Honesty Leads Virtues

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — Honesty leads as the top virtue in a poll taken among 5,000 Americans. This word comes from Dr. Russell V. DeLong, Dean of the Nazarene Theological Seminary here. He set out three years ago to find what Americans in all age and class groups regarded as the leading character traits.

Honesty led the list. Then followed in this order: Dependability, courage, sincerity, unselfishness, humility and forgiveness. The next seven were purity, reverence, faithfulness, self-control, loyalty, patience and ambition.

His questionnaires listing 61 character traits, were sent to educators, prominent businessmen, congressmen, athletic coaches, service and civic club leaders, ministers, students, judges, actors, scientists and columnists. Dr. DeLong said he had totaled the groups separately as well as collectively and "the surprising thing is that all groups are almost in complete agreement with a very little shift in traits and surprisingly little change in position."
