this than through the coordination of the Farmers Federation cooperative.

Other guests present included: C. W. Tilson, general manager of the Durham Mutual Exchange; Dave Snelson, head of the Blue Ridge Milk Producers association; Mose Kaiser of Greensboro, manager of the Guilford Cooperative dairy; Clarence Knight, of Guilford college; W. C. Seward, Trinity; and Lee Meredith, also of Trinity.

Mr. McClure, in making his annual report to stockholders, used placards bearing the names of various departments of the federation to illustrate his talk. Among the new departments mentioned was the bulb industry, which, by the growth and sale of flowers and bulbs, is expected to bring thousands of dollars per year to the farmers of this section. Charles Tilghmest, of Asheville, is in charge of this new project.

Another new feature mentioned by Mr. McClure is the Skyline Cooperative dairy, scheduled to be opened within the next week or so near Asheville. "The Skyline dairy," he said, "will be the basis for the protection of the dairy farmer of Western North Carolina." Although milk is being processed in the plant now, it has not been officially opened as yet. The plant, according to Mr. McClure, is one of the best of its type in the South.

A new artificial breeding program, whereby farmers of this area may improve the milk production of their herds was announced by Mr. McClure. By keeping a battery of registered bulls in a barn near Asheville, every farmer in Western North Carolina will have the same chance to breed his cattle from proven sires, he stated.

The Rev. Dunont Clarke, head of the religious department of the federation, made a report on the Lord's Acre project, telling how it has grown to cover the United States and many foreign countries. Pamphlets on the work are now being printed in many languages, he said. A new project in this department, the Christian Recreation program, has been launched in many churches of this area, and pamphlets on this phase of the department's work will be available soon, he stated.

Entertainment was furnished by the Farmers Federation string band and many musicians and quartets from Haywood and surrounding counties. Highlight of the program of entertainment was the federation hen, who waddled onto the stage to the tune of "Cackling Hen" and calmly laid an egg for all to see.

Others appearing on the program were as follows: S. T. Swanger, Fines Creek; Bobby McFee, Asheville; Virgie Case, Hazelwood; Paul Clark, Clyde; Jeanette Leopard, Waynesville; Neil Anne Allen, Canton; Alex Houston, Hendersonville; Herman Jones, Whittier; Rusty Waldroup, Sylva; Hayward Shelton, Argona; Mrs. C. C. Smart and her three daughters, Janice, Shirley and Dolores of Lenoir; Ed Bowers of Andrews; Selren Cope of Green's Creek; and Smiling Red Raper of Murphy.

Winners in the quartet and choir singing contest, held during the afternoon, were as follows: first place, Smile-A-White quartet, Canton; second place, Wesleyan quartet, Canton; third place, Ratcliff Cove quartet, choirs, first place, Frances Cove; second place, Allens Creek.

Athletic games and contests were held on the school grounds during lunch hour and prizes were awarded to the following: Luther Sutton, Earl Perkins, Dick Hagan, Perry Gibson, James Williamson, Harley Caldwell, Charles Gaddy, Charles Leatherwood, Bill Gray, Polly McElroy, Rowena Robinson, Betty Ferguson, Dale Medford, Joe Wells, Kenneth Lane, Jesse Caldwell, Roxie Crawford, Joan Medford, Maxine Medford, Lillian Medford, Sally Bryson, Hilda Lepford, Fred Mann, Silas McElrath, Brenneith James, Arthur Mehaffey, Mrs. Clinton McElroy, Bob McFee, Owen Brendle, Nathan Walker, John Evans, Billy Messer, Minnie Rathbone, Betty Jones, Peggy Green, Bobby Allison, Tom Presnell, Norman Arrington, Ted Sutton, Jerry Jenkins, Avery Allison, Frank Henry, Kelly Evans, F. Crisp Chambray

Striped dress and shorts.

By W. J. WINSTON

CHAMBRAY IS one cotton weave that is way out front in the summer popularity stakes. Made up into neat little town frocks, it is on the go from morning till night and it lends a crisp touch to sport and fun clothes too, as witness this play suit consisting of sun-dress and shorts. Gunmetal striped in pink is the nice color scheme with the stripes used vertically for the skirt, and slantwise and horizontally for the bodice which has a triangle of bare midriff below the tab-tied gathered neckline.
