CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICE

"Matter" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches and Societies on Sunday, September 21.

Golden Text: 1 John 5:21. "Little children, keep yourselves from idols."

Among the citations comprising the Lesson-Sermon were the following from the Bible: "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal. But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal" (Matt. 6:19, 20).

EAST WAYNESVILLE CHURCH

Charles M. Jobe, Minister
Sunday School at 10 a. m.
Preaching at 10:45 a. m. and 7:30 p. m.

Morning subject: The third in a series on "Man, His Beginning, Training and End."

The public is invited to all services.

Pennies Pile Up

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—When Mrs. Herman Harter bought her new postwar stove she paid for it with 12,000 pennies and 47 silver dollars she had saved in "an old sock" during the past five years.

Let Preachers Handle Weddings, Says J. P.

ALBANY, Ga. (UP)—Were Will Mock like many other justices of the peace, he probably would be a richer man.

Mock has been a justice of the peace here since 1912 but he refuses to perform marriage ceremonies.

In 35 years he has married only three couples, and none in the last five years.

"The way I see it," he says, "marriage is not a business contract; it's a sacred agreement. There are enough preachers around to handle all the marrying."

SNOWBALLS IN SEPTEMBER

Four of the largest bunches of white Hydrangea ever seen by the office force of The Mountaineer, were brought in Wednesday. The blooms were perfect in formation and much larger than the average man's head. This species of Hydrangea is sometimes known as Snowballs, but it would be hard to visualize a snowball of these dimensions.

Hen Lays 3-in-1 Egg

RICHMOND, Mo. (UP)—Homer Norris reports his hen laid a three-in-one egg. Inside the shell were two yolks, in addition to a complete third egg.

Sunday School Lesson

Guidance From Great Proverbs

HIGHLIGHTS ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Sept. 21 is Proverbs 3:5-7; 4:23; 6:16-19; 9:10; 14:34; 15:1; 16:18; 21:3; 22:1; 27:1-2; 28:1; 29:18; James 4:17. The Memory Verse being Proverbs 15:1, "A soft answer turneth away wrath; But a grievous word stirreth up anger.")

THE WORDS of guidance for our lives from the book of Proverbs are signals that we should watch for carefully so that we may avoid pitfalls, just as an engineer on a train watches for the stop or go-ahead signals in the red and green lights on the railroad to know whether he should go ahead on a free line or stop. Dreadful accidents have happened when the engineer did not notice or heed the signals; many lives have been lost, and many others seriously injured.

So in our moral lives, if we do not heed the warning signs that Solomon gives us in his wise proverbs, we may end our lives in disgrace, or at least be injured morally, perhaps beyond recovery.

The first precept in today's lesson is, "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding."

"In all ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths."

"Be not wise in thine own eyes: fear the Lord, and depart from evil."

When you have a difficult problem to decide, take time to take it to the Lord, and receive guidance. You cannot go far wrong if all through life you abide by that proverb.

"Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life."

The heart is the center of our physical systems. If the heart is filled with clean, kind thoughts, the actions will show it and we cannot go far wrong. Remember, too, that "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the holy is understanding."

Things the Lord Hates

"These six things doth the Lord hate: yea, seven are an abomination unto Him: A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood."

"A heart that deviseth wicked imaginations, feet that be swift in running to mischief, a false witness that speaketh lies, and he that soweth discord among brethren."

The proud and haughty are rebuked in another passage in our lesson: "Pride goeth before destruction, and an haughty spirit before a fall."

A lying tongue and hands that shed innocent blood are abominations to man, too. More subtle and harder to control is "the heart that deviseth wicked imaginations," and "feet that be swift in running to mischief." We have already, in a previous lesson, discussed the witness who lies under oath, and labeled him as despicable.

What shall we say to the mischief maker? The person who "soweth discord among brethren?" We all have known such people—even children who love to start quarrels. Remember what Jesus said: "Blessed are the peace makers, for they shall be called the children of God."

In Proverbs 22:1, we read, "A good man is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor than silver and gold." It reminds us at once of Othello's speech in Shakespeare's play: "He that filches from me my good name robs me of that which not enriches him, and leaves me poor indeed." Many a person suffers from calumny or gossip which temporarily takes away his good name, but if that person lives truly in the right way, eventually the good name is restored to him.

What God Demands

Once more we are reminded that a good life is more acceptable in the sight of the Lord than forms, ceremonies and sacrifices. "To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice."

Another proverb to take to heart is: "Boast not thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what the day may bring forth."

Also: "Let another man praise thee, and not thine own mouth; a stranger, and not thine own lips." Think of this proverb when you are tempted to boast a little.

Finally, this precept which it would be well for us all to heed at this time in the history of our country:

"Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

"Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." And finally from James 4:17, "Therefore to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin."

EVERYDAY COUNSELOR

—By—
REV. HERBERT SPAUGH, D. D.

Everyone makes mistakes. That's why pencils have erasers on one end. He who makes no mistakes does nothing, but he who makes too many loses his job.

A letter from a discouraged correspondent is on my desk. This young man has had a hard time, but so have other people had hard times. He made some mistakes, lost his job. He is trying a new one and is discouraged. "I am sick of living and don't see how I can keep the job I now have much longer. The time for a man to learn a trade is not when his nerves have gone as mine have, and when he is up in years and spirit-broken as I am. The time for a man to learn how to overcome an inferiority complex is not when he is as old as I am."

All this from a young man who is under 30 years of age.

He has made mistakes, but who doesn't. The thing to do is get up and try it again. There is a lot of value in those old mottoes placed at the top of Copy Books of yesterday in which we practiced penmanship. One comes to mind: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

It is surprising what one can do when he really makes up his mind to try; puts his mind, heart and every effort upon the new undertaking.

I went into the ministry at about the age of this correspondent. It was new work, entirely different. Prior to this time, I had been in the manufacturing business. I was working on machines, books, not people. A man can learn a new trade even when he is 40. I recall once teaching a 40-year-old machinist to play the piano. Someone sold him a piano as he loved music, but he hadn't realized that piano must be played. Then, with his money invested in it, the only way he could get it out was by playing it. He took lessons with grim determination, practiced regularly, learned to play to his own satisfaction.

Anyone who has enough strength and ability can get a job today, but not by sitting down and pining himself.

This correspondent needs to get down on his knees and ask the Lord's forgiveness for this pity, ask for guidance and then get up and go out and hunt a job, or else
