Dr. Guion Johnson Addresses Woman's Club

Dr. Guion Johnson, first vice-president of the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs and professor of Sociology at the University of North Carolina, addressed the Waynesville Woman's Club in the Assembly Room of the Presbyterian Church, last Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Johnson spoke on "Woman's Responsibility in This Changing World". She urged club women to strive for a better world through year around work in all departments with all members participating and suggested as a goal the philosophy expounded by Will James—to know the facts, to believe in their effectiveness, and to take action.

She stressed the importance of women becoming informed on what is going on in their schools and communities and working for intelligent citizenship responsibility by taking part in community activities.

Dr. Johnson told her audience that the future depends on the part women take in their homes and communities and mothers cannot wait for their children to grow up before they work for peace.

Dr. Johnson was introduced by Mrs. Raymond Lane, international relations chairman of the Woman's Club.

Other special guests at the meeting included Mrs. Carl Killian of Cullowhee, district president of the Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. H. L. Bacon and Mrs. Horace Dehart, president and international relations chairman of the Bryson City Woman's Club; Mrs. Noah Swofford and Mrs. Bruce Morford, president and international relations chairman of the Canton Club; Mrs. Joyce Haynes, international relations chairman of the Clyde Club; Mrs. R. H. Taylor and Mrs. Annie Knox Hoyle, president and international relations chairman of the Cullowhee Club; Mrs. J. A. Warren of Chapel Hill; and a number of local women.

Miss Louise Ballard, president of the Waynesville club, presided and Miss Margaret Johnston was in charge of the program.

Following Dr. Johnson's address, a social hour was held in the dining room of the church.

Mrs. Carl Killian and Miss Louise Ballard presided at the tea table which was centered with a bowl of red and white roses. Mrs. Carl Mundy, Mrs. J. R. Hipps, Mrs. James R. Boyd, and Mrs. Charles Ketner were in charge of refreshments.

Mrs. Robert Cromwell Hall

MRS. HALL is the former Miss Anne Elizabeth Osborne, daughter of Mrs. Robert Johnson Osborne and the late Mr. Osborne. Her wedding took place in Grace Episcopal Church on Saturday afternoon.

Elizabeth Anne Osborne Weds Robert Cromwell Hall

Miss Elizabeth Anne Osborne, daughter of Mrs. Robert Johnston Osborne and the late Mr. Osborne, was married to Robert Cromwell Hall, son of Mrs. David M. Hall and the late Mr. Hall of Sylva, in a ceremony at Grace Episcopal Church, Saturday afternoon, at four o'clock.

The Rev. Edgar H. Goold, rector of the church, pronounced the vows.

The altar was decorated with fern balls and altar vases holding white chrysanthemums. White altar candles were also used.

Prior to the ceremony, Robert Campbell, organist, presented a program of wedding music which included "Ave Maria," by Gounod, "Panis Angelicus," Schubert's "Ave Maria," "Agnus Dei," "Evening Star," from "Tannhauser," and "On Wings of Song."

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Winfred Baker, of Winter Park, Fla. She wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline edged in baby pearls and a bertha of rose point lace. The full skirt ended in a chapel train and her finger-tip veil of French illusion was edged in lace and fell from a Juliet cap of Duchesse lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of starlight roses and tube roses. Her only ornament was a necklace which belonged to her mother.

Mrs. Frank M. Duffey of Chapel Hill was matron of honor and wore a dress of coral tissue faille, designed with bouffant skirt, fitted bodice, and shoulder cape. She wore short mitts of toast nylon tulle and carried an arm bouquet of autumn leaves and shaded bronze chrysanthemums. Her headdress was a coronet of chrysanthemums and tulle.

Miss Mary Osborne, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was identical to that of the matron and she wore similar short mitts and coronet. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of blending Fugi chrysanthemums.

Miss Lela Moore Hall, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. She wore a dress similar to that of the other attendants and carried an arm bouquet of autumn leaves and bronze chrysanthemums.

Judge Dan K. Moore of Sylva, uncle of the bride-groom, was best man and ushers were C. N. Dowdle of Franklin, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, James C. Cannon, Jr., of Dillsboro, Frederick A. Love of Raleigh, and Zebulon D. Alley.

Mrs. Osborne wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of peacock blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of yellow cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Hall, mother of the bridegroom, wore a dress of black crepe with lace bodice over blush taffeta and her corsage was of rose-colored cymbidium orchids.

Immediately after the ceremony the mother of the bride entertained with a reception at her home on Church Street.

The bride's table was covered with an Italian mosaic cloth and held a three-tiered wedding cake. Silver candelabra holding white tapers, ivy, and tube roses completed the decorations.

Mrs. Hugh A. Love, Mrs. S. H. Bushnell and Mrs. Dan K. Moore received at the front entrance and Miss Linda Sloan and Miss Edith Moore of Sylva were in charge of the bride's book.

Others assisting were Mrs. Robert Breese, Mrs. C. N. Dowdle, Mrs. W. W. Baker, Mrs. Allan McLean, Mrs. John P. Taylor, Mrs. T. A. Frazier, Miss Mary Lu Elwood, Miss Helen Ray, Miss Martha Councill, and Mrs. David Hall, Jr.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip and upon their return will be at home at 119 Johnson Hill, Waynesville. For traveling the bride wore a suit of brown and gold wool with gold blouse and brown accessories.

Mrs. Hall attended the Waynesville High School, the Florida State College for Women, and was graduated from the University of North Carolina. She also did post graduate study in the Department of Zoology at the University after which she held a position as field representative for the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society. During the past year she was employed in the Seibel Memorial Laboratory at Duke University Medical School. She is the granddaughter of the late Dr. J. F. Abel and Mrs. Abel of Waynesville and the late Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Graves Osborne of Clyde.

Mr. Hall attended Sylva High School, the University of North Carolina, and received the Bachelor of Arts Degree from Western Carolina Teachers College. He was listed in Whos' Who In American Colleges and Universities and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity. He served two and one-half years with the Navy during World War II and for the past several months has been associated with Radio Station WHCC as program director. He is now employed as probation councelor for Haywood County. He is the grandson of the late Judge Frederick and Lela Enloe Moore of Asheville and Mrs. Hannah McKee Hall of Cullowhee and the late Lucius Coleman Hall of Webster.

Gray of Roanoke, Virginia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Gray, also of Roanoke, in the home of the bride's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Massie, Friday afternoon at 6 o'clock.

The Rev. J. E. Yountz, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of a small group of relatives and close friends.

The vows were spoken before an improvised altar decorated with floor standards of white gladioli.

The couple entered the room together and were unattended. The bride wore an aqua suit with white accessories and carried a prayer book topped with a bouquet of tube roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Rich, mother of the bride, wore a beige suit with green accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore green silk with black accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

An informal reception was held immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by white flowers and white candles in silver holders.

Mrs. Ida A. Upson of Balsam, grandmother of the bride, assisted in receiving.

Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip and upon their return will reside in Roanoke.

Mrs. Gray received her education in the schools at Daytona.

Mr. Gray, who has just completed four years of service with the Air Force in Alaska, will enter Viaude College in Roanoke, preparatory to studying engineering at the University of Minnesota.
