Amos Teaches About Worship

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Amos 4:4; 5:4-9, 14, 15, 21-24.

Seek the Lord, who made the stars, "and turneth the shadow of death into the morning; the Lord is His name," Amos pleaded with his erring people.

"Hate the evil and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate"—the market place where the poor were cheated—so that God would be gracious.

The Lord hates the feast days, the solemn assemblies, and the burnt offerings while the rich oppress the poor and live immoral lives, declared Amos.

Even the religious songs sung to the "melody of thy viols" are displeasing to Jehovah without right living. MEMORY VERSE—Amos 5:24.

10 YEARS GAS DISTRESS

Mrs. M. L. Underwood, Campbell, S. C., declares: "For ten years I suffered terrible spells of stomach distress. After meals I could hardly breathe I felt so stuffed from gas on my stomach. I tried treatments and medicines with little or no results. My mother-in-law persuaded me to try Scalf's Indian River Medicine. Now I eat heartily of foods I dared not touch. Scalf's is the best stomach tonic money can buy is my sincere belief."

The first bottle of Scalf's is guaranteed to satisfy or your money back. Try it today.

Feather-bedding scheme of Firemen's Union to put an additional fireman on diesel locomotives has been CONSIDERED TWICE REJECTED TWICE!

Fact Finding Boards appointed by Presidents Roosevelt and Truman have said these demands were "devoid of merit" and they were REJECTED TWICE!

Now the Firemen's leaders seek to paralyze railroad transportation to compel the railroads to employ a wholly unnecessary additional fireman to ride on diesel locomotives. This scheme is plain

FEATHER-BEDDING!

LEADERS of the Firemen's union have called a nationwide strike starting with four great railroads on April 26. These railroads are the New York Central, Pennsylvania, Santa Fe, and Southern.

The union claim that a second fireman is needed on grounds of safety is sheer hypocrisy. Safety has been dragged into this dispute only in an unsuccessful effort to give a cloak of respectability to vicious feather-bedding demands.

After a careful study of the first demands of this union, a Presidential Fact Finding Board on May 21, 1943, reported to President Roosevelt that there was no need for an extra fireman on diesel locomotives.

Again, on September 19, 1949, after a second hearing on the union leaders' demands, a second Board reported to President Truman that: "there presently exists no need for an additional fireman... upon either the ground of safety or that of efficiency and economy of operation."

extra fireman is needed for "safety" reasons. Here's what the Board had to say on that point:

"The safety and on-time performance of diesel electric locomotives operated under current rules have been notably good..."

"Upon careful analysis of the data submitted on safety, we have concluded that no valid reasons have been shown as a support for the Brotherhood proposal under which a fireman would be required to be at all times continuously in the cab of road diesels. The proposal must be rejected."

The real reason behind these demands is that the union leaders are trying to make jobs where there is no work. In other words, a plain case of "feather-bedding."

The railroads have no intention of yielding to these wasteful make-work demands.

"The Safety Record of Diesels is Outstandingly Good..."

PRESIDENTIAL FACT FINDING BOARD REPORT

Read these excerpts from official reports of Presidential Fact Finding Boards:

"The safety record of Diesels is outstandingly good, and it follows that the safety rules now applicable to Diesels produced good results."

"The safety and on-time performance of Diesel-electric locomotives operated under current rules indicate that Diesel-electric operation has been superior to steam locomotive operation."

Remember: These are not statements of the railroads. They are just a few of many similar conclusions reached by Presidential Fact Finding Boards who spent months investigating the claims of the union leaders.
