

Plans Made For Governor To Make Awards Here March

Thrash, State Highway Chief to Appear Here

Officials and directors of the Haywood County Community Development Program committee yesterday at a luncheon session discussed plans for the county-wide awards meeting and the visit of Governor Kerr Scott.

The governor is scheduled to present the cash awards to the winning communities for the 1949 Community Development Program and deliver the principal address at the session which will open at 10:30 a.m. March 4.

The main court room of the Haywood County Court House will be the scene of the presentations.

Also scheduled to appear on the program with the governor are District Highway Commissioner Dale Thrash and Dr. Everett Jordan, chairman of the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

The communities which finished first, second, and third in the county-wide improvement competition during the first year of the Program was in effect will not be known until they are announced at the meeting.

At the luncheon session, which was held in the Towne House here, the county CDP officials, meeting with county Extension leaders, went over suggested details for the meeting. The details will be announced later in full.

Under current plans, Governor Scott is to arrive with his official party prior to the meeting to be conducted on an inspection tour of several of the organized communities.

The governor will come to Waynesville from Bryson City, where he is scheduled to address a meeting of district highway employees and spend the night.

Following his address and presentation of awards here, Scott is scheduled to proceed to Asheville where he will appear at a Farm Bureau meeting.

R. C. Francis, chairman of the County Community Development Program Committee, presided over yesterday's luncheon meeting.

Attending the session were Dick Barber, Saunook community chairman; William Osborne, South Clyde community chairman; County Agent Wayne Corpening; County Home Demonstration Agent Mary Cornwell, and Assistant County Agent Turner Cathey, supervisor of the Community Development Program.

Corn Borers Multiflying In Minnesota's Fields

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Entomologist A. W. Buzicky says corn borers probably will multiply this year beyond their five-fold increase during 1949.

The southern two-thirds of the state, where the principal corn-producing counties are located, can expect to see extremely heavy infestations, he said.

The corn borer population in 1949 was five times that in 1948, he said, an increase from 70 borers per 100 stalks to 340.

Women Given Credit For Paved Roads

SANTA FE, N.M. (UP)—An official of the federal government believes that women are responsible for the nation's paved roads.

Testifying here before a Senate public roads sub-committee, L. I. Hughes, 11-state Bureau of Public Roads director from San Francisco said, "It's the women who kick about gravel roads."

"They don't like the dust in their headgear."

A&P Points Out Anti-trust Lawyers 'Kill Own Case'

The Anti-Trust Lawyers previously defeated three times in different Federal Courts, "Killed Their Own Case" against the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company at Dallas, A&P says in advertisements appearing in newspapers throughout the country this weekend.

But this did not end the 10-year campaign against A&P, according to the fourth advertisement in a series discussing previous unsuccessful attacks on the pioneer food chain by Anti-Trust Lawyers.

"The Anti-Trust Lawyers were not satisfied with decisions against them by three Federal Judges," the ad says. "They still wanted to destroy A&P."

The advertisement tells how in 1944 the Dallas case, based on allegations similar to those in the current suit to put A&P out of business, had been thrown out of court by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell.

On appeal, the ad says, the Circuit Court at New Orleans, although reinstating the indictment, agreed that it was "vague and contained many allegations which were inflammatory." The Court decided Judge Atwell "Should protect A&P from these inflammatory allegations by striking them out."

Judge Atwell struck these statements, the ad says, and instructed the Anti-Trust Lawyers to furnish him "Specific Charges instead of vague generalities."

"On February 26th while the Judge was still waiting for his answer in Dallas, and without any previous notice to him," the ad states, "The Anti-Trust Lawyers gave a story to the newspapers in Washington, announcing that they were dropping the case in Dallas."

In dropping the case, the Anti-Trust lawyers were quoted as saying they intended "to file a substantially similar suit in an appropriate jurisdiction at an early date."

The "Early Date" proved to be the same day, A&P says in the advertisement.

