

Large Haywood Delegation At State Young Demo Club In Asheville

Over 50 devoted Democrats from Haywood County—and their long-eared mascot—attended the March 25 State Young Democrats' convention in Asheville. An Asheville Citizen photographer took this shot of some members of the delegation with the donkey. In this group are James Reed, Jr., Fred Campbell, Lance Brooks, Jack Chapman, Jarvis Allison, Haywood Young Democrats' President Vanar, Clyde, Bryan Medford, Jack and Dickie West, Mrs. Jack West, John Morgan, Dewey Ray, Mrs. Vanar Haynes, C. C. Medford, Ray Medford, and F. R. Medford. Mr. Haynes is at the head of the Party's mascot. (Photo courtesy Asheville Citizen-Times.)

DAN'L BOONE RE-CREATED, FUR CAP AND ALL

DONDON, O. (UP)—Court house employees were startled to see a replica of the famous Dan'l Boone strolling into the office of Sheriff Harold Bidwell.
The tall, gangling man wore a long fur coat made of red fox pelts and a fur cap.
Judges, lawyers and visitors took one look and stopped their activities. Then the foxed-up man was recognized as Joe Dillon of Sedalia, who had made the coat and hat from pelts "just for the novelty."

THE YOUNGER SET

MILDRED MEDFORD
High School Senior

The play that everyone has been looking forward to is the play that the Junior and Senior Class of St. John's is going to give in the very near future, "Aunt Abby Answers An Ad."

The cast has been working hard getting the play in "tip top" shape so they can entertain everyone the night the curtain goes up.

Jenny Van De Water is playing the part of Abby Ainsley, a dyed-in-the-wool old maid, and her maid-of-all work. Lucindy Lovejoy will be played by Genny Kernan. Walter Taliaferro has the part of an unwelcome suitor of Abby Ainsley, Horace Harter. Ann Ainsley, Abby's niece from the city, is Joanne Metcalf, and Ann's girl-chum, Lillian Lorraine, is played by Sonja Hagna. Of course there is always a lover in every play, but there seems to be two in this one. Robert Jeter plays the part of Billy Bartherton who is engaged to Lillian and Hallett Ward, Jr., plays the part of Anna's boy friend. Mrs. Purviance, a tourist, is played by Bette Hannah and Horace Harkwell, a lonely widower, is by Frosty Lane... and the tattle-tale, Essie Ebbersole, of the play is Dolf Kienast.

With that cast of Characters... the play would have to be a success, because the cast as a whole is such a success... Good Luck, and don't practice too hard.

If you missed the Masquerade Party Friday night then you missed a wonderful time. Walking into the Army where the Masquerade was held, you wondered if you weren't in some circus of some kind. You couldn't tell who the girl was in the rabbit costume or the boy who was dressed as an old woman... but it was a lot of fun trying to figure out just who was who.

There were kits of "skits" acted out by different groups and individuals—and you could tell they had put a lot of hard work into making them good. Joan Morris did an Al Jolson stunt... she played his record and acted it out—she even had her face blacked.

Ann Coman Crawford and J. D. Stanley won the prizes for having the best costumes. Ann came as Rita Hayworth wearing a red wig, a mask, and even clothes like Rita wears. J. D. came as a clown... he looked just like one, too.

Marjorie Woody and Jimmy Whitman were dressed like Indians... and actually had people thinking that Indians had come to the party.

Everyone had a wonderful time... so let's do it again in the very near future.

The Speech Class of W.T.H.S. presented one of the best plays that has ever been presented at the high school, "American Passport," a three act play by Dana Thomas.

Last Thursday night just before the curtain went up, the cast and back stage workers were in one big uproar—yes they were nervous. But after the first act was over, all was okay and calm again.

With Miss Alma Jackson as the director, everyone had a wonderful time, practicing at night, running all over town for last minute things, getting the furniture to the school, and then last of all getting our make-up on before going on stage. Margaret Reece did a fine job with the make-up. How did you ever change a young girl into an old woman, Margaret?

Those in the play were: Johnny Patterson, Ann Rector, Danny McClure, Nancy Stamey, Susie Stamey, Gene Yarborough, Nancy Lou Floyd, Deryl Davis, and Elaine Francis.

Back stage workers were: Betty Franklin, James McJunkin, Coretta Henson, Edna Callahan, Margaret Reese, Malcolm Williamson, and Kathleen Calhoun as Assistant Director to Miss Jackson, director.

Congratulations to the debaters! Although both of our teams didn't win in the triangular debate, we are very proud of them.

Edna Callahan and Vivian Watkins debated in Forest City against the Marion debaters... they didn't win, but they gained a lot of knowledge by trying. Then Nancy Floyd and Elaine Francis debated in Marion against Forest City and they won. We are glad, too. Then Marion and Forest City debated against each other at Waynesville High Friday. They were good, both teams, but Marion again came out on top.
