homeward. Last year, travelling by family auto and chartered bus, the Haywood farm families toured Kentucky, Illinois, Ohio, and Indiana. This year they will visit some of America's greatest livestock and crop farms and processing plants. And for entertainment, they'll see "The Common Glory," Virginia's colorful historical pageant at Williamsburg, Va.; the New York Yankees play the Washington Senators at Washington; and will take part in a radio program at New York's Radio City. They'll have dinner, banquet style at the first-class hotels where they will spend each night, and they'll travel exclusively on air-conditioned buses. And the whole trip—meals, lodging, entertainment, transportation, and sight-seeing—will cost each of them only $65.

The exclusive use of buses this year, Mr. Corpening explained, was necessitated by the fact that the tour will take the travellers through heavily-congested cities. The travelers will inspect some of the finest beef cattle and dairy herds in America during their tour. They'll also visit the nation's rich Indian River poultry-raising area in Delaware. They'll go through a plant that processes 10,000 poultry birds an hour, and see a "trifactor" that milks 2,000 cows in every 24 hours. A huge cannery that processes all types of vegetables, and the farms of New Jersey, the nation's leader in the production of truck crops, are also on the itinerary. In New York, besides visiting Radio City, they'll also tour the Empire State building, and see other leading features of this city of 9,000,000 people.

On the tour, they'll spend two nights in Washington, one in Salisbury, Maryland, one in New York, and one in Newport News, Va.

Highlights of the week's schedule: Monday 6:30 a.m.—Leave Waynesville. Stop for 30-minute tour of Burke County Farmers' Dairy Co-operative. Tour Old Salem in Winston-Salem. Arrive in Washington, D. C. about 10:15 p.m.

Tuesday Tour Beltsville, Md. Experiment Station, see major league baseball game in Washington. Wednesday Leave Washington at 7 a.m. for Cockeysville, Md. and tour of beef cattle herds at Hayfields Farm. Tour Guy Leader's poultry and beef cattle farm. Lunch at Shrewsbury Fire Department.

Tour Hungerford Packing Company meat plant and Thomas Carmen Dairy Farm near Shrewsbury. Tour county from York, Pa., to Lancaster, Pa., with visit to Clyde K. Eshleman's tobacco and cattle farm. Arrive at Lancaster, Pa., to spend night.

Thursday Inspect hogs and Angus cattle at Stauffer Homestead Farms. Visit Lehigh Valley Cooperative near Allentown, Pa. Tour muck section at Jacketstown, New Jersey, irrigated vegetables at Pinebrook. Arrive in New York City about 5 p.m., tour Radio City and Empire State Building (world's highest).

Friday 7 a.m.—Leave New York for tour of Rutgers University, New Jersey. Inspect rotolactor at Plainsboro, N. J., visit Dembro Poultry Farm. See hatching egg producer, modern machinery, poultry processing plant, and modern broiler farm at Newcastle Ferry. Spend night in Salisbury, Md.

Wife Of Famed Pastor Tells Of Nazi Methods

Mrs. Martin Niemoeller, who shared with her noted husband, the hardships and sufferings incurred when he was made to endure eight years in a concentration camp, while she carried on his duties, as a pastor, and assisted in the organization of German Christian Youth into a Confessing Church, and raised seven children, spoke out of her heart Tuesday afternoon to a great crowd in the auditorium of the Lake Junaluska Assembly, speaking under the auspices of a Convocation on a Living Faith. During these years one of her daughters died; two of her sons were forced to fight in Hitler's Army and one died. In her last letter received from him, which she read to the audience, because, she said, "Some of you have had or will have a similar experience, the son wrote his mother, "I go to my death, not as one fighting for a country where Hitler is God, but doing my duty as a German soldier."

In 1933, Mrs. Niemoeller recalled, people did not think badly of Hitler; he did not belong to the church but he did not persecute it. However, she explained, when he began to persecute the Jews, we knew he was not a follower of Christ—that he wanted our souls and he even succeeded in getting some Christians to put Hitler before Christ. This caused a division in the church, and the minority group, led by her husband, became known as the Reformatory Movement and they urged loyalty to Christ before Hitler. Hitler not only organized the Hitler Youth movement but coordinated the Christian youth who were restricted in their movements and compelled to be Hitler youth too. These young people, she said, became the nucleus of a revival of Bible and church within the Hitler regime. When Dr. Niemoeller took sides against the expulsion of Jewish ministers, began his long years of persecution and near death in concentration camps. In the meantime the Confessing Church had been organized and incurred Hitler's wrath and persecution. But when his pastors were expelled and imprisoned the German housewives and young people and old men took over the pulpits and carried on the work of the church. "There have been many martyrs for the Christian faith," she said in closing, "but the blood of the martyrs is the seed of the church; be faithful in hope, patient in tribulation and faithful unto death."

Other Cooperative officers who attended included Vice-President Hugh Ratcliffe of Ratcliffe Cove, Secretary George Stamey of Pigeon, and Director T. C. Davis of Iron Duff. The dinner was for farmers who had placed pullets for hatching flocks for 1951.

MORE ABOUT Forestry

Three field trips are also on the program for the week. A tour of the Canton plant of the Champion Paper and Fibre Company will acquaint the boys with the use of timber in the manufacture of pulp and paper. At the Biltmore Estate they will observe the harvesting of timber from some of the oldest forest plantations in the United States. And at Lake Logan, they will observe the development of young forest plantations on Champion's extensive holdings there. At the conclusion of the course the boys will be given an examination, and those who show the most proficiency will be awarded prizes. Their stay at Camp Hope this week, however, is not "all work and no play." All the recreational facilities of this popular summer camp have been made available to the entire group of youngsters, and

Many Attend Annual Duke At Junaluska

An address by President Edens of Duke University at the Junaluska Assembly, climaxed the annual Day observance at this center.

Throughout the day Duke and alumnae foregathered for door sports at Lake Junaluska, assembly grounds and golf.

Speaking on the theme "Function of a University Christian Society," President Edens emphasized the importance of a dual system of education in American society.

It is important, he said, to preserve both private and public support of institutions as to the independence of colleges and universities. He said it is only a short step from freedom in education to the "party lines" where education is gone.

"If all education is tax supported, it is easy to fall victim to ever political philosophy current at the time," he added.
