

GO TO CHURCH SOMEWHERE EVERY SUNDAY

Songs Sung by Marching Pilgrims ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Psalms 120-131.

In my distress I cried unto the Lord, and He heard me. Deliver my soul, O Lord, from lying lips, and from a deceitful tongue.

I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth.

I was glad when they said unto me, Let us go into the house of the Lord. Because of the house of the Lord our God, I will seek thy good.

Bless ye the Lord, all ye servants of the Lord, which by night stand in the house of the Lord. MEMORY VERSE—Psalm 136:1.

Rev. Elliott To Conduct Series Of Sermons

The Ten Commandments will be the theme of a series of sermons delivered by the pastor, Rev. L. G. Elliott, to the Sunday evening congregations of the First Baptist church during the summer months. The first sermon scheduled for Sunday evening, July 10, will deal with the first commandment, "None Other Gods."

This theme is pertinent to our times. Mr. Elliott said. "It cannot be denied that we are living in an age of lawlessness."

"Individuals, groups, states, and nations are worshipping self instead of God."

"It is the lawlessness which defies religion and substitutes personal desires for Divine authority."

"As it was in the days of the Hebrew judges when 'every man did that which was right in his own eyes,' so it is now."

"Our age needs a profounder sense of Divine supremacy and human obligation."

"We need a Christianity which shall mightily execute God's mighty will."

"It is time we turn again to a serious consideration and a fresh interpretation of God's Law in an effort to cope with our lawless age."

The public is cordially invited to hear these sermons on the Ten Commandments every Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.
