

10 Boys Admit Entering The Clyde Gym

Sheriff Fred Y. Campbell has found 10 boys who have admitted entering the Clyde gym at night and taking merchandise and money. There might be others, the Sheriff said this morning.

Two boys were given a hearing before J. B. Siler, judge of juvenile court, and eight others have been cited to a hearing on the 24th, as they are over 16 years of age, the Sheriff said.

The extent of the losses are now being checked by the school officials.

Two boys admitted entering the building this week and removing some $40 in candy from the supply room.

Sheriff Campbell said all were students of the school.

A similar incident happened at Bethel a short time ago, and the participants were placed on probation, with the stipulation that they refund all losses taken from the school.

Financial support of the pulp and paper curriculum at State College, according to Dean Preston, was made possible through the school's participation in the regional pulp and paper "Memorandum of Agreement". Senator Ervin Concerned Over Testimony Given By Commerce Secretary Weeks

WASHINGTON — Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks appeared before the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations last week. In so doing, he played one of the most defenseless roles I have ever witnessed in or out of government.

Not To Know

For several days we had received testimony to the effect that highly strategic materials, vital in a war effort, were finding their way to the communist bloc of countries, being shipped from other countries which are allied with us. The Congress was informed by Secretary Weeks that none of his employees could testify about these agreements, how they were reached, and who was responsible for their recommendation. These lesser officials had said to our committee: Wait until Mr. Weeks comes down; he has the records;

he can tell you about that!

When Mr. Weeks did appear, he refused to tell the Congress about these negotiations, admitting that he did not know of his own knowledge what articles had been decontrolled for shipment abroad. In other words, the American people are not to know what is known by our allies and even our enemies who are apparently benefitting greatly from this unholy arrangement.

Why This Concern?

You may naturally ask why the concern about this. Your interest is simply that the security of our country may depend in a large way on how effectively the communist bloc can develop its war potential. It does seem incredible that our allies are furnishing strategic items to the communists with the consent of our government. It is the business of the Congress to know why the recommendations of many technicians who are responsible for developing these strategic items were turned down. Our committee had lengthy testimony that certain highly trained technicians had advised the joint operating committee of the executive branch of our government that these strategic items should under no circumstances be downgraded or decontrolled as their getting into the hands of our potential enemy would seriously jeopardize our nation's security. Nevertheless, JOC overruled these experts and recommended the trade concessions.

Now we are told by the secretary of Commerce that it is not

Famous Vienna Choir Boys To Appear At WCC

The world-famous Vienna Choir Boys will appear in concert at Hoey Auditorium at Western Carolina College tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

The troupe of more than twenty boys, aged eight to fourteen years, are members of an organization which dates back to July 7, 1848, when Emperor Maximilian I established the choir by imperial decree.

Perpetuation of the choir is assured by the selection of one hundred new boys each year, who train for two years before joining one of the three choirs maintained at the school. One remains in residence at St. Stephen's to sing at mass and for other performances, and the other two groups are available for touring.

The boys are accompanied by a director, a teacher, and a nurse. Their schedules are so arranged that their education and health are given every consideration.

The concert tonight, divided into three parts, will open with a group of sacred songs. After a brief intermission, some of the boys will change from sailor suits to high-heeled shoes, dresses and wigs for their costume operetta, and the program will conclude with secular music and folk songs.

New Fabrics Need New Techniques For Sewing

Regardless of how much or how long you've sewn, you'll have to change your habits when you pick out a piece of nylon, orlon or one of the other synthetic fabrics.

But according to Mary Em. Lee, State College extension clothing specialist, just a few techniques will make sewing on synthetics as easy as sewing on cotton or linen.

For cutting, use well-sharpened shears with smooth edges. Cut with long, even strokes. Leave generous seam allowances.

Use needles and pins that are fine and have sharp, smooth points. It's best to change the machine needle frequently when sewing on synthetics because the toughness of the fibers will quickly dull the needle.

Sew on synthetic fabrics with synthetic thread. Your seams will the business of Congress or the people to know what were the considerations and who made this decision.

It was a sorry spectacle to witness. I fear for our freedom when men in high places apparently are not willing to exercise the fundamental concept of democracy that people have the liberty to know.

Auto Dealers

The continuing revelation of the incredible economic coercion practiced upon automobile dealers by the automobile manufacturers has astounded me. I told the subcommittee handling this investigation the other day that I stand ready to support any legislation which the current investigation may show necessary to protect the automobile dealers against a continuance of this economic tyranny.

then be as strong as the fabric itself. You won't have thread breakage or seam puckering. You can use mercerized cotton thread. Always cut nylon or dacron thread instead of breaking it.

Make test stitches before you begin to sew the garment you're making. Fewer stitches per inch can be made with synthetic thread. Adjust the tension so that it's light on both the spool and bobbin threads. Run the machine slowly.

Finish the seams. Do not use raw edge because of raveling characteristics of most synthetic fabrics. Bound, French, edge stitched or overcast edges help to prevent raveling. The binding you use should also be synthetic.
