Plan Easter Outfits For Year Round

Talk today among women is of spring bonnets and Easter suits because women all over the nation are busily planning what they'll wear in their home-town Sunday morning parade.

The new outfits for 1935 include Mrs. Annie Sutton, worthy matron; Ossie Sutton, worthy patron; Mrs. Julia Chambers, associate matron; Millard Gaddis, associate patron; Mrs. Olive Green, secretary; Mrs. Eula Woodard, treasurer; Mrs. Ethel West, conductress; Mrs. Theda Crawford, associate conductress; Mrs. Nellie Clark, chaplain; Mrs. Josephine McElroy, marshal; Mrs. Grace Fowler, organist; Mrs. Gladys Ferguson, Adah; Mrs. Virginia Browning, Ruth; Mrs. Marguerite Carswell, Esther; Mrs. Betty Jo Freeman, Electa; Mrs. Gussie McCracken, warder; and John Reeves, sentinel.

Installing officers were Mrs. Hil-da Halliburton, associate grand matron, installing grand officer; Mrs. Ila Campbell, grand marshal; Mrs. Velma Mae Stevens, grand conductress; Mrs. Grace Queen, grand associate conductress; Mrs. Ethel Bradley, grand secretary; Logan White, grand chaplain; and Mrs. Helen Leonard, grand organist.

And when it comes to hat buying, buy the hat that looks best on you regardless of what the present fad is. You'll be more in style with an outfit which compliments you than in one that's really high style but does nothing for you.

A suit of basic cut and fairly adaptable color will prove of more use than one which is typed the minute you put it on your back. Remember what you can do to a suit with accessories. Changing your ensembles this way is, of course, much less expensive.

When you go shopping, bear in mind too, what you already have so that your new outfit will fit in with it and make possible new combinations. This is particularly important when buying shoes and bags. They're really an expensive item today, so plan them to go with

Apple Desserts Are Easy To Make

By RUTH CURRENT

APPLE DESSERTS FOR COMPANY—so easy to make and so full of fresh good flavor—family and guests will like these apple desserts.

Select large apples, wash, and pare and core. Cook in sugar syrup until tender. Remove to serving dish. Cook syrup down until thickened. Pour over apples. Fill centers with cooked prunes, a little chopped candied ginger. Top with a mixture of brown and powdered sugar. A boiled custard sauce or whipped cream, for those who aren't counting calories, will put the finishing touch on this company dessert.

Have you tried this? Melt a glass of apple jelly in double boiler. Mix into this chopped toasted almonds and pour over baked apples. Let cool. Serve with whipped cream.

For this dessert, you need a square or round of sponge cake. Cut cake in six pieces. Place on baking sheet or in pan. Pare three apples, cut in half crosswise, remove core. Cook in one cup sugar and one cup water until tender. Drain apples. Set each half on a piece of sponge cake. Sprinkle lightly with orange juice, top with spoon of orange or peach marmalade. Cover with meringue made with three egg whites beaten stiff with two tablespoons sugar. Brown in a moderately-low oven. Serve warm or cold.

SEWING HELPS—If spools of thread are kept in tall medicine or olive jars, the thread is always clean and untangled.

Sew the top side of a snap on first. Apply chalk to the tip and press on opposite side of the closure to mark the place to stitch bottom of snap.

In order to see basting thread easily, used dark thread on light materials, light thread on dark materials.

To keep left-over yarn safe from moths, wind the yarn around a moth crystal and place the roll of yarn in a closed glass jar.

Five states have towns named California, says the National Geographic Society.
