

Barkley Addresses 'Harmony' Dinner

Vice President Alben W. Barkley speaks in the role of peacemaker at a South Carolina "harmony" dinner in Columbia. The affair was sponsored by pro-Truman Democrats in the state's rights stronghold. Flanking Barkley are U. S. Senator Burnet R. Maybank (left), former Governor Ransome J. Williams, who arranged the affair, and Columbia Mayor Frank C. Owens (right), an avowed states' rights' fighter who said his appearance was strictly as mayor to welcome Barkley and the 500 guests who attended the $15-a-plate banquet. (AP Photo)

Deaths

MRS. MOLLIE GIBSON
Mrs. Mollie Gibson, 64, of Luther, died of a heart attack Sunday night just after attending evening services at the Church of God here.

Surviving are seven sons, Bowden and Francis Gibson of Canton, Orrie Gibson of Arden, Arthur Gibson of West Asheville and Luther Cecil and Sewell Gibson of Luther, four daughters: Mrs. Bertha Lankford and Mrs. Gladys Morris of Canton, Mrs. Ruth McCarrison of South Hominy and Mrs. Myrtle Odum of Greenville, S. C., one brother Will York of Waynesville, RFD 1, 28 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in Church of God at Luther with the Rev. W. C. Lee and the Rev. L. D. Kinn officiating. Burial was in Owen cemetery.

Crawford Funeral Home was in charge.

WORLEY INFANT
James Weaver Worley Jr., seven-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Worley of Canton, RFD 2, died early Monday morning in a hospital.

Surviving are the parents, the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Worley and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. O'Dear, all of Canton.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 11 a. m. in Wesley Methodist church with the Rev. C. A. Ramsey officiating. Burial was in Brown Chapel cemetery, Beavertown.

Wells Funeral Home of Canton was in charge.

MRS. JULIA PALMER MARSTELLER
Graveside rites were held at Green Hill Cemetery Wednesday morning for Mrs. Julia Palmer Marsteller, who died at her home in Jacksonville, Fla. The Rev. Malcolm R. Williamson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated and interment was in the family plot.

Among the survivors are several nieces and nephews.

Crawford Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

William the Conqueror fathered the present-day jury system by summoning twelve lawful men from each district of England to act as fact finders in determining taxes that each landowner should pay.

Farm Tour Plans Made For Aug. 1st

Haywood County farmers and their families will leave here August 1 for a week's tour that will take them on a 1,465-mile inspection tour of Mid-Western agricultural centers.

County Agent Wayne Corpening today announced the detailed itinerary of the 1949 Out-of-State Farm Tour which is sponsored by the test farm organization.

So far, he said, nearly 125 families have already applied to make the trip, most of which will be spent in examining farms and farming methods in Ohio and Indiana.

The county agent added that many features of particular interest to the women also have been arranged for this year's tour.

It won't be all study, either, for the travelers. Many recreational events have been planned to vary the study program.

On route, the party will make stops overnight at Lexington, Ky., Fort Wayne, Indiana, and Huntington, W. Va., staying two nights at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

On their trip, the touring families will visit the horse farms near Lexington, Ky., inspect beef cattle and other live stock farms, go through canneries, and attend demonstrations.

At Purdue, the women will study a frozen foods program, weaving exhibits, and home appliance devices.

The men, meanwhile, will be learning about the better pastures program and pay visits to the livestock experimental, dairy research, and hog and electric farms.

For part of their entertainment, they will hear a concert by a chorus of 1,200 Indiana farm women.

During the trip also they will attend banquets, special suppers, and other social events.

Along the way, also, they will visit poultry processing and other plants, poultry and dairy farms, and agricultural shows.

The tour is scheduled to end back in Waynesville the evening of August 6th.

The harness racing Grand Circuit will continue this year until Nov. 26 with Hollywood Park, if it is repaired in time, the final stop.

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A fisherman, John Bromfield, gave the movies a try while the tuna were not running. Movies have their points, he said, but there's nothing wrong with fishing.

Bromfield has made as much as $1,250 in one day landing tuna, he said, and that's a lot more than movie producers have offered him yet. What's more, men with the standing in tuna fishing that Bing Crosby has in the movies make $4,000 a day in season and don't have to stand around to anybody.

"I kind of live to fish, and I get paid for it," he said. "Now I've met a lot of actors who like to fish so they go out on their days off and pay somebody else for it."

Bromfield, who recently worked in "Rope of Sand" for Hal Wallis at Paramount, never intended to go into acting. An actor's agent spotted him on the beach between fish runs.

"I went up for a screen test," he said, "because I didn't have anything better to do for the next few months. I thought I'd give it a whirl."

Finds New World
Since he traded his oil skins for a drape shape, he said, he feels like a fish out of water.

"It's a new world, new people, new life," he said. "I can't say I'm bowled over by these fast-talking movie people."

"Living on a boat you meet a lot of happy-go-lucky guys whom nothing fazes. They make good money, too, and they don't have so much to worry about."

"They're fishermen from generation to generation and they don't care about living any other way."

Fishing, Bromfield said, is a complicated and highly specialized profession, just like making movies. "One important difference," he added, "you're your own boss."

All Kinds of Weather Wears Foresters Out

QUINCY, Cal. (UP)—It was a bitter crew of foresters that reported to headquarters of the Plumas national forest one morning.

The plaintive report went something like this: First a brush fire was fanned out of control by a sudden high wind. The flames were controlled after several strenuous hours and the weary crew retired to a cabin for a few hours of sleep.

They awoke to find 10 inches of snow on the ground. So, said the report, they shoveled their way through several miles of snow to report the fire was out.

Slightly Used Totem Pole Wanted by Students

INDIANA, Pa. (UP)—If anyone has an old totem pole he's not using, students at State Teachers College here are looking for one.

The town is named after the former prevalence of Indians in the area. The college athletic teams are referred to as the Braves or the Big Indians, and the school symbol is the head of an Indian chief.

The editor of the student newspaper, also chairman of a committee to beautify the campus, says a totem pole is needed to keep improvements in line with tradition. If and when received, the totem pole will be placed at the main entrance to the campus.

FREE ENTERPRISE
BOSTON (U. P.)—Business is so good for Edward A. Sport, who operates a wholesale beauty enterprise from a dime rental locker in the Washington Street subway station, that he's thinking of opening a branch office in a locker at the Dudley Street station.
