JUST SPRINKLING COMMON SENSE

Anyone From Texas?

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — You'd think half of the GIs in the European Command are from Kansas when General Eisenhower makes a troop inspection.

When trooping the line, Kansas-born Ike stops here and there to chat with the soldiers. Invariably, or so it seems, every time he asks a soldier where he's from, the reply is: "Kansas, sir." And the General smiles broadly and says "I'm from Kansas, too."

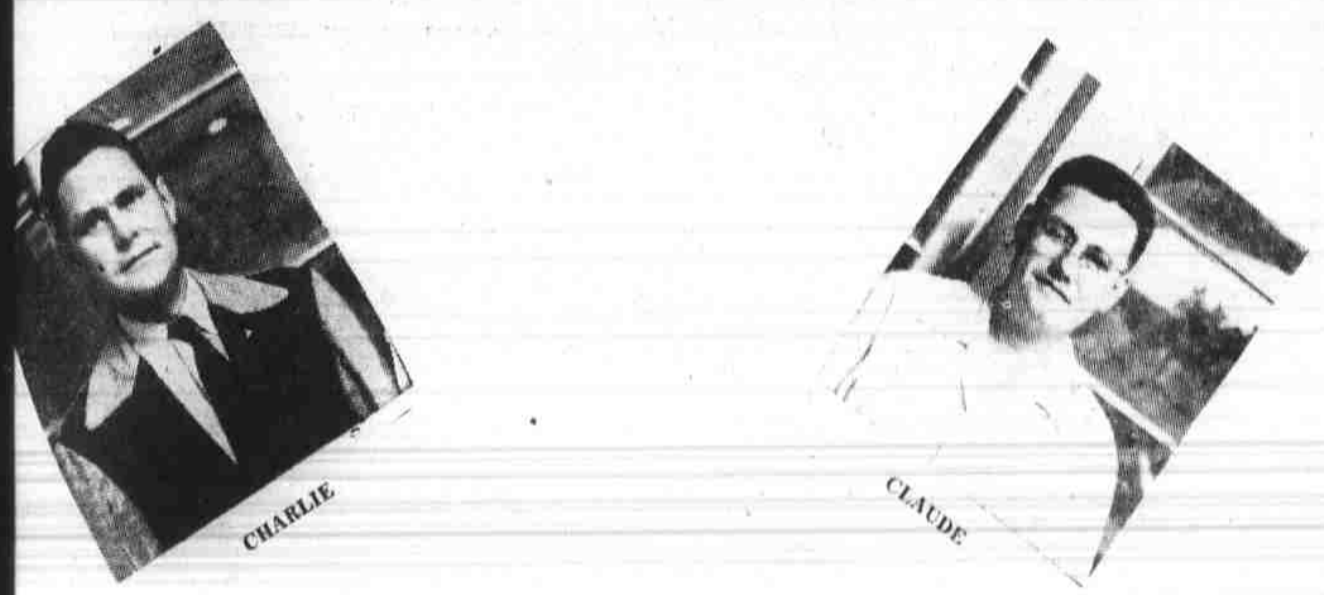

It's not always an accident that the soldier happens to be from Kansas. When some commanding officers get the word that the General is on his way for an inspection the personnel files are hastily scanned for the names of Kansans. Then the natives of the "sunflower" state are placed at "strategic" positions along the line and odds then are, that when Eisenhower stops to talk with a soldier the soldier is a Kansan.

General Eisenhower probably isn't fooled by it at all, but he enjoys it.
