

Clyde Churches To Hold Thanksgiving Service Nov. 22

A special Thanksgiving Day service will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday by the Methodist and Baptist Churches of Clyde.

The service will be held at the Clyde Baptist Church. The announcement was made jointly today by the Rev. D. D. Gross, pastor of the Baptist church, and the Rev. W. T. Medlin, pastor of Clyde's Central Methodist Church.

The Rev. Asmond L. Maxwell, pastor of the Morning Star Methodist Church of Canton, will be the principal speaker.

The sponsoring churches extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

19 Queens Entered In 1950 Festival

Nineteen communities had named representatives through Tuesday for the contest for queen of the 1950 Tobacco Harvest Festival.

Assistant County Agent Turner Cathey said today possibly more communities probably would announce their selections later.

The queen's court will be named Friday night, and the queen selected and crowned Saturday night at the Waynesville Armory.

The girls will be presented formally on Thursday night at the Festival Ball, also scheduled for the Armory.

On Wednesday night, they will participate in the feature, "March Of The Times".

The community queens also will ride their community floats in the Festival parade on Friday afternoon.

The girls selected to date: Upper Crabtree—Barbara Best; South Clyde—Ernestine Osborne; Iron Duff—Roxie Ann Crawford; Fines Creek—Regina Ferguson; Francis Cove—Mary Lou Ferguson; Rattle Creek—Betty Felmet; Thickety—Elizabeth Medford; White Oak—Lucy James; East Pigeon—Patsy Deaver; Beaverdam—Audrey Limer; Lower Crabtree—Margaret Noland; Stamey Cove—Mary Francis Allen; Hominy—Mary Catherine Wood; Jonathan Creek—Frances Shelton; Saunook—Mary Sue Sparks; Center Pigeon—Lyda West; Cruso—Burdell Gorrell; West Pigeon—Peggy Peck, and Jewell Rhinehart, North Clyde.

Festival Parade To Be Colorful

A colorful parade containing up to 50 gaily decorated floats will feature the Haywood County Harvest Festival program for Friday afternoon.

State and national officials are scheduled to ride in the procession, which will start at 2 P. M.

County Agent Wayne Corpening said invitations had been extended to Gov. Kerr Scott, U. S. Senator Clyde R. Hoey, U. S. Rep. Monroe M. Redden, and state Treasurer Brandon Hodges, among others, to appear here.

His office was awaiting confirmation soon.

Twenty-five floats are expected to be entered by the rural communities, and the others by merchants, industry, businessmen, local institutions, and civic organizations.

Four bands also will march—the Waynesville High School Junior and senior, Mars Hill Junior College, and the Canton High School units.

Making the arrangements are the parade committee of Chairman Jerry Rogers, Johnny Edwards, W. M. Cobb, Felix Stovall, Rufus Sumnerrow, State Highway Patrol Cpl.

Pritchard Smith, and Hazelwood Police Chief Ossie L. Sutton.

Charles Isley, band director of Waynesville Township High School, is chairman of the band committee for the festival.

Working with him are Robert A. Campbell, associate band director at Waynesville Township High School; E. N. Troutman, director of the Canton High School band, R. Munch, W. A. Bradley, and W. H. Massie.

The committee in charge of the commercial floats includes Chairman Joe S. Davis, Hallett Ward, Ben Phillips, Ott Ledbetter, and Francis Massie.

In charge of the community floats is the committee of Mrs. C. O. Newell, chairman; Miss Mary Cornwell, Wayne Franklin, C. D. Ketter, and T. A. Cathey.

The vehicles and people in the parade will assemble on Brown Avenue at Waynesville Township High School, facing toward Hazelwood.

Floats and other entries will enter Brown Avenue to the assembly point from Boyd Avenue and side streets—but not from the direction of Hazelwood.

This precaution is taken to prevent the blocking of traffic.

Short addresses by the officials in the parade will be given at the Court House where the procession will end.

Hazelwood P-TA To Sponsor Benefit Show

The Hazelwood Parent-Teachers Association will present a musical variety show next month to raise money for playground equipment for the Hazelwood Elementary School.

"It's a Date" featuring a cast of more than 100 local grownups and children and ten scenes, will be presented December 8 and 9.

The first performance is scheduled for the Hazelwood School auditorium December 8, and the second, December 9, for the auditorium of Waynesville Township High School.

Miss Dorothy Edge of Atlanta, Ga., directing the production for the P-TA, said today that rehearsals would get underway immediately.

Handling arrangements for the sponsoring organization is Mrs. Whitener Prevost.

In connection with the show, a baby contest will be staged for youngsters up to the age of six.

The winner will be decided by the vote of the general public, with a penny counting as a ballot.

The contest will crown a king, a queen, prince, princess, duke, and duchess.

The boy and girl chosen for the top honors will be crowned and presented with silver loving cups during the Christmas scene of the show.

Prizes also will be awarded to the other children finishing in the top places.

The admission will cost adults 75 cents each, children 35 cents.

"I Was So Nervous I Broke My Dishes, Scalf's Gave Relief"

Mrs. William McLain, Route II, Greeneville, Tenn., writes: "For 15 years I suffered spells of gaseous stomach misery which were so severe I could not lie down on account of difficult breathing and sharp pains. This stomach condition seemed to cause severe nervous headaches, lasting for days, and often I was so nervous I dropped my dishes and broke them. Scalf's Indian River Medicine gave prompt relief. I feel like a different person now. My breathing is so much better since relieved of gas pressure that I can walk with ease. I am recommending Scalf's Indian River Medicine to my friends."
