Jehovah's Witnesses To Attend Assembly In N. Y. Next Week

Delegates from the Waynesville congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, accompanied by their pastor, Henry R. Curtis, will leave this week to attend the New World Society Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses in New York City.

The convention will be held at Madison Stadium July 14-20.

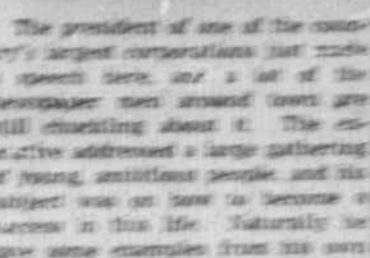

A feature of the assembly will be an address, "After Armageddon—God's New World," on Sunday, July 20. The address will be broadcast at 8 p.m. over Station WREB.

Trains Discontinued

WAYNESVILLE, Pa. AP—This little northeastern Pennsylvania community where the first commercial oil well was drilled has become a town without railroad passenger service.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, somewhat regrettably, discontinued twice-a-day passenger trains because it said it was losing about $50,000 a year on their operation. The PRR put up its station, opened in 1877, for lease. When erected, the depot was equipped for steam heat—the first such installation in a public building in the then booming oil region.

SO THIS IS NEW YORK

BY NORTH CAROLIAN

The president of one of the country's largest corporations just made a speech here, and a lot of the newspaper men around town are still chattering about it. The executive addressed a large gathering of young ambitious people, and his subject was on how to become a success in this life. Naturally he gave some examples from his own life and naturally he mentioned such things as hard work, persistence, honesty and forthrightness. There was only one thing he omitted in his line formula for success: he did not mention that along the way to the top of his company he had married the daughter of the chief stockholder.

Lots of people know about it too well, but in East 58th Street is one of the festive spots of Gotham. It is called Bill's Gay Nineties and its merry motif is that of yesterday. Get from a major dress party in Victorian dress green gowns with all the fancy details attached to the Gilded Age. Inside, flickering "gas lights" hang over high-backed chairs built for two, while old, ornate, mahogany ball parsons line the walls in ornate profusion. The food is not unusual but the music is. Baroque string quartets set off to handle bar masterpieces with all manner bells ringing the melodies of those golden days, and one is sure convinced they were the "good old days."

Somebody hereabouts remarked:

Kiwanis Selling Subscriptions For Scout Hut Fund

The local Kiwanis Club can get a percentage of the Saturday Evening Post subscription price to apply on the building of a Scout Hut, according to an arrangement just made with Post publishers. Both new and renewal subscriptions will be credited toward the Scout building, which will be located in the old city park.

With an increase in the price of the subscription, the club members are asking their friends and friends of the Boy Scouts, who plan to subscribe to call one of the Kiwanians. He will gladly send in the subscription, and the Kiwanis Club Scout fund will get a portion of the price.

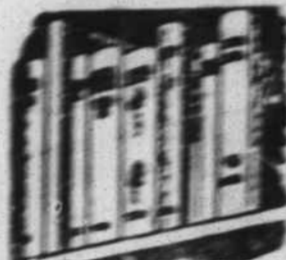

For those who already subscribe to the Post, the club will handle their renewal subscription, with the new term to begin when the old one runs out even though the old one has as much as a year to run. The only requirement for the plan is that the subscription, new or renewal, must be for two years, and the price of $10 for the two years must be turned in with the subscription.

that we are getting to be a nation of veterans, so I did a little cheering. Here with the results, we now have roughly 2 1/2 million veterans of the Korean war period, average age 28. 18 1/2 million World War II vets, averaging 50 years; 7 1/2 million World War I vets, average age 60. 35,000 Spanish-American War vets, averaging 70 years; 200,000 Indian War vets, averaging 87 years old; and a handful of Civil War Veterans the States vets who have all about reached the century mark.

Taking a stroll through the Bowery and asking questions I learned that there is something new under the lower East Side sun. There is a new class distinction among the poor. Factory has come to shift work. Factory workers are not longer seen, especially well-dressed, looking straggled. Higher class in the Bowery now are the pensioners who have a little income, not the small wage earners who still push carts scavenging the streets. Below these are the alcoholics who live just from one drink to another, then one fall sentence to the next. Some Bowery bums reform, most do not. The most common characteristic of all types is that the half-world is the stalling. I can tell, to give gifts to those for their being there, and those who are down-and-out, and in some cases, a wife or former employer, the government, a war, a judge, or mother-in-law—anyone but themselves.

Library Notes

Margaret Johnson, County Librarian

The summer months are now upon us and you are probably looking for some new books to read. We have just received a shipment of new books which are now ready and waiting for you. Come in and pick one out for your vacation reading.

Bussell—The Centaurs. "Old Serpents" reports his brief experience as superintendent of the Sleep The pajamas factory, and his troubles and triumphs with "diagrammed workers."

Carlow—Amazons Head-Hunters. The story of the author's journeys and adventures in his quest to learn as much as he could about the Amazon head-hunters and other primitive tribes of South America.

Derby—The Big Water. "A man dying in a Penning hospital, manages to get out two parts of a vital secret—or two people, before he dies at the hands of a third."

Phutane—My Uncle Louis. The author of The Happy Time returns again with more tales of the LaFrance family of Canada.

Golden—Kingsfishers Catch Fire. "Battered with debts after the death of her husband, self-willed Sophie Barrington Ward leads her family to a madhouse villa in the wake of Katharine, to rescue some of her losses. Trouble begins when she sets herself off from the British community and tries to wear the tatters of the villain."

Johns—Murder By The Day. "Published For The Crime Club." LeGallienne—With a Quiet Beat, an Autobiography.

Lindop—The Singer Not the Song. A novel about a small isolated Mexican community where a powerful bandit exerted complete domination over the people until the arrival of an Irish priest who was specially sent by the church to break his evil control."

Martinet—Tax Jammers. Appeared serially in "Ladies Home Journal."

Queen—Scarlet Letters. Here's one for you Queen lovers.

Reilly—The Velvet Band. "An Inspector McKee story."

Rinehart—The Frightened Wife and other murder stories.

Ritner—Karpuzka. The action takes place at the time of the Spanish American War, when the violence of frontier life lay very near the surface.

Shelton—East of Eden. Additional copy to fill the demand.

Tanner—History of The Corporation. 96 pages of gorgeous illustrations.

Tracy—Crimson Is The Eastern Shore. "A novel about a wealthy plantation owner, a man whose power has been purchased with intrigue and violence."

Veres—Ride Out The Storm. Translated from the French. "The time is the early 20th century when sailing ships and masters look desperate chances to combat steam vessels. The setting is the rough, tough, and sometimes mystic world of the sailor."

The term "paint" comes from the Sanskrit and means "to adorn."
