Delights Of The News

Never Can Tell A Fish Will Do

Field of fishing in sports turns up a new way of fishing them. Herman Fie found a way to catch an 11-inch trout on a dry fly.

Another day, about six o'clock, he was in Standing Indian for an hour or so, he began his way back towards his disgust over the poor luck. His line and fly just floated on the water as he started up the stream. It did not work.

Of The Press

Waynesville shopper lost a dress containing a dress she had bought from the Bell's Shop, on Main Street. She had left it in a car.

A Florida visitor picked the dress up on the street, and not knowing what to do, immediately made a copy of the paper with the ad telling of the lost dress.

Company

A certain young lady, who loves flowers, and especially flowers that have a bare spot on a would look better covered vine.

noticed a vine that attracted attention, and since it was on the building, asked an official to get a few roots to plant in her fence.

permission was quickly granted, and the young lady went to day about dark and dug up the vine she wanted. She planted it with tender care and it thrived, turned in early that feeling that she had accomplished a good bit after her office.

next morning her hands showed signs of having little sores, and she began treatment for the sores.

vine she got was not poison with it was entwined the vine three-leaf vine.

she has pulled up the plants, for fear it might start trouble.

physician says she will be all right in a few days.

Highlanders Seeking Information For Series Educational Articles

Expressing appreciation to the Waynesville Mountaineer for their favorable response to the article on the Highlanders spearhead to compile for publication of scenic and other features likely to prove of interest to visitors, and about which the citizens would like to be informed, Bart Leiper, executive vice president of the organization headquarters, voices a request that citizens send in suggestions.

he points out, will fall into brief summaries of scenic mountain views, and other features of many types—such as difficult, natural stands

REA To Stage Open House Of New Place Sat.

American Legion

Douglas T. Worsham was elected and installed as new Commander of the Haywood Post, No. 37, of the American Legion Wednesday evening at its regular meeting. Other officers elected were Willard Francis, Jr., 1st Vice Commander; James H. Howell, Jr., Adjutant; J. B. Siler, Finance Officer; Julius Hoyle, Sergeant-at-Arms; and Robert H. Hall, Chaplain. Col. J. H. Howell, Sr., installed the new officers.

South Clyde Begins New Building

The citizens of South Clyde are expecting one of the largest crowds ever to gather in their community for the breaking of the ground for their new community building. The event has been set for 6 p. m., Wednesday, May 20. Special effort is being made to get every family of the community to attend. After the formal program, a picnic supper will be held on the site.

The plans for the building and its erection started several months ago, and much interest has centered around this CDP project.

Open House To Be Held All Day Saturday, 23rd

The official opening of the new headquarters for the Haywood County Co-operative on the outskirts of Waynesville, will be observed Saturday with an open house.

Visitors will be taken on a tour of the beautiful building between 9:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. by members of the staff. Refreshments will be served in the model kitchen by Home Demonstration Club members.

Those who have had an opportunity to see the interior of the REA building have seen probably the most up-to-date structure of its kind in Haywood County. It is the only completely air-conditioned building and is heated automatically in the winter and cooled the same way during summer months. The change-over is made with the flip of a switch. All offices are large and well lighted. A great deal of window space has been used in the design and artificial lighting is provided by fluorescent tubes built into the ceiling and do not project. The lighting is there, but it's scarcely noticed.

Glass has been used to good advantage in the front of the headquarters and as a result one side of the main lobby is almost completely glassed in.

Furniture and equipment is in keeping with the general design—simple but functional. All personnel use steel desks. In the lobby several chairs and a sofa have been provided for visitors. The heating and cooling ducts are flush with the walls and each door is equipped with a draftless ventilator so even with doors closed a constant circulation of air is maintained. (See REA—Page 8)

Pfc. David Rich Given Honor In Korea

WITH THE 7th INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—The Combat Infantryman Badge for excellent performance of duty under enemy fire in Korea recently was awarded to Pfc. David E. Rich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rich, Maggie, while serving with the 7th Infantry Division.

A symbol of the front-line fighting man, the badge consists of a miniature revolutionary war rifle mounted on blue, with a silver wreath.

