News Of WTHS

—by—

Barbara Griffith and Dorothy Grasty

If you happened to be anywhere around WTHS this week you would have noticed those proudly worn jackets some of the senior football boys are wearing.

Eight senior boys have received these jackets and they certainly did deserve them. To be eligible for one, a player must receive a letter two years.

Boys who received their jackets were: Jimmy Gaddis, Harold Clark, Donald Jordan, David Kelly, J. W. Stevens, Joel Medford, Richard Messer, Tony Davis, and David Hannah, who is manager for all three sports.

The members of the Monogram Club have worked hard to obtain these jackets and are to be commended for their excellent showing in the sports department of the school.

Before Christmas, all the senior girls at WTHS took part in the Betty Crocker "Homemakers of Tomorrow" contest. This is a nationwide contest for all senior girls. We were lucky in having a member of our class win. The fortunate girl who won this prize was Sonja

Snyder, who received a beautiful gold pin with the words "Homemaker of Tomorrow" on it.

She also has a chance to try for the state contest.

Best of luck, Sonja.

There certainly was a big treat for WTHS students Tuesday in Chapel. A short comedy, "Polly Put the Kettle On," was presented by several members of Miss Mozeley's 8th grade room. As usual those Junio High students really gave an excellent performance and kept the student body entertained. Those participating in the play were: Ann Dulin, Peggy Gill, Dorothy Burress, Margaret Fowler, Beth Chambers, Sarah Cobb, Carolyn Davis, Phillip Chase and Eddie Morgan.

Well, it looks like some WTHS students have really taken advantage of Leap Year. Just recently some girls had "twerp" week. One night during that week the girls asked the boys for dates, called for the boys, and even entertained them at Charlie's Place. The girls, of course, furnished the ears also. This was really lots of fun, but, personally, we believe that the girls had much rather let the boys continue with their usual tradition. What do you think, girls?

The WTHS octet has done it again. Last Sunday the octet sang at the First Baptist Church, presenting a special number, "I Walk With God". This, of course, was only one of their many performances.

We are sure that everyone had a wonderful time at Stephen Woody's birthday party. A large crowd was present, including several of last year's WTHS students who were home from college.

Mr. Jack and Hershell Rogers are the only farmers in our community who have added the Suffolk sheep to their farm. They have about 75 lambs on their farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Willias Smith have been remodeling their kitchen and have added new built-in cabinets.

Howard Messer and son, William, from Winston Salem, spent the weekend here. Mr. Messer attended the funeral of his brother, Forrest Messer.
