Mrs. Hanger, runner-up of the Clyde show, was also winner of the first place in the tri-color award. She is shown here framed. Some of the hundreds of exhibits are in the background. (Staff Photo).

Accident Insurance Again To Be Offered Students

Announced today by Superintendent Lucy T. Jones of the Haywood County School system, a new child accident insurance program similar to that carried on by the County schools this year will be offered to the children of the County schools this year.

The program proved to be a success which exceeded expectations. The insurance program in payment of claims for injuries sustained in school accidents is estimated to have cost approximately $100,000 to pay for the treatment rendered. It was explained that while the program is a part of the education and the schools have no legal connection with accidents, the program has the support of the P.T.A., the school board, the principals and the teachers, but the most enthusiastic praise comes from those who were unfortunate enough to sustain injuries during the past school year.

Mrs. Jones describes the policy as one ideal for school children. The coverage goes into force one hour before school takes in. The bus riding student is protected while riding the school bus and also if run down, struck or run over by any moving vehicle while crossing the highway to or from the school bus. The walking student is insured for any injury sustained as the result of being run down, struck or run over while walking between home and school. The coverage remains in force throughout the regular school day and allows one hour, from the time the student is dismissed, for the trip from school to home. It gives complete protection for any type of accident occurring on the school grounds or within the school building.

Even though the general coverage of the policy terminates one hour after the student is dismissed, special provisions are made for those who participate in the school athletic program. Any injury sustained while practicing for or playing in a school sponsored athletic contest is fully covered. Also the athlete is protected while traveling as a member of an athletic team if the vehicle in which he is riding is under school supervision.

While none of the school child accident insurance program will cover social events such as school parties, dances and picnics, this particular one does have special provisions to take care of the older students who occasionally make school sponsored bus trips to and from points of educational interest. These students are protected while actually riding within such a bus. The bus can be a chartered bus or a school bus.

The new policy has a $500.00 medical expense allowance. Mrs. Jones explained that when a student is injured under the coverage of the policy all medical expense up to $500.00 are paid. This takes care of such things as bills from the doctor, dentist, hospital, registered nurse, etc. Also fees as those charged for X-rays, operating room, anesthetics, laboratory supplies, etc.
