

Hall Is Seeking Canton Post

Frank Hall, machine foreman of the board mill manufacturing department of the Champion Paper and Fibre company, has announced his candidacy for a place on the board of aldermen in the May 6 election. Mr. Hall is running as an independent candidate. He has been an employee of the paper company 18 years.

A. B. Robinson, incumbent, and Ernest Messer and Powell DeWeese, the latter two ex-servicemen, are running for the board as a ticket, while Lloyd Sellers has announced his candidacy as an independent.

J. Paul Murray and Morris T. Brooks are the announced candidates for mayor.

Take Care In Shopping For Your Easter Bonnet

PINK LADY—Wide-brimmed hat in three shades of pink silk chiffon with pink veils and pale turquoise. By Brangard.

BIG-TIMER—Big-brimmed charmer of red tulle with clusters of cherries and cherry blossoms on the crown and navy fishnet veiling caught under the brim and looped in back. Perfect for wear with new spring navy and later with summer prints. By Milgrim.

HIGH-LOW TURBAN—Easter bonnet in a brand new silhouette, banked with spring posies, head-fitting. By Lilly Dache.

Ap Newsfeatures Writer

Now that it's time to buy that Easter bonnet, here are a few tips to guide the hurried shopper:

1—Set your price limit, and stick to it. Whether your budget is five dollars or fifty you can find a hat that is smart, becoming and new if you put your mind to it.

2—Bear in mind the season's trends. Many spring hats are in the new elliptical or wide and the sides silhouette. Back trimming, in the form of hair-ribbon bows, massed flowers or bows of veiling, is new. For the most part, spring hats are still worn well back on the head, revealing your clear, smooth, we hope forehead. But if your forehead looks better covered, don't hesitate to choose a forward tilted model. After all, you're the one who has to wear it.

There are many flower turbans, high on one side, low on the other. Cloche bonnet and still little sailor types also are definitely in the running.

3—Don't just buy a hat at random. Plan your entire costume, and choose a hat that will match or complement it.

4—When you try on a hat, view it from all sides including the back, and then take a look at yourself in a full-length mirror. This is the only way you can tell whether the proportion is correct.

5—Don't be afraid to try a new silhouette. Where would we be if women had clung to the flapper style of the 'twenties?

6—Take your husband or best bean along. If you want to be sure your new hat is flattering. Men are unimpressed by fads, and their choice is governed solely by whether or not a hat makes you look pretty.

7—Take joy in the fact that the silly phase of millinery seems definitely past, and the new hats for the most part are designed to make you look your best.

Monroe Redden Backs Proposed 20-30 Tax Bill

WASHINGTON—Favoring "some tax relief rather than none," 12th district Rep. Monroe M. Redden joined with 39 other house Democrats to vote for passage of the Knutson bill—H. R. 1—granting 20-30 per cent tax cuts on incomes ranging as high as $302,000 a year.

Ten other members of the Tar Heel delegation in the lower house voted with the Democratic leadership against the measure on grounds it was premature and discriminatory. The 12th member of the delegation, Rep. A. L. Bulwinkle, was absent and not recorded.

After the house had approved the Republican-developed measure, 273 to 137, Rep. Redden commented that although he did not regard the bill as completely satisfactory, he voted for it as a necessary start toward tax reduction. He pointed also to his earlier vote, along with the rest of the delegation, in favor of recommitting the proposed to the ways and means committee for revision along lines that would give greater proportional relief to the small taxpayer. He said he supported the recommitment motion, made by Rep. Robert L. Doughton, former chairman and now ranking minority member of the committee, because he agreed with the veteran Tar Heel fiscal expert that a better tax reduction proposal could be developed by the committee when more information on revenues and expenses is available.

The Hendersonville congressman indicated also he looked for an "improved" bill to be devised by the senate and predicted the modified version, when it comes before the lower house for final passage, will be more palatable.

"This is by no means the best tax bill that could be written," Rep. Redden commented. "But it does give some relief to all taxpayers and applies a substantial payment on the federal debt. I prefer this bill to no bill at all."

Pea Aphids May Be Controlled By 5% DDT Dusting

To control pea aphids—the small green insect that attacks English peas—spray the plants with 5% DDT dust at the rate of 30 to 35 pounds per acre, according to the State college entomologist, Dr. Clyde F. Smith. Retenone (0.75%) also gives fair control, applied at the same rate.

Research has found that the pea aphid uses Austrian peas, vetch, alfalfa and crimson clover as its primary host plants. Fields of May peas grown within one-half mile of Austrian peas often had a heavy infestation of aphids within 10 days after they were up, whereas if grown out of the vicinity of Austrian peas they escape infestation until starting to bloom.

"Vetch and crimson clover are important overwintering hosts of the pea aphid, but they didn't seem to maintain as large a population as the Austrian peas. Alfalfa, however, supports as many aphids as any plant."

"Pea aphids continue to reproduce throughout the winter months in North Carolina," found Dr. Smith. "Thus they have an opportunity to build up large populations

Atom Commission Chairman Called "Most-Powerful"

NEW YORK—(AP)—The chairman of the five-man Atomic Energy Commission was frequently called "the most powerful man in the world" during Senate debates over confirmation.

He and his commissioners will possess two extraordinary powers under the McMahon Act which is the atomic law. One is power to have any new atomic stand trial for his life. The other is virtually complete control and ownership of a new source of energy which the Act says "will cause profound changes in our present way of life."

Actually the President of the United States will be referee in some of the commission's acts. And Congress will be the final arbiter when the commission decides that some atomic power or other non-military use of atomic materials is ready to be given to American industry.

The commission's power of life and death covers not only military uses of atomic energy, but also the power developments. The penalties are to be applied to anyone who publishes or in any other manner discloses information that the bureau thinks should be kept secret. The commission reports violators to the Attorney General and the F.B.I. is required to investigate the violation.

The death penalty, of course, can be assessed only on recommendation of a jury convinced that the defendant intended to injure the United States. The jury can also recommend life imprisonment. Lesser penalties are 20 years imprisonment or $20,000 fine, or both, and 10 years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both.

The commission is given almost absolute power over all phases of atomic progress. It will own the production plants. It will own all fissionable materials. It will take over by purchase or condemnation the supplies of uranium and thorium, and other production materials if any. It will fix the prices of the materials, and they must be delivered to the Commission.

Virtually all research and all developments in atomic energy, medical, industrial or scientific, are also controlled by the commission which shall determine what may not be published.
