

Monument Firm Here Now Dealer For Stone Eternal

H. B. ANGEL, owner of the Haywood Monument Co., has been named local dealer for 'Stone Eternal' monuments here.

H. B. "Herb" Angel, owner of the Haywood Monument Co., announced today that he had received notification of his appointment as local authorized dealer for the nationally known Stone Eternal Memorials, which are available in four distinctive granite colors: blue, gray, pink and white.

"Stone Eternal is one of the pioneers in the quarry and memorial manufacturing field," said Mr. Angel. Granites used in all Stone Eternal Memorials are deep quarried and usually come from levels of 50 to 100 feet beneath the earth. They are fine-grained and uniform in color and texture. They are graded by qualified inspectors who select only the best to bear the trademark "Stone Eternal" which is etched on the base of all genuine Stone Eternal Memorials.

"Memorial dealers throughout the world know about Stone Eternal Memorials," said Mr. Angel. Their tone values on both polished and rock pitched finishes provide interesting and pleasing contrasts and take delicate carvings with supreme durability.

Every genuine Stone Eternal Memorial carries a 20-year certificate of guarantee. This is the longest legal limit for any guarantee and it warrants the quality and workmanship of Stone Eternal Memorials to the purchaser and his heirs and descendants with free replacement if found defective in any way.

5 Haywood Men Joined Air Force During February

The following men from Haywood County were enlisted into the United States Air Force during the month of February by T/Sgt. William D. Hopkins, local Air Force recruiter:

Charles Fredrick Bonham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bonham of Canton; Neal Edward Cody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cody of Canton; William Calvin Mann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Prentice Mann of Clyde; Kenneth Ben Wilson, son of Mrs. Ova Mae Rogers of Canton, and Robert Lewis Clark, son of Mr. Collie Clark of Hazelwood.

Anyone desiring information on the opportunities that await them as members of the Air Force should contact Sgt. William Hopkins at the Canton postoffice Wednesday from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. or at the Waynesville postoffice Friday from 1 p.m. until 4 p.m.

Witnesses Group Plans Observation Of Lord's Supper

Local Jehovah's Witnesses will celebrate the Lord's Supper Monday at 8 p.m. with a memorial supper at 129 High St., Canton.

The congregation supervisor explained that the memorial supper is observed each year by Jehovah's Witnesses in keeping with Christ's own commandments.

"To Jehovah's Witnesses," said the congregation supervisor, participating in the memorial supper symbolizes willingness to follow Christ's course of action on earth faithfully.

"Each certificate is serially numbered and a record is kept at the quarry and by the dealer," said Mr. Angel.

Mr. Angel has been in the monument field 20 years and is well known throughout this area, having erected memorials for many leading families. He pointed out that his firm offers a complete monument service from the first creative design through the manufacturing and final erection in the cemetery and extended a cordial invitation to anyone interested to visit his display yard and look over his complete line of memorials.

Bethel Elementary Students Tour N. C. Historical Sites

Thirty-five students from the seventh and eighth grades of Bethel Elementary School, accompanied by W. H. Crawford and Mrs. Ruth D. Shipman, recently spent three days touring some of the historic sites of North Carolina. Mrs. Shipman, a seventh grade teacher, made arrangements of the tour.

The group left Bethel at 8 a.m., and made their first stop in Winston-Salem, where they were guests of the Chamber of Commerce of Salem and toured that famous town. While in Winston-Salem, they also toured the Reynolds Tobacco Co. plant.

The first night was spent in Durham, where they spent some time touring Duke University and then traveled to Chapel Hill where they visited the University and attended a special showing of "Color in the Sky" at the Morehead Planetarium.

The afternoon was spent touring Capitol Square in Raleigh, where the visit was made more interesting by W. H. Crawford, a former state senator, who had access to the Senate chamber. There Mr. Crawford explained the principles of lawmaking and some of the important tasks of state government. The group was then seated in the Senate chairs and proceeded to carry out the process of

Speeding, Driving Drunk Top List Of Road Violations

The Motor Vehicles Department reported today the convictions of 1,453 motorists for drunken driving in February and the subsequent revocation of their legal driving privileges.

Speeders were close on the heels of the tipsy drivers, the agency said. Also deprived of their driver's license during February were 1,289 speeders—most of them in the over 70 mph bracket.

Speeding an auto over 70 is a mandatory revocation offense the department noted.

Other offenses reported for the month included reckless driving (two counts) 180; driving after license revoked or suspended 113; transporting intoxicants 49; and larceny of automobile 20.

In all there were 1,688 licenses suspended and 1,601 revoked, the department said.
