LEMONS THRIVE IN GEORGIA SANDERSVILLE, Ga. (UP)—Citrus as a rule does not thrive in Georgia, but C. B. Johnson's lemon tree is an eye-opening exception.

Johnson claims the tree on his farm has become acclimated to withstand heavy frosts and will produce lemons averaging two pounds in weight the year around.

Originally competitors, the radio and the phonograph were first combined into a single instrument about 1925.

Mother Held For Drowning Tots

Mrs. E. R. DeBusk, accused of drowning two of her six children in a creek at Winston-Salem, comforts her five-year-old daughter Ruby Lee who escaped death. Bottom: Officers with a respirator try in vain to revive her son Charles, 2, on the creek bank. Sheriff Ernie Shore said Mrs. DeBusk told him she led three children into creek, drowned two and lost her nerve before she could drown Ruby Lee. (AP Photos).

Old Songs Stay Popular Only If Good Say Experts

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—A good song never dies, music publishers contend.

"That's why it keeps making a good living for the man who wrote it," one publisher observed.

America's popular music is written for youngsters of 12 to 20, he said. But don't scoff.

That means if they like it today, they'll enjoy hearing it next year. There's a big argument along Tin-Pan-Alley over the 10 best money makers turned out by American composers. But there is considerable agreement that "White Christmas," a little number Irving Berlin knocked out in 1942, is one of the all-time contenders.

Best Sellers Listed
For some of the others, here's some year-by-year selections from the list of 500 best sellers listed by the American Society of Composers and Publishers. The ones you remember best will also remind you of how old you are.

A Bird in a Gilded Cage (1900), Mighty Lak' a Rose (1902), Sweet Adeline (1903), Give My Regards to Broadway (1904), In My Merry Oldsmobile (1905), Every Day Is Ladies Day With Me (1906), On the Road to Mandalay (1907), Take Me Out to the Ball Game (1908), Put on Your Old Gray Bonnet (1909), Down by the Old Mill Stream (1910), Alexander's Ragtime Band (1911), My Melancholy Baby (1912), Memphis Blues (1913), Missouri Waltz (1914), Pack Up Your Troubles in Your Old Kit Bag (1915), Down Among the Sheltering Palms (1916), Darktown Strutters' Ball (1917), Hindustan (1918), Dardanella (1919), Margie (1920), Wabash Blues (1921), Stumbling (1922), Who's Sorry Now (1923), Rhapsody in Blue (1924), Always (1925), Sweet Georgia Brown (1926), Chloe (1927), I Can't Give You Anything but Love Baby (1928), Stardust (1929), Dancing With Tears in My Eyes (1930).

List Keeps Growing
Goodnight Sweetheart (1931), A Shanty in Old Shantytown (1932), Smoke Gets in Your Eyes (1933), Cocktails for Two (1934), I Got Plenty of Nuttin' (1935), These Foolish Things Remind Me of You (1936), Rosalie (1937), Thanks for the Memory (1938), Begin the Beguine (1939), God Bless America (1940), Anniversary Waltz (1941), White Christmas (1942), Oh What a Beautiful Morning (1943), Holiday for Strings (1944), I'm Beginning to See the Light (1945), It Might as Well Be Spring (1946) and Linda (1947).

It's too early to tell about later ones.

Radio ended the 1,000,000 copy sales of sheet music on a current hit. Ramona was one of the last big spot sellers, the old timers say. Now a composer hopes for a movie sale, which amounts to four figures, or a big record sale, which brings from one to two cents royalty per record.

Family Talks Continue This Week In County

Mrs. Corinne Grimsley, North Carolina State College's energetic family relations specialist, continues her tour of Haywood county's communities this week.

Tonight, she will be the featured speaker at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Waynesville Junior Chamber of Commerce at 7 o'clock.

A half hour later, she'll be speaking on the same subject at the South Clyde Community Development Program meeting in Louisa Chapel.

At all the meetings, Champion Paper and Fibre Company's film, "The Price of Freedom," will be shown.

The rest of Mrs. Grimsley's schedule for the week:

Tuesday, 7:30 p. m.—Ratliff Cove Community House; Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.—Iron Duff Methodist church; Thursday, 7:30 p. m.—Long's Methodist Church, Center Pigeon; Friday, 7:30 p. m.—Morning Star School.

Reds Have Four Men In Second Base Fight

AP Newsfeature

TAMPA, Fla.—Lou Klein obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals during the winter, has the experience over three other Cincinnati second basemen, but Red Manager Luke Sewell has made it plain that the job is wide open.

It is the big problem on the club. Behind Klein, who was reinstated last July after jumping to the Mexican League in 1946, are Sam Meeks, rookie from Syracuse, and veterans Jimmy Bloodworth and Bobby Adams. Meeks hit .306 for the Reds in 16 games at the end of the 1949 campaign.

Mrs. Ruby Dellinger left Friday for Washington, D. C. where she will visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Outlett.

Daniel Boone led axmen blazing the Wilderness Road through Cumberland Gap in 1775.

Beautiful Twosome

Blouse and skirt costume.

By VERA WINSTON

WE JUST didn't think that there could be a different air about the blouse and skirt costume, but here it is. Fresh, soft and feminine is the name for this charming twosome. The blouse is of pale pink fine handkerchief linen with a plain neckline and a pearl buttoned front closing. This offers a nice contrast to the very full lantern sleeves which are gathered onto the shoulders. The skirt is of black paper taffeta permanently pleated. It is set onto a trim waistband that fastens in back.

Tom Gibson, who is a student at Wake Forest College, arrived Saturday to spend the spring holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson.

Mrs. William Hannah spent the week-end with friends in Camden, South Carolina.

Spelling Bee Set For Bethel School April 4

By Mrs. Bill Hollingsworth (Mountaineer Correspondent)

The residents of Francis Cove and East Pigeon are busy polishing up their vocabularies these days.

This is by way of preparing for their meeting the night of April 4 in an inter-community spelling bee at the Bethel High School auditorium.

The program will be rounded out with musical performances.

Patent Leather Shines For Spring

PENDING... Here are highlights in the patent leather fashion picture for spring. Read likewise, the shoes are: "lover's knot," the naked sandal for day or evening; "open secret," the pump with lattice toe; "winkle toe," the open-toed cutaway pump; and "bare illusion," the five-strap sandal, all designed by I. Miller. The elongated tunnel shaped handbag, by Josef, has the handles, gold fastening.

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor

Remember the patent leather party slippers you wore as a little girl?

Remember the festive feeling you had every time you put them on?

You can recapture that best-bib-and-tucker feeling of spring, for patent leather is back in the fashion picture with a bang. Not only in shoes, but in handbags, belts, hat trimmings, and cuffs and wrist accents on gloves.

Patent leather sparks some of the top collections both Paris and New York, not only in black, but also in colors.

Gunmetal patent is a new costume accent on spring suits and coats in Paris, and entire coats of pastel patent have been shown in this country.

Lapels and deep cuffs of patent leather are seen on a spring coat from one of New York's top designers, and patent trim also is used on a high style raincoat.

You'll have a wide choice when you go shopping for your patent shoes for spring. You'll find them in all styles, from the classic opera pump to the most frivolous open sandals made of narrow strips of patent. They are available for street, afternoon or evening wear, the latter usually in pastels.
