McCoy were riding in a 1946 Ford truck owned and operated by the driver Revis, reported State Highway Patrolman Joe Murrill, while Mrs. Inman, and Mr. Page were riding in a 1935 Pontiac coach driven by Mr. Cooper when the accident occurred.
The officer reported that the Cooper car was going toward Waynesville and the Revis truck was coming from the opposite direction.
He said the auto started to pass another truck in front of it, but then was unable to pull back in line in time as the Revis truck was approaching.
He estimated the damage to each vehicle at approximately $300.
