MYF Seniors Register Today For Leader Course

Approximately 300 senior young people of the Methodist Youth Fellowship throughout Western North Carolina are due to register today at Lake Junaluska for a week-long leadership training assembly at Shickford Hall.

The Rev. Robert Stamey, president of Brevard College, is dean of the youth assembly. The program theme, "Strengthening Our Faith in God: Bible, Prayer and Christian Witnessing," will embrace daily periods of workshops, study classes, fellowship and recreation.

The chief counselor is Miss Ethel Martin, Winston-Salem. The Rev. Charles Boles, pastor of Dilworth Methodist Church, Charlotte, is serving as platform speaker. Youth officers are: Sidney Gordon, Greensboro, president and Miss Sarah Leak, Charlotte, secretary.

Conference leaders are Dr. Carl King and Miss Marion Craig, both of Salisbury, executive secretary and youth director, respectively, of the WNC Methodist Conference.

Another youth group arriving today to occupy Camp Adventure comprises youth and young adults of First Methodist Church, Randleman. They will be at the assembly camp through June 29 with the Rev. Sherrill Biggers in charge.

Leaving Camp Adventure today after a week's stay are young people of Wesley Memorial Methodist Church, High Point. Dick Crowder, Duke University divinity student who served the last several years as Lake Junaluska's recreation director, was chief counselor. He is serving as associate pastor of the High Point church this summer.

Eighty high school graduates and college students attended the Older Youth Assembly, Thursday through Sunday, at the lake. The Rev. R. Delbert Byrum, formerly of Murphy and now on the staff of the Methodist Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn., served as dean. Mrs. Byrum was head counselor.

Donald Beaty, Duke student, is president of the WNC youth group. The Rev. Claude Evans, Columbia, editor of the South Carolina Christian Advocate, was the keynote speaker.

MRS. E. U. ROBINSON

A SOUTHWIDE SCHOOL OF MISSIONS will open Wednesday night at the Lake Junaluska Methodist summer assembly grounds and run through July 2 with more than 250 leaders of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in attendance.

Mrs. E. U. Robinson, Franklin, Tenn., is president of the women's group, which numbers 8,000 local church societies and more than 400,000 members in the Methodist Church's southeastern jurisdiction of nine states and Cuba.

Other officers are: Mrs. David J. Cathcart, Miami, Fla., vice president; Mrs. John Hoyle, Jr., Marion, secretary, and Mrs. B. R. Stout, Knoxville, Tenn., treasurer.

Mrs. L. L. Jackson, Birmingham, Ala., is secretary of missionary education and program chairman for the school. Mrs. E. V. Ennis, Norfolk, Va., is southeastern secretary of the Wesleyan Service Guild, a W.S.C.S. affiliate composed of business and professional women. The guild will sponsor the weekend program, June 26-28.

A series of eight platform addresses will feature three guest speakers: Dr. Charles S. Johnson, president of Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Dr. Walter Gum, Methodist district superintendent of Richmond, Va.; and Dr. James K. Mathews, missionary to India and associate secretary of the Methodist Board of Missions, New York.

The nine-day school will include classes and workshops in home and world missions and reports from workers in the field geared to the program theme: "Christian Discipleship Around the World."

The Name Sticks

INGRAHAM, III. (AP) — Neighbors have reason to call a farm near here "John and Virginia's place."

John and Virginia Bryan were the original owners. Later, John and Virginia Cox leased the place. Now the farm belongs to John and Virginia Woodard.

STILL TEAMMATES

DURHAM (AP) — Three members of the same high school football team may be regulars on the Duke University eleven this fall. They are Sonny Sorrell, end; Tom Wood, tackle, and Ronnie Falls, center. All were outstanding performers on the High Point High team of 1951.

The post at five chapels and services will be held in the field Wednesday.

Many units are still moving into the field as a continued part of their two weeks of training. Much work is still ahead of the North Carolina Tennessee men but ample facilities are being provided for their off-duty relaxation by Major Charles C. Scott, Special Services Officer, and Sfc. Charles Gaddy enlisted chief of the Special Services Section.

"Curtain Call," a musical variety show, was given in the post amphitheatre for the men Wednesday night by the Army Special Services at Ft. Benning, Ga. Afterwards, young ladies from nearby Gadsden, Anniston, and Jacksonville College in Jacksonville, Ala., found many willing partners among the men of the 30th as a dance was held on the paved area in front of one of Ft. McClellan's enlisted men's service clubs.

Further entertainment arranged by Major Scott and his staff will include a wrestling match Saturday night and a 1066-team softball tournament.

Tourist Operators To Be Guests At Drama Opening

All persons active in the tourist industry throughout Western North Carolina have been invited by the Cherokee Historical Association to attend the dress rehearsal of the drama, "Unto These Hills," on Friday evening, June 26.

Letters have gone out to directors and other officials of the Western North Carolina Highlanders extending the invitation and requesting them to spread the word throughout their communities.

Curtain-time for the drama is 8 p.m., and those accepting the invitation have been asked to pick up their courtesy passes at the drama box office not later than 7:30 p.m.

