Jesus Faces the City ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Arriving in Bethany on the way to Jerusalem, Jesus sent two disciples to obtain a colt. When they returned Jesus mounted the colt and rode triumphantly into the city with the disciples crying, "Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."

When Jesus came near to Jerusalem and got His first glimpse of the city, He wept, knowing that in time His beloved city would be totally destroyed by its enemies, leaving "not one stone upon another because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation."

Then Jesus went into the temple and began to cast out the merchants who sold various things to the worshippers, and also those who bought them. He said, "It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves."

Christ's enemies sent spies to ask Him questions to trick Him. One asked if it was lawful to pay tribute to Caesar. Jesus looked at a coin, then said, give Caesar what was due him, and to God what was due Him.
