Best Seller Gets Ninth Revision

UNCLE SAM'S "Infant Care," the 20th edition which has served as a guide for mothers all over the world, has been revised for the ninth time. The 1951 edition, like its predecessors, is an attempt by the Children's Bureau to bring together the "best known and most widely accepted modern ideas about what is good for children from birth to their first birthday." Doctors, nurses, psychiatrists, nutritionists, social workers and parents were consulted in its preparation.

How attitudes have changed is reflected in the advice given today as compared with advice given in the 1914 edition on thumb-sucking. In 1914 mothers were advised to pin the sleeve of the baby's jacket over the "fingers of the offending hand for several days and nights" to stop the habit. The new edition says "sucking is the first way a baby gets pleasure. Sucking is a poor substitute for being held, or talked to, or fed; but it is better than nothing."

The thinking is also reversed on picking up the baby. The new edition says: "About the first way you can be of use to your baby is by holding him closely and warmly." It advises you to "hold him all you like."

The 1914 edition advised parents to feed their infants at regular three-hour intervals. The new edition says that it is wise to let a baby have the chance to develop "a feeding rhythm of his own."

The new edition, written in simple, folksy style, takes up new theories on toilet-training, self-feeding, clothing and baby-sitting and recommends that mothers take "time off."

Two Waynesville Men Return To U.S. From Korea

After operating more than six months in Korean waters, two Waynesville men, Luther J. Gentry, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gentry of Cove Creek, and James D. Crawford, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Crawford of Waynesville, recently arrived in the United States aboard the aircraft carrier USS Boxer.

Since arriving in the Far East in March, the Boxer's airgroup, which consists of seven squadrons have made more than 7,000 strikes against North Korean targets.

In addition to flying air strikes against the Communist, 90 per cent of the Boxer's crew contributed to the Armed Forces whole-blood drive, before the ship left Korean waters.
