DRIVER CONTROL

UNION, N. J. (AP)—There are strings attached to the car Maurice Feldman bought for his daughter Sandra on her 18th birthday.

She signed an agreement promising to give up use of the car for 30 days if she gets a speeding ticket or any other traffic violation.

Two tickets and the suspension goes up to 60 days.

For a third speeding offense it'll be back to using buses.

Jayvees, Eighth, Ninth Graders Win Four Tilts

Waynesville Jayvees scored two victories last week—over Reynolds, 28-23, and Canton, 57-42.

Waynesville eighth-graders also downed Hendersonville, 20-19, and the ninth-graders topped the future Bearcats, 34-23.

Henry Jenkins was the top scorer in the Jayvee game for Waynesville with a dozen points. In the Canton tilt, Mehaffey led the Little Mountaineers with 22. Winfred Wright added 13 more and Johnny Wright 10.

At Hendersonville, Paul Davis paced the local eighth graders with 8 points, while Sam Styles was top man for the ninth graders with 13 points.

Hendersonville's Jayvees will be here Thursday for a game. In an earlier meeting, Waynesville trimmed the Henderson quintet.

ASC Official Wants Farm Price 'Spread' Reduced

In commenting recently on the ever-growing spread between prices farmers receive for their farm products and prices consumers pay for these same products, in their local stores, Clyde R. Greene, chairman of the ASC state committee, said that the major reason behind this was that farmers in the market place are entirely at the mercy of the buyers. On products not supported by CCC they have no control whatsoever over the prices their products bring, he said. On supported commodities, their control is limited to the level of support.

Greene said that farmers now receive only 39 cents out of every dollar spent for food in the retail store. This is the lowest share the farmer has received in the last 15 years. This compares with a 53 cents share in 1945 and 42 cents last year.

Greene said that he hopes that this spread can be reduced, not by reducing the price the retailer receives, but by increasing the price the farmer receives. "That's just what ASC has been trying to do for a number of years. That's just what our Agricultural Conservation Program and all of our Price Support Programs are doing now to the full extent made possible under present legislation," he said.

The official said the farmer can do a good deal toward increasing his income by making full use of the Agricultural Conservation Program and by taking advantage of all available price support provisions.

Richland Supply Named Distributor By Armour Firm

A contract has been awarded to the Richland Supply Co., 242 Commerce St., Waynesville, by the Armour Fertilizer Works of Greensboro, under which the local firm will serve as a distribution center as well as a retail outlet.

The announcement was made by W. A. Keith, regional representative for Armour, said that the contract was awarded after a thorough survey of this section of Western North Carolina, which showed that the Richland Supply Co. has the most complete facilities with which to serve farmers buying fertilizer.

Large loading platforms in the rear of the store can accommodate seven or eight farm trucks at one time.

Tom Boyd, owner of the Richland Supply Co., said that his store will carry a complete stock of Armour fertilizers for all crops grown in this area.

The store also will serve as a distribution point for Haywood, Jackson, Swain, and Graham counties, he added.

Post Office Considering Buying Talking Vending Machines To Sell Stamps

By BILL WHITLEY

THANK YOU. If you walk into the Post Office and buy some stamps from vending machines they're using for selling stamps these days, don't be surprised if the machine blurts out and says "Thank you," as you get your tongue all ready to lick.

Really and truly, it's a fact. The Post Office Department has started putting in orders for machines that will do just this.

This rather revealing information came to light last week when a House sub-committee published transcripts of hearings on the Post Office Department's budget for the coming year.

Q'S AND A'S. The testimony went this way in part: "Mr. Canfield (A Congressman from New Jersey): You have just made reference to these stamp-dispensing machines. Do you refer to those machines that make the change?"

"Mr. Abrams (Assistant Postmaster General): I refer to the ones that make change, and also that say 'Thank you for buying stamps.' It talks as well as makes change. The new stamp vending machine not only makes change, but thanks the patron for purchasing the stamp. Each one will have that..."

"Mr. Canfield. What does a machine like that cost?"

"Mr. Abrams. On the first seven machines, because they are experimental, the cost is high. We realize that we have to cover some of the 11 years of research that the inventor has put in on this machine. They will cost us approximately

"Mr. Dewey Smith and Mrs. Ralph Thompson of Clyde, Rt. 1; a brother, Taylor Rogers of Waynesville; and two sisters, Mrs. Farady Noland of Clyde, Rt. 1, and Mrs. Hugh Green of Clyde.

Mrs. Wells Dies In Hendersonville

Mrs. Rosalyn Ray Wells, who was a sister of the late Clyde H. Ray and the late C. E. Ray of Waynesville, died Friday night in a Hendersonville hospital where she was taken after becoming ill in a Hendersonville restaurant. She was the widow of David M. Wells.

Mrs. Wells was a native and lifelong resident of Hendersonville and the daughter of the late William H. and Mattie Harris Ray.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon in the Thomas Shepherd Memorial Chapel in Hendersonville.

A number of nieces and nephews of Waynesville survive.

being closed by the thousands. In fact, between January 20, 1955, and December 31, 1955 — about three years — 3,048 fourth class offices have been closed. All in the name of economy.

But it's good business, and economical, too, to use stamp machines that will give you a lot of lip — so the post office bigwigs say.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A Hinton woman in court on a drunk charge was explaining her presence in the state capital.

"Judge," she said, "I just got tanked up and took off."

"You'd better try landing someplace else after this," said Judge James A. McWhorter, and sent her back to Hinton.
