Party In New Congress

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Southern Democrats will move to the minority side of congressional committee tables in January but they will take firm control of the party in both the House and Senate. Of 137 Democrats definitely elected to the next House, 115 come from 14 Southern states; of 45 Democrats now conceded Senate seats, 24 are from the same section.

In the 79th Congress, the "Solid South" could out-vote other Democratic members by the slim margin of 120 to 115, but it trailed 30 to 26 in the Senate. The high casualty rate among Northern and Western Democrats in the general election a week ago also stepped up the seniority rank of southern members in party councils.

Some Southerners already have accepted this increased leadership with frank public statements assessing their party's future and analyzing the Republican landslide that swept it out of power after a reign of 16 years. The capital heard speculation this week that a southern member may become minority leader in the House. The Washington Post said Representative Cox, Democrat of Georgia, "is being prominently mentioned" as a likely choice.

This discussion arose after Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas announced he has no desire to take the post. By custom, it would go to a man or to Representative McCormack, Democrat of Massachusetts, who was majority floor leader under Rayburn. Senator Barkley, Democrat of Kentucky, long leader of the Democratic majority in the Senate, has said he will serve as minority leader if his colleagues desire.

Wellco Workers Vote For C.I.O.

The C.I.O. was named as the bargaining agent by workers of the Wellco Shoe Corporation here in a national labor relations board election held on Thursday. There were approximately 225 eligible voters and 122 voted in favor of the C.I.O. as bargaining agent, and 87 voted for no union. There were three void and five challenged ballots.

Youth Club To Give Play Soon

The Waynesville Youth Club is sponsoring "Cornzappoppin", a production featuring local players, dancers, singers and specialty features in a timely musical comedy. The production will be presented at the high school on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22-23, at 8:02 each night. Miss Lillian Peckard of Kansas City is here to direct the show, with cheerleaders to start immediately.

Swain Has Time, Girl; Minister Picks Place

FLORA, Ill.—Love and Rev. O. E. Connett laughed at mere man's boundaries—to the delight of a pair of young lovers.

Eldon Yocum of Rantoul, Ill., and Ruth Nelson of Potomac, Ill., asked the Flora minister to marry them, but were desolate when he told them he couldn't honor their license from an adjoining county.

The sympathetic minister led the couple to a spot just across the county line and performed the ceremony beneath the boughs of a big tree.

Louis, and the Missourians took the one on Long Island.

IS YOUR LIVER CRYING FOR HELP

because of constipation or faulty digestion? If you feel bilious, sour, bloated with gas, headachy, blue, grouchy, you may be putting too big a burden on your liver. Retained undigested food becomes putrefactive, causes toxins, which overload the liver, keeping it from working properly. Then is the time to relieve your tired liver by letting Calotabs help nature sweep the putrefactive and partially digested matter from your stomach and intestines. Nothing acts just like good old Calotabs. Use as directed, 10c and 25c at your druggists.