Rich, who entered the Army in July, 1952, arrived in Korea in January 1953. He also holds the Korean Service Ribbon with one campaign star.

He attended Maggie School and was engaged in farming before entering the Army.

Offices Are Large, Well Lighted

An informal discussion is held in Manager R. H. Sheffield's large comfortable office with Mrs. J. W. Sloan, head bookkeeper; and D. Doug Davis, right, of Raleigh, a member of the N. C. Utilities Commission. Offices have a large amount of window space and use the latest type fluorescent lighting that is installed flush with the ceilings. (Mountaineer Photo).

2 School Projects Completed

Two more school projects were put into use today, as students and faculty began using the cafeteria and kitchen at Maggie and also at Rock Hill.

Both projects are part of the county-wide school expansion program, and are the third and fourth projects to be completed under the program. Allens Creek and Lake Junaluska were completed earlier.

Mrs. Lucy Boyd, county superintendent, said the use of the Maggie cafeteria and kitchen will actually begin Tuesday, when the first meal is served. There also remains some work to be done on the outside, but this will not interfere with the new units being put into use.

Three major contracts are also underway, as part of the program—a building at Waynesville high, an elementary school at Bethel, and a new Central Elementary school here.

Ground Observer Corps To Get Instruction

The first in a series of instructions for the Ground Observer Corps will be given Friday night, Chairman J. T. Russell has announced.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. at the American Legion Hall and will be conducted by Sgt. Cooper of the Knoxville Air Center.

Revaluation Of County To Be Complete Tuesday

Over 6,000 Copies Of Today's Issue Being Published

More than six thousand copies of today's issue are being printed.

This is just slightly more than last Monday's issue when a 48-page edition for the Hospital opening was published.

According to surveys for newspapers, this issue will be read by almost 30,000 people.

Haywood Now Is 14th Division

In the reshuffle of Highway Divisions recently announced from Raleigh, Haywood County has been changed from the 10th to the new 14th Division and G. G. Page of Asheville was named as division engineer.

Mr. Page was promoted from senior construction engineer. The announcement was made by A. H. Graham, Highway Commissioner.

Slyva has been named as headquarters for the 14th Division which includes, in addition to Haywood, Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Henderson, Jackson, Macon, Polk, Swain, and Transylvania counties. Harry E. Buchanan of Hendersonville is the commissioner.

Delegates Sent To Jaycee Convention

Two members of the Waynesville Jaycees attended the annual North Carolina Jaycee convention held in Asheville last week. They were Dwight Beaty and John R. Carver.

More than 800 Jaycees and their wives from all over the state gathered at the George Vanderbilt Hotel for the three-day event. Highlighting the program was the awards luncheon and inaugural banquet on Saturday, the closing day of the convention.

Ramp Convention Queen Is Crowned; Charter Presented

About 2500 people went to Camp Hope Sunday to see the coronation of the first ramp queen and the presentation of the shortest charter in North Carolina that formally incorporated the ramp organization.

Secretary of State Thad Eure was the principal speaker and following his speech he presented the one-sentence charter to the three corporation members: Convention President A. W. Parker, Board Chairman Bill Palmer, and Fred Ferguson.

Then he placed the crown on Miss Edna Mae West of Route 2, Canton. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. West.

During the day about 50 bushels of ramps were consumed by the visitors. A large number of people used the outdoor fireplaces, brought their own lunches, and

Masons Will Confer Degree Tuesday Night

The Waynesville Masonic Lodge will confer the Inter-Apprentice Degree at a special meeting at the Lodge Hall Tuesday, May 19, at 7:30. All members and visiting Masons are urged to attend.

J. L. CARWILE TO UNDERGO SURGERY

J. L. Carwile was scheduled to undergo surgery this afternoon at Mission Hospital in Asheville where he has been a patient for the past week.

900 Dozen Green Onions Shipped From Here 1 Day

Onions, Onions and more onions. In fact, 900 dozen—exactly 10,800 nice fresh onions, with long green tops.

That is what was packed by C. D. Ketner's Farmers Exchange on Saturday and shipped into Atlanta.

In trucking the onions to Atlanta, it required 3,000 pounds of ice to keep the freshly washed and bunched onions in condition.

