American League All Stars

Manager Casey Stengel of the American League All-Stars has chosen, to no one's surprise, Bobby Shantz, the little left hander from Philadelphia, as a starting pitcher on his team, which will include such baseball luminaries as Phil Rizzuto, Dom DiMaggio, Al Rosen, and Yogi Berra.

Shantz now has a 13-2 record, the most wins in either league. He's rated a "control" man, and should provide spectators with some first-class pitching. Along with Shantz, Stengel picked Satchel Paige, the ageless and colorful Negro with the St. Louis Browns, Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds, Mike Garcia and Bib Lemon. Notable absentee from the line-up is Bob Feller of Cleveland, who made his last appearance in the classic in 1950. Feller has made five appearances in all, starting in 1939. He received credit for just one victory in 1946. And that was the year that saw the Americans roll up the largest win margin that has ever been recorded, 12-0.

So far, in the 18 games played to date, the Americans have won 12 and dropped 6, and are likely to be favored in the game coming up. Including last year's affair the game has attracted 733,366 fans, with the biggest year way back in 1935 when 70,000 showed up in Cleveland and saw Paul Derringer and Dizzy Dean lose to Lefty Gomez.

Back to this year's squad. The starting line-up will include, aside from Shantz, in the event he gets the starting pitching assignment, Phil Rizzuto, Al Rosen, Dale Mitchell, Dom DiMaggio, Hank Bauer, Eddie Robinson, Yogi Berra and Bobby Avila. That's quite a line-up that Stengel has to work with, and with the hitting power he has in Rosen, Berra, DiMaggio and Bauer, he should win.

So far as teams go, the Indians led with seven representatives, followed by the Yankees with six, the White Sox and Athletics with three each, Red Sox and Senators with two each, and the Tigers and Browns with one each.

DiMaggio, who will be making his fifth appearance, is the "Dean" of the squad. Eight players will be making their first appearance on the team: Mike Garcia, Bobby Avila, Al Rosen, Hank Bauer, Mickey Mantle, Eddie Yost, Satchel Paige, and Jackie Jensen.

Marble Champ

George Andrews (left), a 13-year-old seventh grader from Durham, won the Veterans of Foreign Wars national marbles tournament at Durham. He is shaking hands with Arthur Rippey of the V.F.W. The youngster came through the tournament without suffering a defeat. He was awarded a motor bike and a handsome trophy. The tournament drew a total of 44 players from 36 states. Each branch of the armed forces also was represented in the tournament. Andrews represented the Army. (AP photo).

Smiling Winners Receive Prizes

George Fazio, left, Sam Snead, center, and Bill Ford, all smile happily as they accept checks and a trophy for winning first places in the Greenbrier Tournament this year. Snead won $1,800 as first place money in the pro competition, while Fazio and young Ford teamed up to take the pro-am end of it. Christopher Dunphy, tournament chairman, looks on.

A Parting Of The Ways

Rider and mount come to a parting of the ways when this jackass, one from the stables of the Buckeye Baseball Club, got tired of running too many bases. There'll be two donkey baseball games on tap Friday when the Hazelwood Boosters Club meets the Hazelwood Fire Department and the Kiwanis and Jaycees back off and butt heads with each other. The games are part of the annual 4th of July celebration on the Waynesville High School field.

Haywood Legion

Team Tops Macon 20-1 On Monday

The Haywood Junior Legion baseball team moved one notch closer to a first place tie with Buncombe Monday night when they clubbed out 17 hits for a 20-1 victory over a hapless Macon team.

Haywood now has a 9-2 record with one game to play. Buncombe has finished its regular play and is sporting a 10-2 record. The two losses on both teams came at the hands of one another. Both teams will enter the area playoffs regardless of who wins first place. It is quite likely that a playoff game will be scheduled so that a clear cut winner will be produced.

In Monday's affair Charlie Carpenter allowed but 4 hits, all singles. The locals collected, among their 17, five doubles and a triple. Jimmy Frady produced the triple, and Bobby Jenkins, Joel Burrell, Bobby Kuykendall, Tom Coghill and Wilburn Davis contributed doubles.

a series of athletic contests would be staged during the day, with prizes, medals and a trophy to be given by the Terrace Hotel.

Ground fees will be eliminated for that day for those planning to spend the day at the Lake. Picnic facilities will be provided for those wanting to bring their own lunch.

The special event of the day will be the christening of CHEROKEE II, the new excursion boat recently completed. The event is scheduled for 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the evening a revival service will be held in connection with the Candler Camp Meeting, a regular part of the Lake's summer program.

Following the services the annual fireworks display will be staged.

Saturday at one o'clock there will be another Little League baseball game, this time on the Hazelwood field. And at 2:30 there will be an American Legion Junior baseball game, the first to be held in Waynesville this year. The Haywood entry, currently sporting a 7-2 record, will meet the Buncombe team, league leaders, in an exhibition match which should prove to be a natural for interest. The teams have met four times previously this year, both winning two and losing two. The game will be played on the Waynesville field.

At 8 o'clock Saturday night the celebration will draw to a close with an old-fashioned "all-night singing convention." All quartets, trios, duos, individuals and anyone with a desire to sing has been invited to participate. The Boosters Club has invited anyone from Western North Carolina to meet on the Waynesville field to enjoy and enter the singing.

Bides on Saturday will be open from 3 o'clock until midnight.

