Fingers And Wrist Control Hook

This is the fourth of five stories on BETTER BOWLING written especially for AP Newsfeatures by Steve Nagy, Bowler of the Year.

By STEVE NAGY
The most important moment of the delivery is the split second after your thumb leaves the ball. I also call this the beginning of the follow-through.

When the thumb is free and the weight of the ball is on the fingers, you apply the stuff that makes the hook.

Give a slight lift with the fingers and a moderate twist with the wrist and you have a hook.

The more you exaggerate the actions, the bigger the hook. But, in the early stages, try to avoid the big hook until you learn to control the little one. Control is the rule here.

As you release the ball, your arm should move outward and upward in a sweeping motion that completes the arc started with the backswing. Your hand ends up in front of your head in line with your head and the pins.

In my appearances around the country, many bowlers tell me they feel conspicuous if they use a good, sweeping arm motion. My answer is to exaggerate the arm motion and feel conspicuous. Pretty soon you'll be doing it naturally and bowling properly.

FOLLOW THROUGH may be exaggerated but star bowler Steve Nagy, above, says it's all right for good bowling.

Canton High Campus Cuffnotes

By Patty Morgan

The main event of interest this week is the election of officers for the student body. Walls in the halls look like an art gallery with all the posters that are being used for campaigning all this week.

The electioneering will be terminated by campaign speeches Friday, and voting will take place on Monday.

Running for vice-president will be: Ashley Neal, Ann Kinken, Steve Westmoreland, Tommy Best, and Charles Duke; secretary: Mary Welte and Thomasine Paxton; treasurer: Kermit Hyatt, Martha Swain, and Robert Fleming. The elected vice-president will automatically become president in his or her senior year. The other two officers serve only one year.

The Black Bears suffered a heart-breaking defeat by Hendersonville in the AA tournament at Bryson City Saturday night. Our Bears lost by only a small margin of four points, but four points are just as many as a hundred—you get the same effect. Our boys did some terrific playing all the week and through the finals CHS is certainly proud of its players!

Now, all heads turn toward baseball and all that goes with it. Practice has already started for all boys except the basketball players, who get a week's vacation before they start practicing.

For assembly Friday, the Beta Club gave a program, "Beta For A Day." This was a quiz program with all contestants being "Betas for a day." The best part was the consequences that each contestant had to pay—such as rolling a peanut around the main floor of the auditorium and eating a pie without utensils. The Beta Club is planning to present a musical program in April.

The Future Teachers club recently had a tea for all the teachers in the Canton School system. The theme of "the little red school house" was carried out in very pleasing taste. An effective program was given and delicious refreshments were served.

The six weeks ended Friday and those unloved report cards were issued Wednesday. Many faces wore a torsional expression, while others had a smile of satisfaction.

Now that "spring is springing" and a boy's fancy turns toward love and since this is leap year, we girls can get busy. Beware, boys!