"As soon as one Anti-Trust Lawyer killed the case in Dallas, another Anti-Trust Lawyer filed a new case in Danville, Ill." The ad continues, "This new case made most of the same allegations that had been made and dropped in Dallas and that are being made against us today."

Summarizing previous court actions in the Anti-Trust Lawyers' 10-year Attack on A&P, the advertisement observes: "Three times the Anti-Trust Lawyers went into Federal Courts and made serious and damaging charges against A&P. Three times Federal Judges said the Anti-Trust Lawyers were wrong and rendered decisions against them."

After they failed in Washington, D. C., Wilson, and Dallas, Texas, the ad concludes, they "moved on" to Danville, Ill.

"They were still determined to destroy this Company which had brought more and better food at lower cost to millions of American families."

Iron Duff Man Gives Laurels To Ladino Crop

One of Haywood County's most loyal supporters of Ladino clover is D. J. Boyd, Jonathan Creek farmer.

But we'll let Mr. Boyd tell you in his own words exactly what he thinks of it:

I sowed my Ladino clover the last of June or the first of July when the corn was laid by.

Then I started pasturing it in the spring of 1947 and have pastured it ever since. I sowed eight acres in Ladino and have found that it will graze about one head of cattle per acre.

I sowed about two pounds of Ladino to the acre, with 12 pounds of orchard grass. That was a dry summer, hence I didn't get a very good stand of the orchard grass. But still there was a good growth of Ladino.

I have found that Ladino clover will grow through the hot summer months much better than white clover, that it makes a much larger growth and consequently it will graze better.

Judging from the results obtained I would say that Ladino clover pasture is the cheapest and best pasture we can grow here in Haywood County.

MORE ABOUT Ramps

One thousand dollars in labor and materials went into making the spot more beautiful and providing enough space for at least 1,000 automobiles and trucks—twice as many as could be accommodated last year and the years before.

The growth of the Convention also sent the officials seeking active cooperation from other agencies, particularly Haywood's chambers of commerce.

Meanwhile, letters will be mailed out soon to all the out-of-state visitors who attended the convention last year, inviting them to come back for the 1950 session.

Mr. Medford said the date has not yet been set, though the time will be in the latter part of April, when the ramps reach the stage of ideal development — in short, just before they become too strong to eat.

He added other details are also getting attention, and that efforts are being made to line up prominent speakers for the session.

HCL Cafe Doesn't Mean That Its Name Implies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Earl Fly, evangelist of the Church of Christ at Friendship, Tenn., reports what probably is the biggest meal for the smallest amount anywhere.

He and a friend stopped at the HCL cafe in Arlington, Ky., and ordered sausage and eggs. The eggs came on a platter alone, but on the table the owner placed a plateful of sausage, a plate of biscuits, a pound of country butter, and three large jars of jams and preserves. A second plate of biscuits replaced the first when they were eaten.

The cost? One dollar for the two of them.

Says One Disease Yields To 'Atomic Medicine'

BERKELEY, Cal. (UP)—A University of California scientist reports that it is possible to say that "at least one disease can be controlled by 'atomic medicine'."

Dr. John M. Lawrence, director of the Donner Laboratory, said the use of radioactive phosphorus now gives victims of polycythemia, a disease in which there is an excessive accumulation of red cells in the blood, as good a chance of life as that enjoyed by diabetics who use insulin.

Lawrence said radiations from the radioactive phosphorus reduce this excess and keep polycythemia, once considered fatal, under control.

Fruit Flies Suggest Clue To Cancer Discovery

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—A Rhode Island State College zoology professor believes his experiments with fruit flies possibly suggests that humans may inherit a weakness for cancer.

Dr. Ernest Hartung has developed a strain of flies, 80 per cent of whom develop cancer. In another strain he has bred, less than one per cent get tumors.

He hopes his continuing experiments will discover the single factor in the fruit fly's genetic background which makes it susceptible to cancer. Then he could apply the knowledge to the study of human cancer.
