sour door for relief. If it were not for the Red Cross (whose work includes the handling of such needy cases).
"If disaster ever strikes here, the Red Cross would come in and take over."
"The cheapest insurance against fire and disaster is enrollment in the Red Cross."
Oral Yates of Iron Duff, the campaign director, then discussed final instructions, and declared: "My time is yours until this $3,745 quota is raised."
"If you need help in any area, just call me."
Mr. Williamson did not announce a definite date for the end of the campaign, but told the workers it was hoped that the quota would be reached by March musical number.

Elmer Hendrix, secretary of the county group, will give a report of the nominating committee.

Richard N. Barber, Jr., will briefly outline the industrial and its association with agricultural life, and present Governor Scott with tokens from the various plants and farms.

A short musical program, by two other quartets will follow Mr. Barber's part on the program. The Blaylock Sisters of Center Pigeon and the "Southerners" of Thickety. The Blaylock sisters group is composed of Frances Blaylock, Mrs. Hilda Kinsland, and Mrs. Edith Vetoe, with Jeter Martin, accompanist.

The "Southerners" group is made up of J. H. Clark, Ross Kilpatrick, Alden "Red" Anderson and Guy Grogan.

Mrs. C. O. Newell will introduce the guests, and J. H. Clark will present L. Dale Thrash, district highway commissioner. Mr. Thrash will present Governor Scott, who will make the formal announcement of the winners and give the awards to the community leaders for the leading sections.

Earlier this year, three judges checked the 23 communities, and their decision as to winners of first, second, and third places, were put in a sealed envelope and put under lock and key. The Governor will open this envelope and read the decision of the judges Saturday.

Much interest has been shown in the contest, as well as the program at large, since it was inaugurated here in January 1949.

Fog Machine Tried Out On Fruit Orchards

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—A new machine claimed to be able to produce enough artificial fog to guard fruit orchards and fields against frost for seven hours at a stretch is undergoing tests near here.

The Bavarian state agricultural testing station in nearby Karlsruhe, which developed the machine, reported that basic sulphuric acids, resulting in an artificial fog mixture "already proved in war."
They added that the real novelty in the invention lay in the machine's mobility and usefulness "in every sort of terrain."

Peddler Triple-Crosses Double-Crossing Cops

TAMPA, Fla. (UP)—Embarrassed detectives George Huerta and W. M. Myares ran into a triple-cross when they tried a double-cross.

They said Ellsworth Denlinger tried to sell them two bottles of morphine. Then they flashed bogus bills, made the trade and arrested him.

When the "morphine" was analyzed, it turned out to be plain flour and salt.

Blow Up Your House If You Feel Like It

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—You can blow up your house any time you want in this state.

Wisconsin's attorney general, Thomas E. Fairchild, said all you have to do is be sure no one is hurt.

He made the ruling in the case of a man who dynamited his own home because he was dissatisfied with a contractor's work.

"still life" north of the border. Setting off dynamite as a moonshiner as Tennessee practice, they pointed out, "old custom" among the moonshiners of that state.
This catch, which had been sitting for about a year, was third Haywood officers in the Big Bend section since May 13.

On that date, they bagged a gallon job which was the ever taken in this county.

Only a few weeks later, raided a still of 500 gallons, acety only 100 yards from where the biggest one was taken.

The beer taken in the raid brought the total from three to 4,850 gallons.

To set the stage for the Kerley and Reece spotted last Sunday afternoon, the cided that the old outfit would be in production on Tuesday.

The two men and their officers staged their raid at 2 p.m., and were back in the ville with their prize only hours later.
