duly noted and cast and authorship neatly identified. This makes a total of two Theater Guild productions on Broadway and five prowling elsewhere.

This recent burgeoning of world stage travel is not confined to the Guild alone. "Life With Father" is an imminent London arrival, as is "Annie Get Your Gun." "Born Yesterday" is nicely settled there as a smash hit, and "The Voice of the Turtle" shortly will journey to London's West End with Margaret Sullivan repeating the role she originated here several years ago.

Suffice it to note that the suitably named International Theatre on Columbus Circle now is tenanted by "Alice in Wonderland," adapted from the original English fairy tale by Eva Le Gallienne and Florida Friebus, and acted by a cast including a beautiful sprite from Brooklyn named Bambi Linn and an English lady of hefty artistic repute, Miss Margaret Webster, daughter of a Dame, no less: Dame May Whitty, to be exact. That global enough for you?

very thing, Tack, for we would welcome you, and who knows you might find inspiration here again, as you first got your start in the creative field of cartooning.