Upon arrival in Atlanta at 7:30 Sunday, they were put into refrigerated coolers until this morning, when they went to the retail stores for the Monday household.

Along with onions, the firm is now packing tons of fresh spinach.

300 Hear Orchestra Premiere

An audience of about 300 heard the Waynesville high school Symphony Orchestra give their initial performance here Friday evening.

Charles Isley directed the 50-piece orchestra, which were attired in evening clothes to make the event a colorful as well as a tuneful occasion.

The round after round of applause was indicative of the deep appreciation the audience had for the orchestra which was organized only seven months ago.

The intense seriousness displayed by the members of the orchestra, and their ease of performance, over-shadowed by far, any mistakes expected in an initial concert.

The splendid performance of Friday night proved that a good musical project is well underway in the orchestra.

Terms Are Set For Two Years

The Haywood Board of Education has named committees for the six districts in the county.

The committees will meet and elect a chairman and a secretary. The first man listed below does not necessarily mean that he is chairman, as some committees have not met to date.

The appointments are for two years. Each of the districts have five members, except Mt. Sterling, which is a small district, and only three serve there.

The list is as follows: Waynesville — Whitner Prevost, Guy Massie, Jim Noland, John Finger, Medford Leatherwood.

Bethel — Bryan Heatherly, Clifton S. Terrell, David Vance, Ray Mease, Howard Medford.

Clyde — Jack Belcher, Hugh McCracken, E. W. Free, R. W. Corzine, Grover C. Haynes.

Crabtree - Ironduff — Jack Chambers, Ray Milner, Ed Hill, Marshall Kirkpatrick, Rex Messer.

Fines Creek — Joe Davis, Marvin Arrington, Frank Rathbone, Mark Ferguson, Billy Rector.

Mt. Sterling — J. M. Caldwell, Hardy Phillips, Edwin Pearson.

Parkway Section Is Re-Opened

The Soco Gap section of the Blue Ridge Parkway, closed between Mile High Overlook and Black Camp Gap for several days because of earth slides, was re-opened Friday.

The section of road between Black Camp Gap and Heintoga Overlook, which had been closed for nearly a month because of slides, was also opened to Great Smoky Mountains National Park travelers.

Almost seven miles of roadway was concerned in the closing, although roads themselves were not damaged by the earth slides.

Record Crowd On Hand As Park Streams Open

The largest opening day crowd of fishermen in 15 years, gathered on Cataloochee Saturday, as the Park streams opened.

Fishing was none too good Saturday, and only a few of the many fishermen got their limit.

"It was a hard day for fishing," according to Max Rogers, a veteran fisherman, who was one of the few getting the limit.

Scores of other experts failed to get the limit due to the fact that the fish just were not striking, as they usually do on the opening day. Most fishermen did manage to get three or four before calling it a day.

Most of the fishermen reported that they liked the new regulations put into effect by the Park Service on their streams this year.

According to the general comments, most fishermen agreed that the new regulations were for the best interest of the sport, and after all, this new set of rules is for the sportsman who enjoys catching fish.

Mr. Rogers said he had never seen the extent of interest in fishing as is now being manifested here in Haywood. The large crowds of fishermen, together with the amount of fishing tackle being sold is indicative of the growing interest in the sport.

Pvt. Jerry Liner Now On Active Korean Duty

WITH THE 2nd INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA — Army Pvt. Jerry Liner, Jr., whose parents live at Lake Junaluska, recently arrived in Korea for duty with the 2nd Infantry Division.

Private Liner entered the Army last October and took basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C. While at Fort Jackson, he also attended clerk school.

He is a graduate of Waynesville High School.

Queen Crowned At Ramp Convention

Miss Edna Mae West of Route 2, Canton was crowned first queen of the ramp convention Sunday afternoon by Secretary of State Thad Eure, left. Others in the picture are Bill Palmer, Board chairman; A. W. Parker, convention president; and Fred Ferguson, all of Canton. They are also the members of the newly chartered N. C. Society of the Friends of the Ramp, whose papers of incorporation was presented to them by Sec. Eure. About 2500 people attended the 24th convention at Camp Hope. (Mountaineer Photo).
