Tempo Of Congress Steps Up, Says Senator Ervin

WASHINGTON — Congress has stepped up the tempo of investigations.

THREE AT ONCE

One day last week three Senate committees, of which I am a member, were meeting at the same time. Fortunately, the matters that were being explored in open session had been covered in executive session of the Permanent Sub-Committee on investigations. This had to do with trade in strategic items with the Soviet bloc of countries. I feel that we have reason to be shocked by the disclosures that strategic materials and equipment have been pouring into the war potential of the communists through some of our slipshod trade practices. For example, let's take copper, a short item in world supply. The communists need it badly. The trick is to secure the copper through other countries indirectly from us, and they have apparently had great success at this. Copper was secured by the Reds through these devious avenues.

THE PRESIDENCY

I am increasingly alarmed at the lack of intellectual honesty of some of the candidates for the presidency in the field of race relations. While I do not agree with Adlai Stevenson on some things, I am convinced that his courageous stand for moderation has raised his stature to statesmanship on this problem. Extremists will not accept this point of view. Stevenson will be hard pressed by some politicians to denounce moderation as evil and instead demand troops and bayonets to implement the Supreme Court decision in the South. Such is the view of Harriman as expressed in the press. Apparently Stevenson prefers to be right rather than have the support of the professional politicians who seek to make capital of an unfortunate situation. We will watch with keen interest whether this pressure deprives him of nomination.

While speaking of the Presidency, it is encouraging to hear that President Eisenhower's recovery has been good.

I favor doing all that we can to advance the cause of public school education. I have stated that my position is to support, within limitations, Federal aid to build school houses, due to the inordinate amount of money collected by the Federal Government in taxes which leaves the states very little. The inordinate and punitive Powell amendment has aroused the country. It seeks to deprive innocent children of their share of any funds for education. It is a devilish thing perpetrated by people who obviously care nothing for peace, progress, and development of better conditions for all races. Should this amendment be pressed and pass the House, you may rest assured that it will not pass the Senate. We must protect and strengthen the public schools as vigorously as possible. In fighting the Powell amendment, America is striking a blow for its public schools.

Redmond Attends Annual Mountain Group Conference

Jake Redmond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Redmond of Waterville, served as a representative of the Foundation School of Berea College at the recent annual conference of the Council of the Southern Mountains, Inc.

The council is a 44-year-old organization established to sponsor the good life throughout the nine states of the Southern Appalachians. Mr. and Mrs. Redmond and their daughter, Marian, attended sessions of the conference and visited with their son there.

In Asia life expectancy at birth is comparatively brief—only about 30 years, says the Population Reference Bureau.

The National Society for the Prevention of Blindness has come up with a factual report about the health of eyes in connection with watching television. Some of the details are: Some indirect light with no reflections from the picture tube was the best lighting arrangement.

It is best to be as far away as possible from viewing television. There was less chance for eye muscle fatigue.

There is definitely no danger of any type of electronic radiation.

Generally speaking, you can watch TV as long as you wish. It is not harmful for the eyes. However, frequent intervals of looking away from the screen made viewing more enjoyable and less tiring.

There was one that N.S.P.B. did not include which NELSON'S TELEVISION SERVICE thinks is important. . . Your TV receiver should have a clear, steady picture with no line interference. These interferences do tense the eye muscles and make people complain about TV viewing. Phone GL 8-6841 if your TV gives you eye strain. We're not optometrists, but we'll know if your TV can cause any eye discomfort.
