Large Group Took Part In Hereford Tour Thursday

The annual Haywood County Hereford Tour was held Thursday with over 300 people attending. The tour is sponsored by the Haywood County Hereford Breeders Association, of which M. O. Galloway is president.

The first stop was at Walnut Knoll Farm, owned by Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Reeves, in Beaverdam Community. Some outstanding polled Hereford cattle were observed there. Sam Buchanan, Extension Beef Cattle Specialist from State College, discussed the importance of good pastures, and commented on the outstanding growth the animals at Walnut Knoll had for their age.

Refreshments were served, after which the tour moved on to the farm of Mr. and Mrs. George Stamey in Pigeon Township. Mr. Stamey told of his program in which Hereford females and outstanding bulls were used.

The 100 car caravan, which was led by Patrolman Joe Murrill, stopped next at the Rocky Lane Farm owned by Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Cline. Here some outstanding polled Herefords were seen, and a talk by Ray Haynes, one of the polled Hereford breeders in the county, was given on the history of polled breeding at the farm. Lemonade was served by Dr. and Mrs. Cline.

Graceland Farms, owned by Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Galloway, was host for a picnic lunch. A tour of the farm was made after lunch, and an outstanding Hereford bull was seen as well as some of the calves he had sired.

The next event was a fitting and showing demonstration, after which a judging school was conducted with five classes of animals being judged unofficially by people on the tour and officially by selected judges. The first class was owned by 4-H Club members, Neal Stamey, Bobbie Jo McClure, R. E. Cathey, and Aleen Williams. The hat was passed among the crowd and five dollars awarded to the members.

The tour ended with a watermelon feast at Graceland Farm, at which the First National Bank of Waynesville was host.

Sophomore George Scaling led his University of Texas teammates in the classroom as well as in conference basketball scoring. He made four A's and one B last semester.

Professional Men Take Interest In Hereford Tour

Tubeless Tires Four Years Old

Remember all those "miracle" products promised during World War II for use after the war?

Well, at least one of those promises has come true to benefit American motorists.

Tubeless tires, unknown before the war, have since carried Americans nearly seven billion blowout-protected miles. That's like making 140 round trips between Earth and Mars.

Locally observing the fourth anniversary of the revolutionary puncture-sealing, tubeless tire, Claude Woodard of Charlie's Texaco Service, said that "tubeless tires are now on more than 200,000 cars and the number is increasing daily."

"In terms of trouble-free driving, the tubeless tire is already changing the American motoring scene. Last year, for the first time in history, tires were not the number one cause of breakdowns on the highway."

ed on their television screen, on a filmed program while he was at home. Jody said she now seemed to have two fathers. "I like this daddy best," she said, turning to the one in the flesh.

Billy, five months old, was born five months after Barbara finished "Jackpot."

Holding Billy and besieged by Jody, Miss Hale asked whether this home atmosphere would be good publicity. She wailed in mock alarm: "Women will say, 'She doesn't have to be an actress to play those mother roles. She just does the same things on the screen that she does at home!'"

Beaverdam CDP Holds Regular Monthly Meeting

MRS. GEORGE F. WORLEY

Beaverdam Community Development Program met Tuesday night at the Beaverdam school for their regular monthly meeting. Jack Chapman spoke and William Driver gave a prayer.

Community residents were asked to meet at the school Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and to bring dinner. An interesting program and a number of contests are planned for the day.

Beaverdam's visit to Ratcliffe Cove has been postponed until September 15.

The congregation of Long's Branch Church, with their pastor, the Rev. Walton Wise, are helping with the revival services which are going into the third week at Beaverdam Baptist Church. Coleman Brown and Pete Hicks are in charge of the revival, which has proven to be one of the best in this community for years. There have been 71 conversions.

From now on the meeting will be held in Willie Mann's big barn left, as the old church is being torn down and the new one is not completed. Sunday at 2:30 p.m. there will be a baptism in the creek near the Mann barn. Everyone is welcome to attend.

There has been great cooperation among the churches of the community, with Baptist and Methodist working together.

Miss Betty Rice, who has been visiting home folks, left Wednesday to return to Kansas City, Mo., where she has been attending college.

Mrs. Richard Davis, who has been ill for some time, is much improved.

Troy Davis is improving after an operation at Victoria Hospital, Asheville.

Miss Ruby Harbin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harbin, and Miss Rebecca Horton of Gastonia visited relatives here during the week end. They made a tour through the Champion plant and Saturday night they attended the drama at Cherokee. They were accompanied by the Misses Eva Jane and Georgie Worley.

Champion To Hold Five-Year Party

Around 500 of the 776 employees of the Canton Division of the Champion Paper and Fibre Co. who have worked for the company from five to nine years, will hold their eleventh annual meeting on Thursday at Camp Hope.

Brief talks will be given by Reuben B. Robertson, president of Champion; H. A. Helder, Division manager; Harry Holland, representing the employees, and Tull Jamison, retired Champion humorist.

Recreation will begin at 4 p. m., and a barbecue supper will be served at 6:30. The evening program will feature Arthur Smith and his Crackerjacks.

Easy crust for a lemon chiffon pie is made by crushing 32 vanilla wafers and mixing with a quarter cup of soft butter or margarine and a quarter cup of sugar; press into an eight-inch pie plate and bake in a moderately hot oven for eight minutes. Cool before adding filling.

For a wonderful sauce for ice cream add a little extra sugar to the syrup from canned black cherries and thicken with cornstarch, flavor with rum extract and serve with the cherries.