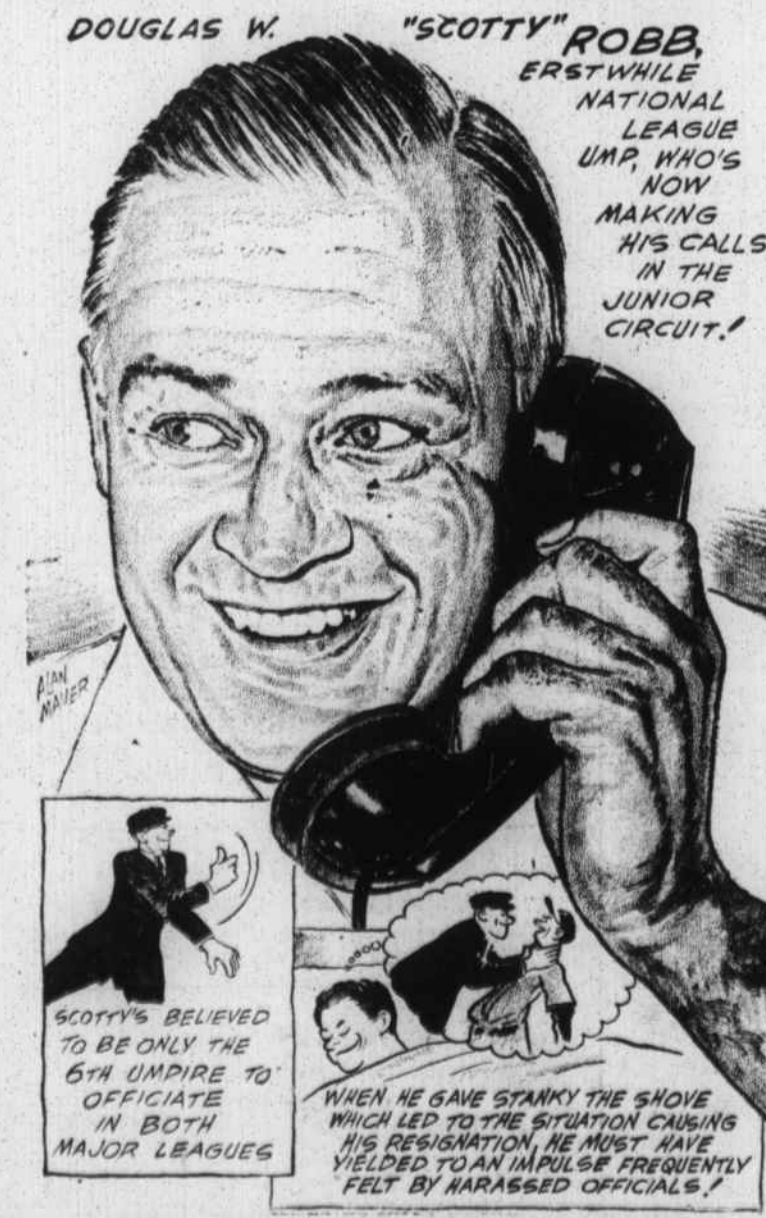

NEW YORK—(AP)—Henry Wittenberg, the eight-time National AAU wrestling champ and winner of the 1948 Olympic light heavy-weight wrestling crown, began his career as a member of the chess team at CCNY. Later he switched to the college's wrestling team. Wittenberg is now a detective-sergeant on the New York City police force.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Phil Carveretta, manager of the Chicago Cubs and his coach Roy Johnson tag Brooklyn's Billy Loes and Pittsburgh's Tony Bartirone as the best looking rookie prospects in the National League.

Said Carveretta of the 22-year-old Loes, a right handed pitcher: "He's a kid with everything and I do mean everything—speed, a good curve and excellent change of pace."

After watching young Bartirone play first base for the Pirates, Coach Johnson claimed: "Somebody better check his glove because they are bound to find some fly paper in it. He's got to carry something like that to hold those low throws and line drives the way he digs 'em out of the dirt."

ed following his elimination in the Congressional race.

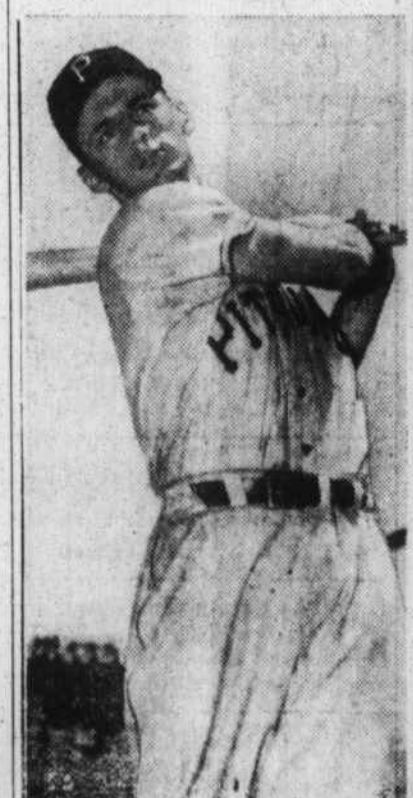

Rumors have been consistent that Thrash would be renamed to his former office and the announcement has created no great stir.

The Governor advised Thrash of his reappointment before he left last week for Houston, Tex., where he is attending the National Governors Conference. Scott's letter was released by his office yesterday. In it, the Governor said that "I know of your reluctance to taking this work again, but since we have such a short time to go... I feel that you would be more effective than anyone else at this time."

Scarcity of All-Round Athletes

MORGANTON, W. Va.—(AP)—The day of the all-around athlete is fast fading at West Virginia University. Aside from five varsity performers who lettered in the similar sports of cross country and track, only three athletes won letters in as many as two sports this year.

Groat figured in the rebuilding program that Branch Rickey has been promising Pittsburgh fans since he came from the head office of the Brooklyn Dodgers last year.
