Helping the Nation

get things done

for 75 years

This year is the telephone's seventy-fifth and busiest birthday.

What began as a line between two rooms in a Boston attic in 1876 has developed, in one lifetime, into a Long Distance network that covers the Nation — and extends to most of the world's telephones. This great system has grown in answer to the needs of a people. And it's a good thing it has. In these threatening times, the Long Distance lines that bind this country together are more vital than ever. For today they are helping to speed production and guard the Nation's security — jobs that call for nothing less than the best telephone service in the world. — Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company.

To help speed your Long Distance call, please give the operator the out-of-town telephone number. Telephone lines are busy with national defense.
