

A REAL TEST OF FRIENDSHIP

SPRING TIME in New York brought out the ice cream man, and little Mary Margaret Blacksher was so happy to get out into the warm sunshine that she was more than willing to share her ice cream with a passing Great Dane. Top, the dog leans over the carriage with a woeful "give me a lick" look. Below, Mary is ready to oblige. (International)

TEEN TALK

AP Newsfeatures

Dear Judy,

Shades of John Silver? What will teen-agers think of next? Their newest and dizziest fad is copied from the ancient pirate custom of piercing one ear.

Dorothy Cahill of Arcadia, Calif., writes that it all started when her brother came home from the Navy with a pierced ear from which dangled a gold anchor.

It seems Dorothy and her 18-year-old boy-friend decided that they would pierce their left ears and wear a gold heart in them "sort of as a symbol of going steady."

Now the fad is catching on like wildfire, says Dottie, and teen-age boys are piercing their ears and wearing tiny birthstones, gold hoops or charms—or anything "appropriate to themselves."

To show off their new fad better, the girls keep their hair pinned back from the earring car. The boys who wear earrings claim that nobody "gives them a second glance."

The kids here have given the brooch (brushoff) to the pierced ear idea. As one of the kids says, "It's awful tough trying to be pretty as it is—why spoil anything you don't have to?"

Lots of the heps are getting set for their summer vacations. The American Youth Hostels report that more than 15,000 young people will plan inexpensive cycling and hiking vacations through the United States, Canada, Mexico and Europe this year.

This summer, the A.Y.H. reports, it hopes to sponsor its first trip to the Soviet Union, and will take its first group of hostellers to Germany since 1939. Though the trips are open to anyone over 17, of the 200 hostellers expected to go, preference is being given to persons with hostelling and work experience and to those who can speak the language of the country they wish to visit.

There also will be a Rolling Youth Hostel, a railroad car equipped with books, separate washrooms and cooking facilities. Trips to Alaska, Mexico, the Gaspe Peninsula, Montreal and Quebec are also being planned and all the trips will be under the supervision of adults who have completed a special training course for youth hostel leaders.

Cycling can be tons of fun. It isn't necessary to take one of the larger trips. There are groups organized for a few days or a month depending on how much time you'd like to devote to it.

Speaking of bicycles, another trick of the solid senders is to paste pictures of their boy-friends on the fenders of their bicycles.

PATER CATCHES UP WITH THE PATE BOYS

WINNSBORO, S. C. (AP)—Gene Pate, 15, and his brother, Joel, 15, are both Eagle Scouts.

Their father, Dudley Pate, a section man in the twisting department of Winstboro Mills, wears the Eagle badge too. It was pinned on him recently by his mother.

Grandmother Pate is a Scout enthusiast, too. She knows every Boy or Girl Scout in this modern cotton mill community and attends all court of honor ceremonies.

Papa Pate took over as scoutmaster of Troop 27 when the leader went away to war. Soon the girl

Mat Wipes Your Feet, Rings Bell, Puts On Light

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—Here's one door mat you don't have to kick around in order to get service.

Frank Carnahan, New Philadelphia mushroom grower, now offers an automatic version which wipes off your shoes automatically, rings the doorbell and turns on the porch light.

Mr. Carnahan, who got concerned about the amount of dirt carried into his mushroom factory, has applied for a patent.
