

Parade This Afternoon Opens Program For Show

Members of the cast of more than 100 actors are putting the final touches on their performances in preparation for the opening performance tomorrow night of "Trip Around the World" by the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. The show is a benefit variety show.

The curtain will go up at 8:13 p.m. for the first performance, and then at the same time for the final performance. The parade starting at 1:15 today will precede the preliminary events.

The show, explained Mrs. Bergmann, Jr., of Asheville, is handling the production, composed of eight scenes built up continuously. This continues to be carried on by John Doe, by the Rev. M. R. Williams, and Mary Doe (Mrs. Joe Doe) as they plan a vacation in the United States.

They visualize their trip, the country they plan to come to life on the stage.

Scenes are entitled: "A Railroad Station," "The Fairy Express," "A Day Here We Come," "Some Travellers," "A State of Texas," "Niagara Falls," "New York," and "Home in the Southland."

The parade will form at the Waynesville Presbyterian church for the march down Main Street toward Hazelwood. Serving as marshal for the parade is Charles Isley.

Another feature of the show is the Baby Contest.

The votes will be counted Friday. Then they will be counted and moved to the corridor of the Waynesville High School auditorium.

Voting will reopen at 6:30 p. m., and at 7:30 p. m. it will close officially.

The ballots will be counted, and tabulated, and the winners announced in a ceremony on the stage.

R. L. Prevost, Sr., will crown the winning babies.

The net profits from the two performances will be used to help build a club house for the community. This project is being sponsored by the sorority.

First pepper imported into the United States was landed at Salem, Mass., in 1795.

Salem, Mass., was once known as the "pepper port," because so much pepper was imported through the city.

Highway Crash Kills Mother And Six Children

Highway patrolmen examine the wreckage of an automobile and a tractor-drawn trailer which collided at Goldsboro and killed Mrs. Ivey Wadsworth and six of her children. They were riding in the trailer. The children ranged in age from 15 years down to 20 months. Mrs. Wadsworth's husband, driver of the tractor, was injured seriously. Parts of the tractor are in left foreground and in background. (AP Photo)

Library Notes

MARGARET JOHNSTON
COUNTY LIBRARIAN

The Feast—Kennedy.
The setting of this story is a large house on the English coast that has been turned into a hotel. The mood of the story is impending disaster, for the readers learn the cliff on which the hotel is set is cracking. The plot is developed by the characterizations of all the people living at the Inn, as they intermingle.

Enduring Hills—Giles.
Hod Pierce differs from his simple, moral family on Piney Ridge only in that he is endowed with ambition. His longing to see and make his mark on the world eventually causes him to enlist in the army and escape from the hills. While in service he meets Mary, a young school teacher from Louisville, and they are married. Through her help he begins to "make his mark"; however, he finds that financial success involves the sacrifice of his integrity so with Mary's support and consent they return to the hills.

Great Day In The Morning—Andrews.
Based on events which occurred in Colorado during the gold rush days of the 1850's. Denver, at the time the booming center of the gold strike, had also become the center of activities for a group of Southern conspirators bent on aiding the Revolutionary cause. The struggles of this group to mass a hoard of gold, the evergrowing bitterness between adherents of the North and South, and the gradual entanglements of the town's key figures with the Southerners, constitute the highlights of this novel.

Visibility Unlimited—Graec.
The famous crash pilot narrates his own exciting story, primarily for young people, of his service in the first World War, of his stunt flying in such movies as "Wings," "Air Squadron," "Sky High" etc. of his dangerous crashes planned to make aviation safer.

Crazy Horse—Garst.
Fictionalized biography of the heroic Indian leader, Crazy Horse, who led his Sioux people against the white men who were ravaging Indian land, exploiting peaceful tribes and pushing the Indians, from the land they believed was given to them by the Great Spirit.

Picture Book of the Earth—Meyer.
The story of the earth's surface and the natural wonders that a child sees around him. Where do the mountains come from? What makes earthquakes? Why does a river keep flowing? What is soil and how did it get where it is? These questions and many more are answered by the author.

Frogs and Toads—Zim.
A science picture book about frogs and toads, their beginnings, development and history.

West Pigeon CDP Will Hold Meeting

West Pigeon residents will make plans tonight for entertaining the people of Fines Creek at an inter-community field day July 29.

The Community Development Program meeting will open at the Bethel High School auditorium, with Chairman Ed Justice presiding.

The Field Day is scheduled for the high school also.

The members of the new planning committee, comprising representatives of each of the community's churches and clubs, also will launch work during the session.

They include: Mrs. Ellis Wells of the Bethel Parent-Teachers Association; Jack Sloan of the Baptist church; Mrs. Welch Singleton of the Methodist church; Mrs.

Hugh K. Terrell of the Order of the Eastern Star; Mrs. Charlie Terrell of the Women's Society of Christian Service; Mrs. R. O. Kelley of the Bethel Home Demonstration Club; and Mrs. Maude Treeke of the Baptist Women's Club.

L. Crabtree To Be Hosts Tuesday To Cruso People

The residents of Lower Crabtree next Tuesday will entertain the people of Cruso with a tour of farms, a picnic, and a recreation program.

Mrs. Hugh Noland, recently elected chairman of the Lower Crabtree Community Development Program, today announced the plans.

The tour of some of the community's finest features will be held in the morning immediately after the visitors arrive.

The party will start at C. T. Ferguson's store, then go to Taft Ferguson's farm, with the corn there taking the spotlight.

Next the hosts and guests will observe a demonstration of the work of a weed killer on the grounds of the chapel on Hyder Mountain and will inspect the church.

A visit to the Crabtree Baptist church's new Sunday School rooms and a tour of the church grounds will be followed by a stop at Millard Ferguson's farm for an inspection particularly of the tobacco and corn, and the same crops at Paul Sanford's.

G. C. Palmerr, Jr.'s, new hay-drier will be one of the principal objects of interest in the tour.

After that, the visitors will view Joe Palmer's new swimming pool

At Hugh Noland's near the Crabtree-Iron Duff School, they will see corn which was cultivated entirely by tractor—no other tool was used on the land.

After that, the hosts will entertain their guests at a picnic lunch at the school.

In the afternoon, visitors and home folks will compete in a series of athletic contests, see a handcraft exhibit, and participate in singing.

You Don't Forget New Alarm
BRIDGEPORT, Conn.—(AP)—People who have been coasting on that old alibi for morning tardiness—"I forgot to set the alarm"—have been given a sharp jolt by the General Electric Co. A new automatic alarm clock which has to be set only once and thereafter wakes its owner at the same time every morning has been announced. The clock automatically resets itself to sound off every 24 hours—including weekends—unless the owner remembers to shut it off.
