Parables on Discipleship

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Luke 14.

One Sabbath Jesus sat at meat in the house of a Pharisee. He noticed a man who was blind. He asked the Pharisees present if it was lawful to heal on that day. No one spoke so He healed the man.

Jesus advised His listeners that when a man was invited to a wedding feast he should not take the highest seat, but a humble one. Then his host might insist that he take a higher place, where he would be honored.

Also Jesus suggested that when a man made a feast, instead of inviting rich friends who would feel obligated to the host, that he call the poor, the maimed, the lame and the blind, who would bless him.

A man made a fine supper and sent his servant to invite his friends, but all made excuses. The servant was then told to call the poor, and the crippled to fill his table.

MEMORY VERSE—Luke 14:11.
