

News Of W. Pigeon Community

MRS. HORACE PEEK
Mountaineer Reporter

The Bloodmobile will be at the Bethel School, Saturday, April 7. Some West Pigeon donors will be taken at 8:40 to 8 o'clock in the morning and from 12:40 until 1 o'clock in the afternoon and others during the day. People of the Pigeon Community are asked to give blood and save a life—perhaps the life of one of the boys from this community. Those who have not been asked to give blood and will give, may see or contact any officer of the community Development Program.

Mrs. Devere Hardin was hostess for the Missionary Society of the Bethel Baptist Church Thursday afternoon. Those attending and taking part on the program were Mrs. J. Ruff Harden, Mrs. Calvin Bissett, Mrs. Raymond Duckett, Mrs. Bob Satterfield, Mrs. John Harden, Mrs. Ralph Riddle, Mrs. A. T. Medford, Mrs. Frank Ammons, Mrs. James E. Sisk, Mrs. Margaret Cole, Mrs. Hollie Newsome, Mrs. Noble White, Mrs. Horace Peek, and Mrs. Hardin.

Mrs. Hollie Newsome presented the Society with a quilt top and plans were made to hold a quilting soon after the close of the revival now in progress.

Slumber parties seem to be popular these days but "slumberless parties" would be a better name according to the girls entertained by Martha Ann Russell on her birthday. The guests were Peggy Ann Peek, Mary June Riddle, Patsy McCracken, Jean Kelly, Doris Rollins, Reba Frady, Emily Michal and Theresa Wright. A theater party was enjoyed by the group after supper.

Watch the thermometers in each store window. They are Bethel Cemetery fund charts and will show at a glance how the money is coming in. The mercury must climb high. You can make it hot by getting donations. Funds must be turned over to Mrs. Edith Cathey Howell or any member of the committee.

Show your Mountaineer to your neighbor if he does not take it and encourage him to subscribe when your reporter comes around. A special effort is being made to contact each home.

Mrs. Jack Sloan, who has been ill, is able to return to her work in the R. E. A. office.

Mrs. Major Burress, who has been ill for sometime, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sisk have recently landscaped their yard and sowed grass.

The Bethel girls basketball team brought home the best sportsmanship award from the Enka tournament last week. The same award trophy was won by the team at the Gold tournament at Canton recently. Doris Hyatt made all-tourney at Enka and at Canton.

The Rev. Raymond Gomes of Baltimore is the visiting minister at Bethel Baptist Church and is conducting revival services. The church is one of the 32 Haywood Baptist churches taking part in the Southwide Evangelistic Crusade.

A number of young people from the Bethel Baptist Church attended the Haywood Youth Rally held at the First Baptist Church in Canton Friday night. The Rev. J. Chapman, pastor, spoke on "The Value of Youth."

Some of the college students who were home for Easter were Eugenia Justice, who visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Justice, and Joe Jack Wells from Brevard College, who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wells.

Mrs. David Edwards entertained her Sunday School class at her home on Edwards Cove Road Saturday afternoon.

Visitors at the Methodist Church for Easter services were Mrs. Willard Hawkins and daughter, Becky, of Candler, and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Burress of West Asheville.

Visitors at the Baptist Church were Miss Ann Wells, Miss Norma York, Mrs. Edith White, Mrs. Troy

Danish Sandwiches Are Tops

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

COPENHAGEN — Denmark has it all over American kitchens when it comes to sandwiches. The old U. S. A. home and drugstore standbys pale by comparison with the Open Sandwiches that are standard noontime fare in Danish cities.

SANDWICHES, DANISH STYLE . . . A student at the Domestic Servants' Training School in Copenhagen holds a tray of "Smorrebrod", or open-faced sandwiches.

In America you face two thick slices of bread and hunt for the filling; in Denmark you feast on the filling and hunt for the bread. Open Sandwiches (called Smorrebrod) are thin slices of Denmark's unique rye bread topped with delectable combinations of various foods.

At the Domestic Servants' Training School—an independent institution where girls from all over Denmark learn how to keep house, cook, serve, and care for children—pupils prepared wonderful trays of Open Sandwiches for nine visiting American food editors. Here are samples of what I saw and tasted that you can try in your own kitchen:

Rye bread (always thin) spread with butter or bacon drippings and topped with bacon slices, steamed apple rings, and thin, crisp strips of fried onion.

Scrambled egg topped with salmon or marinated herring or smoked eel, capers, and finely grated fresh horseradish or regular radish.

Cold cuts centered with cooked peas and carrots and mayonnaise.

For cold cuts the Danes often use a delicious corned pork rolled around finely chopped herbs.

Round slices of hard-cooked egg topped with special Danish herring, capers, and finely grated fresh horseradish.

Vegetable salad topped with a delicious shrimp found only in Denmark. The shrimp is minia-ture size, each one about as big as your fingernail. The shelling of these shrimp is a labor of gastronomic love, but some day we may see them quick-frozen and packed for American consumption.

Danes never eat dessert after their noontime open sandwiches. They just eat more open sandwiches—this time all topped with cheese. The cheese may be any one of the wonderful varieties found here—Danish blue, a mild cheese like our "farmer" cheese sprinkled with caraway, Danish camembert, Danish brie, or a unique cheese called Sambøe that's a cross between cheddar and swiss. The cheese goes on thin slices of white bread, or for fancier fare on rounds or oblongs of the kind of butter pastry that melts in your mouth.

Ammons, Billy and Betty Ammons.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Wells have added a new bath to their home.

Mrs. Cleve Sisk spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Palmer, who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wieser Schout have moved into the Jethro home on Edwards Cove Road.

Mrs. Jessie Rickman is having a new barn built.

Mrs. T. H. Singleton is spending a few days with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Welch Singleton.

Father And Son Combo

NEW YORK — (AP) — Howard Wakefield led the Three I League in batting twice. In 1914 he hit .347 for Springfield. In 1916 he hit .352 for Rockford. His son, Dick, now with the Oakland Club in the Pacific Coast League, topped the Texas League in 1942 with .342 for Beaumont. That performance won him promotion to the major leagues with the Detroit Tigers.
