So This Is New York

By NORTH CALLAHAN
Down in the Wall Street section, I stood and looked across at the imposing Stock Exchange, and it occurred to me that it was the most sensitive thing in this whole big, hard-boiled town. As soon as something happens such as President Eisenhower announcing that he will run again, the Stock Exchange reacts like a hit jackpot. Not only is the New York exchange affected, but out over its high-powered communications system flashes the news, and within seconds, other parts of the country are rocking too. Some people say it is a den of gamblers; others view it as the greatest gauge of business conditions in the world. But another thing I noticed was that the new building alongside it, being constructed to take care of the expanding business, is yet unfinished. Upon inquiry, I was told that this country is so prosperous, is using so much raw materials, that not even the powerful Stock Exchange can get enough steel right now to finish its new addition.

Recount Is Effective

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—A Knox College student was jailed for drinking while still under age, although he was to celebrate his 21st birthday the next day. The student protested that it wasn't illegal. A fellow is 21 on the day before his birthday, he said. Police officers figured they had heard everything but that this was a new one that needed checking with Asst. State's Atty. William Henning. He advised the student's release while he checked law books. "He was absolutely right," Henning said.

According to common law, a person born Jan. 1 becomes one year old the following Dec. 31. On the next Jan. 1, he is starting his second year of life.

A gala occasion was the annual dinner-dance of the North Carolina Society of New York at the St. Regis Hotel here. We attended and naturally felt very much at home, especially with genial president, J. Dewey Dorsett as the official host, Andy Griffith, star of the Broadway show, "No Time For Sergeants," and a real Tar-heel himself, was-present and delivered one of his side-splitting monologues. His wife, from Troy, N.C. also was roundly applauded. Sat next to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lee, she being formerly of Hickory, N.C. and enjoyed their pleasant conversation, as we also did that of Dr. and Mrs. Francis Bradshaw. Charles M. Hazlehurst, now a New Yorker, but formerly of Wilmington, N.C. told how he was a room-mate of Thomas Wolfe at the University of North Carolina and said that Wolfe would wear one suit for a whole year without having it pressed; also that if he took off his socks — which was rare — they stood erect unsupported.

Local officials have finally grown tired of having their town called recently. Cecil Brown, assistant county agent, was in charge of the program, and discussed with the boys some part-time jobs. The boys also were given questionnaires to fill out.

Fred Smith and Ray Erwin invited me to the North Carolina State College alumni barbecue at the MacAlpin Hotel, and here we not only had the scintillating oratory of Fred, his public relations partner, Robert Knox and Ray, but partook of vitals extra-special. For a Southerner, it was real "hawg-hebbin." There were, they said, barbecued Mecklenburg County shoats, only the left hams used because there were less exercised and more tender, smoked over Caldwell County hickory wood, sauce from Durham county, cabbage from Wilkes County, water-ground-meal cornbread from Forsyth County, Chatham County chickens, milk from Catawba County contented cows, and sassafras tea from Buncombe County. Folks, this was livin'!

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

QUESTION: When should you graze cattle in sudan grass? ANSWER: Agronomists say not to begin grazing the grass until it is at least 18 inches tall or taller, and graze it down to six to 10 inches. Then remove the animals to permit the sudan to recover to 19 inches before grazing again.

QUESTION: I've heard that alfalfa removes quite a lot of plant food from the soil. Is that true? If so, what should I do to correct the situation? ANSWER: Yes, it's pretty greedy. Each ton of alfalfa you cut removes 12 pounds of phosphorus and 45 pounds of potash from the soil. However, annual top dressing of fertilizer will assure an adequate supply of plant food. A soil test will help determine the rate and analysis fertilizer to use.

QUESTION: Is it a good idea to work in the vineyard in winter? ANSWER: Yes, after the first of the year. Some plant pathologists advise pruning dead or diseased canes and knotty insect-infested wood to improve the vigor of grape vines and reduce disease infection.

The Lone Ranger In New Adventure At Strand Sunday

Once again the thundering hoof-beats of the great horse Silver will be heard as the Lone Ranger rides across the motion picture screens of the nation in Warner Bros.' new full-length feature, "The Lone Ranger," which arrives locally Sunday at the Strand Theatre. Adding a third medium to his successes on radio and TV, The Lone Ranger, famed as the masked rider, has for the past 23 years thrilled young and old alike with his exploits in the cause of law and order. The thrilling adventures first went on radio in 1932 and on TV in 1949. Playing his original TV role of Tonto, is Jay Silverheels whose fame is probably second only to that of the masked man. A full-blooded Indian and long one of Canada's outstanding athletes, Silverheels has been associated with The Lone Ranger since the inception of the TV series. The Lone Ranger incidentally, has never been photographed without his mask. Most clocks measure seconds which are defined as 1/86,400th part of a day.
