Make This Cake Do Double Duty

PLAIN AND FANCY CAKE—Doubles as loaf or baked Alaska base.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor
BAKE A LOAF CAKE and use it several ways—plain and fancy. Slices of the cake will make the foundation for Individual Baked Alaskas when you are having company. The rest of the loaf cake will be welcome at family meals—with fruit or chocolate pudding, for instance. We like slices of the cake toasted, too, for afternoon tea.

One caution when you try this recipe for Individual Baked Alaskas. Use a really large cookie sheet so you'll have plenty of elbow room when you are covering cake and ice cream with meringue. This guidance comes from our own experience; pay attention to it.

And another piece of advice. Enlist the help of your sister, your cousin or your aunt when you are assembling the individual cake-and-ice cream concoctions. They take two people—both working fast. I can usually manage one big Baked Alaska myself, but I find these small ones are tricky because it takes time to spread each of them with meringue.

GOLDEN LOAF CAKE
Ingredients: 2 1/4 cups sifted cake flour, 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind, 2/3 cup milk, 5 egg yolks (unbeaten).

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Stir butter just to soften with orange rind. Sift in dry ingredients. Add 1/3 cup of the milk and the egg yolks; mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at low speed of electric mixer, or 300 vigorous strokes by hand. Add remaining 1/3 cup milk and beat 1 minute longer in mixer, at low speed, or 150 strokes by hand. Turn batter into loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches) that has been lined on bottom with brown or waxed paper. (It is not necessary to grease bottom of pan or paper.) Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 50 to 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Allow cake to stand in pan on cooling rack about 10 minutes; turn out on rack; strip off paper.

INDIVIDUAL BAKED ALASKAS
Ingredients: 3 slices (1/2 inch thick) Golden Loaf Cake, 4 egg whites, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 pint very firm brick ice cream, 1 package quick-frozen raspberries.

Method: Cut each of the three slices of cake in half. Place on large cookie sheet. Beat egg whites until foamy throughout. Add the sugar, a tablespoon at a time; beat after each addition until sugar is blended. Beat in vanilla. Continue beating until meringue stands in stiff peaks. Cut very firm ice cream into 6 equal parts, each a little smaller than the half slices of cake. Place a slice of ice cream on each slice of cake. Spread meringue over cake and ice cream, covering completely. Place in very hot (450 degrees) oven for 4 or 5 minutes, until meringue peaks are lightly browned. Serve at once with thawed frozen raspberries as sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Note: Make sure that ice cream is very firm; cut it with a knife dipped in hot water.

Clothing Closet Once Again Out Of Children's Garments

The Waynesville Clothing Closet once again has exhausted its supply of clothing for children aged 12 and under, Mrs. E. J. Stanmyre, distribution chairman, announced today.

Although 300 garments have been given out to children recently, a number of underprivileged children in the area still are inadequately clothed for the cold winter weather, Mrs. Stanmyre said.

The Closet especially needs serviceable garments for boys, she pointed out, but will welcome all kinds of clothing for younger children. Contributions can be left at the Waynesville fire station or at the Marcus Electric Co. in Hazelwood.

Mrs. Stanmyre explained that the Clothing Closet was granted $100 by the United Fund, but is using the money to buy only underwear since only a few jackets and sweaters could be purchased with that amount.

She added that the Lions Club has clothed a number of needy children, and several Waynesville merchants have contributed items from their stocks.

Individuals are referred to the Clothing Closet by the schools and the Haywood County Welfare and Health Departments.

Chairman of the Jaycee section of the drive known as Operation Bootstrap. "This is one of the finest projects the North Carolina Jaycees have undertaken and we only hope we have full cooperation of every community in the State."

The million dollars, in combination with other funds that can be secured from members of the Corporation (up to $10 million) would raise the per capita income of North Carolinians by offering encouragement, factual and financial help to persons wishing to start new industries or enlarge old ones in suitable locations.

Since many towns have no industry, and little hope of starting one without special help, they will be "pulling themselves up by their bootstrap" and at the same time creating more jobs and salaries for Tar Heels.

By early spring the school officials hope to have all three projects well under way. These three completes the county-wide school building expansion and modernization program, which began several years ago after the county voted two millions in bonds for the purpose.

By ALICE DENHOFF

CANNED mushrooms come to the rescue nicely just now in our series of budget-savers. Here is a new and delicious chicken skillet dish that is elegant but not at all expensive.

Combine 1/4 c. flour, 1/2 tsp. paprika, 1/2 tsp. salt and dash of pepper in paper bag. Place pieces of a cut-up 2 lb. ready-to-cook fryer in flour bag and shake.

In a large skillet melt 2 tbsp. butter or margarine. Cook chicken in butter until golden. Add 1/4 c. minced onions, a 4 oz. can sliced mushrooms and liquid, 2 tsp. lemon juice, tsp. sugar, 3/4 tsp. salt, 2 tomatoes cut up, and thyme to taste. Cook slowly, covered, for about 30 min. or until done. This serves 4.

Combine 1 tbsp. cornstarch with a small amount taken from 2 1/4 c. tomato juice, mixing thoroughly. Add remaining tomato juice, tsp. salt, tsp. Worcestershire sauce and 1/2 tsp. prepared horseradish.

Add to pork mixture and cook, stirring lightly until thickened. Cover and continue cooking over medium heat for about 10 min., stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, add 1 1/2 c. (5 oz. pkg.) precooked rice and 1/2 tsp. salt to 1 1/2 c. boiling water in saucepan. Mix, just to moisten all rice.
