CORINTH RECEIVES GOSPEL FROM PAUL

Scripture—Acts 15:36-18:22; I Corinthians 5:9-6:20; II Corinthians 6:11-7:1.

By Newman Campbell
 TODAY WE continue Paul's diary journeys. Consult the map to see the many miles he traveled with his companions to the Gospel of Christ to Jew and Gentile alike.

The distances seem small, measured by modern means of transportation, but they required hours to travel in the time Paul and his comrades.

Paul and Barnabas were in Antioch after going to Jerusalem to report of their activities. They suggested to Barnabas that they visit again the brethren in the city where they had preached the word of the Lord. Barnabas evidently agreed, but was determined to take John Mark with them. Paul said no.

You remember John Mark had deserted them on one of their expeditions. Luke says, "the contention was so sharp between them that they departed asunder from the other." The two were almost quarreled, we are told, and parted—Barnabas took John and sailed to Cyprus, and Paul went the other way, through Cilicia, taking Silas, a prominent member of the Antioch church. Paul and Barnabas never together again, which is because Barnabas had introduced Paul to the church—and honored him when the leaders were inclined to mistrust him. The lesson is so long and so full with exciting incidents, that it must be brief in recounting to one in order to have space for the temperance lesson Paul teaches to us in Corinthians.

In the 16th chapter of Acts we introduced to a new and very important character in Paul's life. His name was Timotheus, son of a Greek. Two of Paul's last epistles, written just before his death in Nero's persecutions, were addressed to him. How a strange thing happened to Paul. The Holy Ghost forbade him to go to certain places. The Lord had planned another field in which He wished him to work. As Paul lay in his bed, a vision appeared to him. It was of a man who prayed Paul, and came over into Macedonia, and Paul knew it was the Lord had

SECURITY and Happiness

The simple faith of this child is written all over her beaming little face. The awed expression, the clasped hands, and the prayerful eyes show without a shadow of a doubt that this small girl has been taught truths of the Christian Faith.

Already she has been taken regularly to the services of the Church, habits which she will not likely break as she grows older. At night Mother tells her stories from the Bible, and at bedtime she kneels reverently to pray before she falls asleep.

A child with such training has been given the greatest insurance of happiness that parents can bestow. No matter what course her life may lead, she will always be able to rely upon her early teachings as her greatest source of comfort and direction.

Only by giving your children the benefit of Christian training can you hope to bless them with security and happiness in the future. It is never too early or too late to begin. Take your children to Church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
