

Hollywood Makeup Tips For The Eyes

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

We all like to try new makeup tips. Sometimes these prove too theatrical for our own use. But it is fun to experiment. Some new ones suggested by Hollywood's Phyllis Kirk are definitely for after-dark glamor. But try them and see.

OPTICAL ILLUSION . . . To give eyes more depth and expression, use darker shade makeup base between eyes and eyebrows says Hollywood's Phyllis Kirk.

EYE CUE . . . A thin brush dipped in white cosmetics paint and applied from inner portion lower lid to just beyond outer corners makes eyes appear larger.

MOOND EYES . . . A shape complements the oval face can be achieved by drawing a line with eyebrow pencil along curve of the lower eyelids.

MOR ORBS . . . Dip your brush in cream mascara, draw carefully over base of upper eyelid to emphasize eyes, instead of using a pencil advises Phyllis.

Special Deputies

MA, Ohio (AP) — Rustlers, thieves and such law-breakers watch out in the west of Ohio, that is.

Clay T. Cotterman of County has just organized a mounted special deputy to serve at special events. Strong, the troop will be uniformed in black cowboy hats, Sam Brown belts and holstered guns. "It'll be a nobby outfit," said Cotterman admiringly. The thing Allen County tax collector like best is that it will cost nothing. The gun-totin' men own horses.

Some Travelers

SMOKE, Va. (AP) — The time operator who tries to "time" is the biggest headache in air travel, says Miss Shirley of Washington, an Airlines stewardess. She describes a "small time" as a person who has trouble and tries to make everybody else a globetrotter. "The habits are snapping at stewardesses and addressing them as 'Dearie.'" She says a traveler to please? service man. Business travel regularly are an
