

Baptist Men To Meet At Spring Hill On Sunday

County-wide meeting of Haywood County Baptist men will be held at Spring Hill Baptist church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The meeting is being sponsored by the Brotherhood, which was organized in the county last summer.

L. Mashburn, of Waynesville, announced that Young, president of the Carolina State Brotherhood, will be the principal speaker. Gay Chambers, pastor of the church, will be in charge of devotion, with Rev. L. G. Rogers, of Canton, in charge of the singing.

Rogers, of Canton, will sing with Mr. Mashburn making call of all churches. The meeting will be given by Rev. Mehahey. Mashburn said that inter-church brotherhood organizations are growing in Haywood, and he expected three new groups to be organized within the next few weeks. The goal is to have a meeting in each of the churches in the county, with the next meeting on May 30th at the Olivet on Soco road.

Officers of the county organization include: Rev. Underwood, vice president; W. Curran, vice-president in charge of membership; W. Curran, vice-president in charge of activities; B. N. Rogers, secretary; Hiram Caldwell, treasurer; and Rev. L. G. Elmore, pastor advisor.

Library Notes

MARGARET JOHNSTON COUNTY LIBRARIAN

LIBRARIES IN THIS AREA

My staff and I have been visiting some of the libraries in this area quite recently. First, we went over to see Miss Margaret Ligon at the Paek Memorial Library in Asheville. She took us on a tour of her library beginning with the Display Room, which was converted from a wasted basement area into a very attractive and useful place. The Tom Wolfe exhibit is being held there now. Then we saw the circulation department, the office, ordering and processing department, periodical and reference room, the Sondley Reference Collection and finally the children's room up on Fourth Floor. The Sondley Reference Library probably has the best collection of its type in the Southeast. Can you imagine having in that collection alone around 35,000 books—nearly three times our book collection? These books are purely for reference and do not circulate. We missed seeing the Bookmobile as it was out in the County. The Paek Memorial Library's problem is the same as ours, the lack of space.

Later, we went to Bryson City to see the Fontana Regional Library under the direction of Mrs. Helen Kittrell. There we saw an entirely different type from the city library. In this type we saw how three counties—Macon, Jackson and Swain—are working together with small libraries in Franklin, Sylva and Bryson City and a bookmobile to serve the entire area. The Bookmobile is in each county a certain number of days each month. Books are left at deposit stations with a few places having direct service—that of the people meeting the Bookmobile. It is exactly the opposite from our Bookmobile service which is mostly direct service with a few deposit stations. Books from the regional collections or the libraries are available for use anywhere they are needed. We saw too, the library in Bryson City and we had a nice time exchanging ideas with Mrs. Harvey Breedlove and Mrs. Kittrell. Incidentally, the Regional Library Board there has voted to send their Library Staff on a tour of libraries next month and ours is on their list along with Asheville, Rutherfordton, Gastonia, Charlotte, Newton, Morganton, Marion and Burnsville. It is certainly good experience, for we certainly feel closer to the ones we visited and we are glad we beat them to the visit.

STATE BONDS DROP

North Carolina state bonds dropped slightly this week. But the loss came when the underwriting agreement terminated, sending the securities on a free-trading basis for the first time. This is the first $75,000,000 issue of the $200,000,000 rural road construction program.