June 30 Closing Date For Farm Wheat Allotments

It is anticipated that the 1954 Wheat Acreage Allotment Regulations will provide that the closing date for requesting an allotment for 1954 for "new wheat farms" (those on which wheat has not been seeded in any of the years 1951, 1952 and 1953) will not be

Bart Leiper, executive vice president of the Highlanders, pointed out that a scheduled meeting of the WNC Associated Communities on the same day would make it impossible for the Highlanders to hold the usual anniversary meeting. The date for the Highlander meeting will be set later.

New England Has Doctors

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Maybe New Englanders aren't just born rugged. According to a recent survey by Schenley Laboratories, Inc., Vermont has 434 practicing physicians to care for the state's every 870 persons. That places the Green Mountain state in the nation's top 19 number of active M. D.s. per dent.

New York is number one with one physician for every 500 persons. Other high-rating states are Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania.

Rhode Island ranks 12 places five of the six New England states in the top 12. The average price received for North Carolina hatching April for straight run heavy cross breed chicks was $1.10 per hundred, while straight breeds averaged $1.05 per

Marines Forming Second WNC Unit

RALEIGH — The ranks of the Carolina Mountaineer Platoon have been filled and a second exclusively Tarheel unit, the Carolina Piedmont Platoon, is now being formed, Major W. E. Brandon, Director of Marine Recruiting in North Carolina, announced today.

The 75-man quota for the Carolina Mountaineer Platoon was quickly filled by boys anxious to enter a unit made up exclusively of Tarheels. The platoon is scheduled to be called to active duty July 14 and travel to Parris Island, S. C., to receive the famed Marine recruit training as a unit. More than two-thirds of the 75-man quota was filled by the Asheville recruiting station from boys in the mountain area.

The Carolina Piedmont Platoon, also with a 75-man quota, started forming two weeks ago and is rapidly filling its ranks. The Piedmont Platoon is scheduled to be called to active service in early August, and, like the Mountaineer unit, will travel to Parris Island as a unit to receive recruit training. It is hoped that a North Carolina Marine will serve as drill instructor for both platoons.

Young men wishing to enlist in the Marine Corps and receive their recruit training with a unit made up of men from their home state are requested to contact their Marine Recruiter at the Post Office today. Like the Mountaineer unit, the Piedmont Platoon is offering North Carolinians a chance to begin their military service with men having their own thoughts, likes and dislikes. Previously, men enlisting in the Marine Corps were assigned to platoons at Parris Island made up of men from all over the eastern part of the United States. Now a North Carolinian can make the conversion from civilian to military life with friends and neighbors.

Maggie Valley To Sponsor Quartet

The Maggie Valley Development Association is sponsoring a program at the Maggie School, Friday, June 26th, featuring the Happy Mountain Boys Quartet.

The program will begin at 8:15. Proceeds will be used for the promotion of the Maggie Valley, according to Carl Henry, who is in charge of the program.

Changing Conditions Dr. McGowan's Theme At Junaluska Sunday

Practically every generation has thought of its age as one of "bad times," the Rev. Dr. Guy McGowan, Birmingham, Ala., said Sunday at services in the Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly auditorium.

"If we sum up benefits of Christianity throughout 20 centuries it is evident that one of the chief contributions is turning bad times into good times," Dr. McGowan said.

Today is perhaps the worst time of all, he added, but "the Christian Gospel can change conditions today if Christians are so minded to ask God's help and put their whole selves into the task."

Dr. McGowan is pastor of Highlands Methodist Church in Birmingham. He was the guest minister yesterday at both the morning and evening services at Lake Junaluska.

Lambs Bring High Prices In Pool

Two hundred and fifty-three lambs sold for higher prices than usual in a Lamb Pool Saturday held at the Clyde Livestock Yard. Averaging in weight between 85 and 100 pounds 99 were graded choice and sold for 26½ cents per pound; 95 graded good at 23½ cents; 54 graded medium at 19 cents; and 5 graded common at 14 cents.

Total sale came to over $5,000, and farmers were generally pleased because prices were higher than have been received in other markets.

It was felt that the high grading and prices could be attributed to a new system of creep-feeding tried recently by local farmers. It is expected that next year more farmers will take advantage of this supplementary feeding to raise their grade.

There will be a final lamb pool early in August although a definite date has not yet been set.

It is estimated there are around 400 active and many more inactive volcanoes in the world.

Religion And Recreation Large Part Of NG Camp

FORT McCLELLAN, Ala.—High attendance marked the religious revival services of the 30th "Old Hickory" Division as its first week of summer training came to a close. Daily mass was held during the week on the post by two Catholic chaplains who reported the attendance as "good." Some 1,000 men attended seven Wednesday meetings held for Protestants on the post and in the field. Jewish services were held Wednesday night by Rabbi Harold Fineberg who was secured by the post chaplain. Chaplains were available to the men for counsel at all times during the week.

Major General Paul H. Jordan, Chattanooga, Tenn., who is the 30th commander, innovated the unique revival. General Jordan explained that the purpose of the revival is to send the guardsmen home at the end of training "physically, mentally, morally, and spiritually improved."

Pleased with the attendance of the past week's services Lt. Col. James N. Kelly, Division Chaplain from Shelbyville, Tenn., said, "This is certainly the best response we have had in any summer camp of the 30th so far."

Prior to Sunday services a concert will be given by the 30th Division Band. Prayer meetings on
