Plott, widow of the late Robert Henry Plott and one of Haywood's oldest citizens, reached her ninety-sixth birthday February 15 and the occasion was celebrated with a dinner given the following Sunday by her children. Despite her age she was able to be escorted to the table and view the beautiful birthday cake and the sumptuous feast prepared for the occasion. Among those attending included: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Plott, and grandson, Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Plott; Miss Minnie R. Plott; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Plott; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Plott; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Moody.

In the afternoon a delegation from the Dellwood Baptist church, of which Mrs. Plott is the oldest member, called and brought her some flowers.

Many other friends called during the afternoon.

Mrs. Plott, the former Mattie L. Moody was born and reared in Haywood county. She is the daughter of the late James L. and Nancy Henry Moody, a granddaughter of Reuben Moody, a pioneer citizen of Haywood county, also of Malcolm Henry who was elected to the North Carolina Legislature in 1808 and while serving in that capacity assisted in framing the bill passed that year creating Haywood county from Buncombe.

Captain John Henry who distinguished himself at the battles of King's Mountain, Cowpens and other places during the Revolutionary War is her great grandfather.

Mrs. Plott was married to Mr. Plott January 2, 1873. They had eleven children, six of whom survive. She has resided continuously at the Plott home on Soco Gap Road, never having left the state but once when she and her husband visited a daughter in Atlanta and attended the Confederate Reunion and the Southeastern Fair in the fall of 1919.

Haywood Summer Resident Publishes Another Book

Another warm-hearted story of the problems of a parson is Sara Jenkins' latest book, "The Brand New Parson," off the press today. Residents of the community will remember the interest caused by her "autograph party" last summer, shortly after publication of "The Lost Lamp". As a long-time summer resident of Lake Junaluska, Miss Jenkins is remembered by many who have watched her growing up and maturing into a writer of delightful, down-to-earth fiction.
