Big Family Makes Beer

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Millions of descendants of a famous Danish family have moved to Los Angeles so a brewing company (Papst) can produce in a new plant on the West Coast exactly the same beer turned out here for generations.
The family is Saccharomyces Cerevisiae, a pure culture yeast imported from Copenhagen in 1887 by Fred Pabst and maintained since then in a carefully guarded pure state.
A small container of the yeast has been shipped to a new Los Angeles plant.

Dear Judge

Santa is loaded with Christmas mail from his little snow-belles and rain-dears, to say nothing of the queries he gets from puzzled student princes.

Girl and boy relationships create confusion for the date-bait set at any time of the year. But all the more at holiday time when the uncertainties of the puppy-love world are in a whirl of mistletoe and tinsel.

Oh! St. Nick is always willing to help his Christmas angels keep their wings shiny, so here's how he and Mrs. Claus solve some problems:

Q. I've been going out with a girl for six months, not steady, but at frequent intervals. What kind of gift can I give her that will not appear too personal?

A. Perfume is an ideal gift because it has a personal touch but is not too personal—if the quantity given is small. A large expensive bottle, however, puts the gift in another category.

Q. A girl who is new in our set is giving a Christmas party for our own crowd. Does this mean that a gift should be brought for each person invited to the party, for the hostess alone, or for no one?

A. Whatever gift is given the hostess should be small, and it should certainly not be necessary to give all the guests a gift. Lots of fun, however, is the idea of the Christmas grab bag. Consult the hostess and suggest that each invited guest might enjoy bringing a little gift for the grab bag. There should be a maximum amount stressed for the gift so that some do not bring too expensive presents.

Q. A girl friend of mine who lives in another city has invited me to spend the holidays with her. I would like to go but hesitate to tell my family. They will be disappointed if I don't spend Christmas day with them.

A. Why can't you spend the day with your family, and visit your friend the following days.
One missing chick in a family away from the fireside can put a damper on everybody's fun. You'd miss your family, too, when you observe the family happiness of the other household.

Q. I became great friends with my Army buddy. Now that we are both out, we see a good deal of each other. He is engaged to be married, and has his guns sighted for a match between his sister and me. I have given him gifts on special days, but I feel strange about it now. I expect to spend Christmas day with his family and should bring his mother a little token, too. But what do I do about the sister? I am not interested in her at all and would not like to encourage her by bringing her a gift. Will she be insulted?

A. Heavens to Betsy, why should she be? If you haven't shown willingness to date her and see her only when you visit their home, she certainly must not take you for granted. It would be silly for you to give her a gift. There is no reason why you shouldn't give your buddy and his Mom something, if you feel like it.

Q. A boy I have known for some time has been very nice to me. He has invited me to some lovely parties. We are just good friends and neither of us is serious about the other. I would like to give him a little remembrance at Christmas. Do you think he will get the impression that I am falling for him?

A. Not if you make the gift strictly impersonal—handkerchiefs, wallets, belt, cuff links, book, pipe, cigars, cigarettes—and emphasize on the card that the gift was inspired by his kindness in entertaining you all through the year.

Q. If a boy gives me a gift on Christmas should I send him a thank you note?

A. Not if he presents you with the gift personally. Later on if it particularly delights you, send him a note telling him so, if you like.
